THE LIONS CLUB AT YELLOWSTONE PARK

After a long fast the roaring Lions feasted on the fat of the land Tuesday afternoon. At 4 o'clock the Lions made their way to the now famous Yellowstone Park and enjoyed the air of that most hospitable of all Lions, Mr. Wilford Farris. The surprise of the day was sprung by the Lioness and jungle sisters in the form of everything possible that is good to eat.

Dr. W. M. Turner, president of the club, presided and introduced Rev. R. A. Clark, who said that he was "too full for utterance." He talked of the real meaning of Lionism, but due to the fact that he had eaten too much cut his remarks short.

Dr. H. M. Oliver was introduced as the "tail twister" of the club and proceeded to do his work. He told of the past work of the club and hoped for great things this fall. He thought that the fellow who loafed in a silk shirt on one corner and talked about high taxes, and then walked to the next corner and fussed about the poor streets, or sat over in the park and whittled on the benches and knocked the city government, should be put to work building streets. He deplored the fact that Union City is a town where the work of the community is done largely by women.

The Lions Club will be in the future foster the diversification of crops and the growing and marketing of small crops.

Dr. F. M. McRee in a short talk on his recent trip abroad compared our condition to that of foreign countries, and stated that it all made him love Tennessee more.

The large number of lovers of Yellowstone Park will be glad to know that Mr. Farris, ever anxious to make improvements in every way, is building a rustic clubhouse so that rain or shine Yellowstone Park will always give entertainment.

All members of the Lions Club are urged to be present at the regular noon day luncheon next Tuesday. Let's start right and if possible find the medicine that Union City has needed for some time.

Two small boys stood looking into a window containing an exhibit of the Tuberculosis Society. There were two glass jars, one labeled, "This lung diseased," the other, "This lung was cured." "Aint it funny," said one of them, "if the man was cured, how they got his lung in that jar?"

If silk hats are on the way back, as they tell us, we do hope that Congress will provide a nuisance tax for every one of them that is made—whether sold or not.—Nashville Banner.

Mr. Bryan should be eminently pleased with the way he was treated when arrested in Illinois for speeding. They couldn't have done more for Jack Dempsey.—Nashville Banner.

As we understand the efforts to purify modern dances, the half-Nelson and scissors holds are to be barred.

Mr. Nowrich (examining a curio) —"Two thousand years old? You can't kid me! Why, it's only 1921 now!"

Plunging in Authorship.

Can't you lend me a ten spot, old man?" remarked Black, who had chanced to meet White at the corner. "I'm dead broke. Been writing stories for the magazines and haven't made a cent!" "What became of that $5,000 your uncle left you?" "I used that up for postage."—Wayside Tales.

Explained.

"What're ye comin' home with your milk pail empty for?" demanded the farmer. "Didn't the old cow give anything?"

"Yes," replied the chore boy, "nine quarts and one kick."—Just like the vein injection theory.

True Hospitality.

"Order in the court room!" belted the judge sternly, pounding with his gavel.

"Thash right, judge, and then shee what the boys in the back room will have too," genially came back the defendant who hadn't taken Volstead seriously.—American Legion Weekly.

You may think all corn flakes are alike
until you taste—

Post Toasties
—best corn flakes

Then you'll understand why the flavor, crispness and texture make "Post Toasties" the superior kind.

And now they're calling them desk stockings—the roll top kind, you know.
The little job, the petty job
That you and I must do.
The dull and humdrum drudgery
Which daily we go through.
There isn't any fun to it,
Nor any thrill or throb;
And yet the world is made to move
By just that kind of job.
