CATHOLIC CONCERT.

A Successful Entertainment of a High Order.

The audience which assembled at the opera-house last night was both a very large and a highly pleased one, evincing its delight by repeated encores of almost every measure. Nashville's best talent was engaged in the entertainment, and without exception the individual performers acquitted themselves with credit. The program is given below: Vocal duet, "Do you remember me?"—Mrs. Stewart and Miss Levy. Bass solo, "Rocked in the cradel of the deep"—Chas. Hogan; encore, "The fisherman." Harp solo, a German air—Miss Wessel; encore. Song, "Eyes so blue and tender"—Miss Levy; encore, "I wouldn't, would you?" Song, "The return"—Miss Wilkins, with violin obligato by Miss Mary Wessel. Song, "Carnival of Venice with variations"—Mrs. Stewart, with harp and violin accompaniment by Misses Wessel; encore, "Down on the Sewanee river." Bass solo, "Committed to the deep"—Chas. Hogan. Song, "Deep in my heart"—Miss Levy. Violin solo, a pretty air by Miss Mary Wessel. Ballad, "Within a mile of Edinboro"—Mrs. Williams; encore. Piano solo—Irish melodies, by Miss Henrietta Wessel. Song, "Massa's in the cold, cold ground"—Mrs. Stewart. Recitation, "The chariot race," from Ben Hur, Miss Anna Brennan; encore, "The message of the bird;" second encore—"The minuet." Vocal duet, "The robin and the nightingale," Mrs. Stewart and Miss Wessel.

Mrs. Stewart and Miss Levy caught the attention of the audience in the first song, and thereafter it was held by the various performers until the concert closed. Mrs. Stewart's voice was heard with fine effect in the Carnival of Venice, and the tender, lingering melody of the Sewanee river was never more exquisitely brought out.

Within a mile of Edinboro by Mrs. Williams caught the audience, the harp and piano solo by Misses Wessel were also highly appreciated. Rocked in the cradle of the deep was well sung by Mr. Hogan; and the audience seemed never to tire of Miss Brennan's recitations, which were rendered distinctly, with much expression and animation.

Artistically and financially the concert was a success, and its managers are to be congratulated.

Something Better Than Snuff.

Meeting Mr. B. F. McKeage on the street, we ventured to inquire: Has your friend Mr. Ralph determined to establish a snuff factory here? "Oh, no, he replied, he's going to do something better than that." What that better is, Mr. McKeage was not disposed to state. Mr. Ralph is a member of a very wealthy firm engaged in the snuff business in Philadelphia, which owns valuable property here and we have no doubt is determined on some enterprise that will add greatly to the prosperity of the city, as is indicated by their extensive buildings.

Stewart County Wants a Railroad.

A mass meeting of the people of Stewart county is called at Dover Monday, Dec. 9th, for the purpose of taking some action to secure the building of a railroad through that county. It looks as if Stewart county ought now to be able by the help of the Cumberland Iron Works people to get a road through, at least a branch from Dover by way of Bear Spring to Cumberland City, about twenty miles. It would be of wonderful advantage to the county.

Fine Property For Sale.

Next Monday, at 11 a. m. on the premises, B. W. Macrae, Trustee, will offer for sale the three handsome vacant lots adjoining on Greenwood avenue. This property is among the best in the city well located, lies well and is valuable in every way. The residence lot is 114 feet front, the others 55 feet, and running back from 169 to 290 feet. Attend the sale.

The Returns All In.

The election returns from the several counties of the State are all in and show the following result: Buchanan, 116,545; Baxter, 75,325; Kelley 10,915. Buchanan's plurality vote is 39 220, and his majority 28,305.

Dr. E. R. W. Thomas is making some changes and repairs on his residence on Madison street, putting in new window sash and full size plate glass and having it painted. When completed it will be one of the most stately looking mansions in the city. He is also going to doctor his shade trees some more, looking into the roots for borers.

Rev. J. W. Sullivan, who has been holding a meeting at Red river church in Logan county for the past two weeks, will fill his pulpit tomorrow at the Cumberland Presbyterian church, morning and night. He reports twenty professions in the Red river meeting and a like number of additions to the church.

That Beauty-Spot Veil.

"The women are forever and eternally getting up something to attract a man's attention," remarked an old sorehead in the presence of a LEAF-CHRONICLE reporter not long since. He called attention to a spot on a lady's veil as she passed. At a casual glance a man will take the spot for a black sticking plaster on her cheek, or wherever the spot may happen to strike, when it is only a small particle of the goods that cannot be seen through. It rests as confidingly on a pretty girl's cheek as a fly on a molasses spot, and sometimes one of these spots strikes her square on the end of the nose. The careful ones, though, invariably let it rest on the cheek, and the effect is quite "cute."

A young lady told a LEAF-CHRONICLE reporter the other day that this kind of gear was all the rage now and that it was called the "beauty spot veil." Let that be as it may, when a man sees one of them he always thinks of a piece of black sticking plaster. They are all wearing them, and the majority of them have only two spots on them, one for each cheek. Clarksville ladies can beat the world for getting up an attractive piece of head-gear when they take a notion.

