

Recital.
The recital here last Tuesday night by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. L. Householder of Jackson, given at Reynolds Theatre, was a very fine treat. Mr. and Mrs. Householder were here under the auspices of the American Legion. They are both very talented, and they were both in service in the European war. Capt. Householder was in military service in France and he is very familiar with the various experiences of the late war. However, he touched lightly on the theme of war and mixed his address with story telling. Mrs. Householder gave a number of readings and song recitals. She is gifted in both. Every one of them was enjoyed thoroughly. It was, however, the very last which was most charming. This was a lullaby and here talent was inspired with the feminine instinct. This song act was really an artistic triumph and the audience responded heartily. People of Union City enjoyed the visit of Mr. and Mrs. Householder.

Yellow Squad: Leonard Bond, captain; District No. 2, north of N., C. & St. L. and west of M. & O.

Red Squad: Tom French Elam, captain; District No. 3, north of Main street and east of M. & O. to College street.

Brown Squad: Paul Jones, captain; District No. 4, east of Home street, between Main street and N., C. & St. L.

White Squad: Bud Jones captain; District No. 5, south of Main street, west of Home street, north of N., C. & St. L. and east of M. & O.

Grey Squad: Clyde Hudson, captain; District No. 6, North of College street to Todd street, east of M. & O.

Blue Squad: Raymond Council, captain; District No. 7, north of N., C. & St. L., east of M. & O.

District No. 8 will include Baptistville which is to be organized with colored troops.

AUXILIARY TO HELP.

As an assistance to the boys the organization committee decided that a ladies' auxiliary would be necessary, which resulted in the following appointments being made:

Dist. No. 1—Mrs. W. R. Webster, Mrs. W. M. Turner, Mrs. Henry Hassler.

Dist. No. 2—Mrs. Luther Andrews, Mrs. J. C. Burdick, Jr., Mrs. R. H. Bond.

Dist. No. 3—Mrs. Clarence Cloys, Mrs. W. P. Nash, Mrs. Hunter Elam.

Dist. No. 4—Mrs. Cecil Moss, Mrs. C. V. Jones, Miss Clare Parks.

Dist. No. 5—Mrs. Nettie Penick, Mrs. Lea Garth, Mrs. Dock Carter.

Dist. No. 7—Mrs. Thad Lea, Mrs. C. W. Wakefield, Mrs. B. Council.

REWARDS OFFERED.

In order that the campaign might be carried on more effectively a reward of 2½¢ per head has been offered for every rat, dead or alive, delivered at the Motlow Milling Company furnaces and checked by the engineer at that place. Additional bonuses are also being offered which include a reward of one dollar to the boy making the best and second best record each week. These bonuses are offered by Bob White and Ed Kirkland. A free picture show will be given by Jimmie's Playhouse to the squad making the best record each week and this squad will also be entertained with free drinks by the Oliver-Cobb Company.

C. P. Christian Endeavor.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the C. P. Church was very fortunate in having two of our Union City girls with them last Sunday evening. Mrs. A. Paul Daugherty, who has studied piano and voice in Milligan and also in Chicago, sang a solo, "Teach Me to Pray," and Miss Della B. Tucker, who has been in Washington for the past few years, gave a reading entitled "Is Ye?" It was indeed a treat to have these girls back again.

The Bible verse-finding contest between the Juniors and Seniors, which had been postponed the Sunday evening before, was carried out this time. It was a close and exciting race. Sometimes the Seniors were in the lead and sometimes the Juniors plunged ahead, but it ended with the Seniors winning 6-4. Some day we are going to have a contest between the Juniors and the Seniors in naming the books of the Bible and NOW is the time to get busy and learn them.

The church loyalty contest closed last Sunday evening with the Whites in the lead, 690-674. During the contest, which lasted three months, there have been 22 new members added to the society and the average attendance at the Sunday evening prayer meeting has been 67. The active membership at present is 80 but this will be cut down by the organization of the Intermediate Society, many of the members of which will come out of the Senior Society. The record shows an average attendance at the morning service of 26, at the evening service 22, and at the midweek prayer meeting of 14.

