Harvesting.
Take a look at your crop.
It looks fine, doesn't it?
Why?
You planned and planted and took pains.

You kept right after it.
Wasn't it hard work?
But God met your more than half way.

His rain, you know—and soil and sunshine.
But YOU had to appropriate them.

So, we AGOGAS are striving by prayer, patience and diligence to make our class one upon which God's showers of grace and sunshine of love may fall with benediction.

AGOGAS, sow a seed; pull a weed; plow a furrow for the thruth.

Snap into it!
No loafers; no "duds."