A CENTENARIAN.

Lucy Gray Aged 108 Years, Dies Suddenly.

Lucy Gray, a colored woman living near the ice factory, died suddenly at her home last evening. She was, perhaps, the oldest person in the county, and if reports be true, she was 106 years old. There are parties in the city who have taken an interest in her for several years past, on account of her age, and also for her piety. She was a member of the Methodist church, and has often made the request that the white preachers should come out and pray for her.

She made the request some weeks ago that Rev. J. E. Harrison, formerly pastor of the Methodist church here, should preach her funeral. Several gentlemen whom she had worked for in her younger days have made up money to defray the burial expenses, and she will be decently interred.

A coroner's jury was summoned and returned a verdict of death from old age. She will be decently buried.

A Lasting Impression.

J. B. Allen, of Montgomery county, Tenn., addressed the citizens of Logan county in the interest of the Farmers and Laborers' Union at Stevenson's chapel last Friday, Pleasant Grove Saturday, Mason's schoolhouse Monday, and Keysburg Monday night. He was greeted by large and enthusiastic audiences on each occasion, all of whom were highly entertained by his rare honesty, original thought and eloquent style. By his great power and logical reasoning he made many friends for the large and rapidly growing organization in whose interest he lectured. The impression made by him was both lasting and profitable, and no one who heard him would regret having that same pleasure again at no far distant day. It is to be hoped that the union may induce him to arrange to fill another series of appointments in the very near future. —Russellville Herald.

Additional Details.

In addition to the report from the Erin News in regard to the robbery at Cumberland City it is learned from a correspondent that the Southern Express office was robbed of $5 or $6 in change, an entrance to the office being effected by cutting a slat in the window and taking out two panes of glass. The robbers did not open the safe. The grocery store of J. T. Bishop was robbed of $25 worth of groceries. The front door of this house was prized opened with a crow bar.

An old darkey, buying marketing from a country negro this morning, inquired: "Wht's dat yer got in dat bag?" "Dat 'am turnip greens, Uncle Josh." "Well, jest pour out sum uv dem here. Does you work on de farm?" "Yes, sar." "Well, I useter run a farm in my younger days; I wurked a whole drove uv niggers, and de way I did whip dem niggers were er sight. I just gin 'em one hour ter eat dinner and den da hadter git. Dat's de way I raised turnip sallit."

Will Meet at Big Rock.

A MOB AT HUNTINGDON.

A Violent Attack Upon the Carroll County Jail.

A mob composed of about forty determined men made an attack upon the jail at Huntingdon Thursday night for the purpose of lynching Wm. Widdis, the man who murdered the Ross brothers last week, an account of which appeared in the columns of this paper. The prisoner was taken to Paris, it will be remembered, for safe keeping; no warrant having been sworn out for him in Carroll county he was kept at Paris until Thursday, when the friends of the Ross brothers had a warrant issued for his arrest and demanded his return to Carroll county. The sheriff carried him back to Huntingdon, and eluded the mob by taking the prisoner from the train on the outskirts of the town and walking with him to the jail. The mob missed him, through this ruse, at the depot, but soon found that he was in jail.

The jail was soon surrounded by the mob. A hole was cut in the iron door large enough to admit a man's body, when two or three went in. Widdis was in the hall and opened fire on them with a pistol, shooting one man in the head, from the effects of which it is thought he will die.

This onslaught seemed to cool the mob somewhat and the officers slipped Widdis out of the jail and carried him to Nashville for safe keeping. It is thought at Huntingdon that if the prisoner is ever brought back to that place for trial he will be mobbed in spite of the vigilance of the officers.

Newsy Items.

The following items are clipped from yesterday's issue of the Erin News:

G. S. Dougherty, of Clarksville, was in Erin this week.——The editor of this paper visited Clarksville Monday, and was pleased at the evidences everywhere apparent that Clarksville is a live and enterprising little city, which has already unmistakably started on the high road to prosperity.——Thomas E. Rossington, of Clarksville, late of Erin, and Miss Mattie E. Whitfield were married on Tuesday evening at the residence of the bride's brother, J. D. Whitfield, in Erin. The News congratulates the newly wedded couple and wishes them a happy married life.——News came in yesterday morning that Jno. F. Bishop's store at Cumberland City had been broken into the night before, and Officer J. W. Broaddus, assisted by R. E. Shelton, went to interview some tramps and arrested eight of them. Finding, upon a search, no evidence of guilt upon them, they turned them loose. It was supposed that the burglaries might have been committed by tramps because the night before the burglary in Cumberland City similar burglaries were committed in Guthrie.

Mr. George O. Thompson is very ill at the home of his daughter near Trenton. Dr. R. W. Gaines was summoned by telegraph to his bedside yesterday.——Hon. H. N. Leech and Col. A. G. Goodlett, of the Clarksville bar, were in the city yesterday on professional business.—New Era.