An event of great importance in the Christian Endeavor Life of the C. P. Church was the organization last Sunday evening of an Intermediate Society for the young people between the ages of 14 and 18 years. They will have as superintendent Miss Nelle Bond, who is well trained in C. E. work and will build up a live wire society. They organized with about fourteen members last Sunday evening and the following officers were elected: President, Miss Emily Thomas; vice president, Paul Bond; Secretary, Miss Louise Woodfin; treasurer, Miss Doris Kirkman. The need of an Intermediate Society has been felt for a long time and much interest is being manifested in its organization.

Last week the society received a large photograph from General Secretary E. P. Gates with his compliments, and they will have it framed and hanging in the Endeavor room next Sunday evening.

RIVES NEWS.

Miss Ruby Skiles was a mid-week visitor from Kenton with Mrs. Phebus.

Messrs. Claude Botts and Summers were social visitors Saturday to Hickman.

Miss Euline Cummings, member of our faculty, leaves Thursday for a session at Peabody Normal.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McLeskey and Mr. Ernest Shropshire, of Union City, attended services here Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. Gentry Reynolds, of Kenton, were end-of-the-week guests of their daughter, Mrs. I. H. Harper.

Mesdames Leslie Shore, W. H. Cravens, Jas. Scoggins and Misses Elva Woody and Missie Harris were visitors Tuesday in Union City.

Last week Mr. Warner Crowder moved his family near Fulton to engage in farming interests. Mr. Dee Caudle now occupies the residence vacated.

Mesdames Taylor Green and Thos. Herrin, from Newbern, visitors the past week with their sister, Mrs. L. A. Callicott, were entertained for the day while here in the home of Mrs. Hubert Shore.

In looking over the report of State examinations for teachers, the large percentage of failures is noticeable. For this school the four graduates taking the examination made a one hundred per cent record.

Leslie Hooper came in Saturday from Elytheville, Ark., and this week is crating his furniture for shipment to that place. On every side we hear expressions of regret to have Mr. and Mrs. Hooper move away.

Have you seen the belled buzzard, which must be some forty years old now, for several weeks frequently heard and seen in Number Four. The wooded districts of East Tennessee were for years its home, then thru the eighties and nineties the buzzard with its tinkling bell proved of interest in the middle part of the State.

Monday quite a bevy of our young ladies leave for the summer normals. Misses Annie Mai and Cordie Starnes, Jennie Holloway, Lillian Barker and Mary Nelle Kitchell go to Memphis. Going to Murfreesboro are Misses Ruth Woody and Mayme Osborn. Miss Kitchell has accepted a position in the Hornbeak High School.

The Pleasant Hill Cemetery Association, in recent business session, decided to pursue same plan as last year. The improvement is very gratifying but will be lost if not put in the hands of a permanent caretaker. If the grounds have special attention, from spring to spring the work will be less arduous and expensive. Contributions for this work can be sent to Mrs. Laura Hutcherson, treasurer.

Family Reunion.

For the first time in more than twenty years a family reunion is being held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Phebus, Sr. The home in Union City was therefore enlivened with the presence of their five children, viz: Walter L. and Dr. Phebus, of Memphis; Jeff Phebus, of Ridgely; Wright Phebus, of Union City, and Mrs. Helen Cockrill, of Memphis. Mr. and Mrs. Phebus celebrated their golden anniversary eight years ago and until a few months ago have been enjoying fine health. The very kindest wishes of hosts of friends are offered.

Mr. Jas. Faircloth, grandson of Mrs. L. E. Faircloth, this city, writes that he has been favored with a promotion by the Westinghouse Electric Co. He has been transferred from the Newark works in the electric laboratories to the sales department, 126 Broadway, New York City. Mr. Faircloth says the prospects for a great improvement in business are fine and that it is freely predicted both buying and selling will be wonderfully improved by fall.

Beech Chuch.

Attendance was better last Sunday. Help make it better still next Sunday and remember that we are beginning on time.
