TENNESSEE AND CONGRESS.

We are not taken aback in the attempt to reconstruct Tennessee by an act of Congress. The notorious calf-killer threatened the like when the people failed to elect him Governor over his opponent, DeWitt Senter. We, however, rather regard things as having come to a pretty pass when we rebels are not permitted to take sides in a dog fight. If our canine has succeeded in getting on top, it is not a grave matter of misfortune, and will not affect anybody outside. What has Congress to do with our domestic imbroglio? If the law of the State has been disregarded, then it is the duty of our courts to look to the matter. If the fact can be shown that Governor Senter was illegally elected, we will favor putting him out, and having a new election throughout the State. We will uphold the law, and not hesitate to stand by its decrees, when we know what it is. The correct way of reaching the bottom of the difficulty between Stokes and Senter would be to have an investigation before a proper law tribunal. Congress has no authority to inquire into a case of election frauds in this State no more than under like circumstances if the State of New York or Ohio were involved. Tennessee, by electing Governor Senter (it may be by fraud), has violated no relation entered into with the General Government. If an offense has been created, then the people of the State are only effected thereby. The majority ask no relief from Congress. The minority are guaranteed the same rights and privileges that are enjoyed and exercised by the majority. And this being the case, wherein has the present state of affairs borne hardly upon any one? Col. Stokes rises to his feet on the floor of Congress, and replies that he would have been Governor of Tennessee but for the course of one DeWitt Senter, who permitted every free man in the State, twenty-one years old, to vote on the day of the gubernatorial election. For this reason, and that alone, he prays Congress to reverse the action of the people and turn the State out of the Union.

Our Washington news is that Tennessee will be hauled over the coals and made to retrace her steps; that Cooper, the newly elected Senator, will not be permitted to take his seat, and the Legislature of the State compelled to repeal the call for a Constitutional Convention. If this cannot be effected, the whole delegation in both Houses of Congress, including Brownlow, will be expelled. So far as the latter is concerned, we think the threat ought to be carried out immediately. We refer to the expulsion of Brownlow and his miserable confederates in office, who disgrace the people they would dare to represent.

Now, as to Congress pursuing such a course with this State, we doubt that it will dare go so far. If, however, the Rump should be so entirely regardless of the laws and the Constitution as to perform such an unheard of deed, then we may look for worse things to be done in the Government. It will be a step forward that cannot be easily retraced. The act will be one of decided revolution, which cannot be gainsaid or covered up by petty excuses. We say let the thing be done. The people of the South are now prepared for any and every emergency that may be created by a set of traitors in Congress.

CITY CONVENTION.

To-night is the time set for the Ward meetings to select delegates to the City Convention, which is to assemble on day after to-morrow. We sincerely hope, for the interest of the city, that the Democratic people will turn out on the occasion and attend to the great interest of expressing a choice for delegates who are to nominate a candidate for Mayor. If is a matter of the greatest importance.

In Cincinnati, the other day, Fred Haxawell, the head of a family, gashed the veins of his wrist with a sharp knife, leaped out of a window, and then threw himself into a well forty feet deep. The water being too high, he climbed into an apperture, and was rescued.

The Mayoralty—A Card from Colonel G. A. Hanson.

The following card from Mr. Hanson we clip from the Appeal of this morning. It has the ring of the true metal, and will commend itself to all thinking men, and especially to those who have announced themselves as independent candidates for Mayor. An open field, with four or five Democratic candidates, will insure a Radical victory, and two years of negro rule, so far as the police and other minor officers of the city government are concerned. We understand that Mr. Hanson will serve if elected, but will not endanger the success of the Democratic party by adding his name and influence to the long list of independent candidates already in the field. We commend his card to the attention of the several ward meetings this evening:

EDITORS APPEAL: In response to the call upon me, published in your paper of yesterday, to become an independent candidate for Mayor, I unhesitatingly and positively refuse to permit my name to be used as such. Even if I sought the office, which I do not, I would not be a disorganizer of the Democratic party. I recognize Convention nominations as a part of our party discipline, necessary, at all times, for united effort, and more particularly so now than heretofore.

My name was presented by a friend to the late Convention, but was not acceptable; and I am bound by that decision, and I cheerfully submit to it. And I think that every other man who is a Democrat or Conservative, and desires that the interests of our city be protected from the plundering clutches of the rabble, who would like to take advantage of our confusion to secure places in her government, will readily yield their claims to the wishes of the people whenever they are made known through a convention or otherwise, and that harmony will be restored and the right will prevail. In my humble opinion it is impossible to secure the success of the Democratic party, or to settle the claims of aspirants, by putting independent candidates in the field. And the enemy are now watching anxiously for a split of our party that will enable them to put in office a man whose administration would be directed to the benefit of his friends instead of citizens who are most interested.

The new city charter, placing all the city offices and the police at the disposal of the Mayor and Common Council creates powers that would be dangerous in the hands of any man who regards his own or his party's interest as paramount to all others; and as a citizen I warn the people to "hedge them in," as far as possible, at the ballot-box, and to see to it that they do not pass by default, or for want of organized and united effort, into the hands of any but white men, and only into the hands of such of those as will not barter away their authority for personal aggrandizement.

I offer no past record as a guarantee for myself, and I do not think that having been a Confederate soldier gives me any claims upon, or that it should be suggested to influence, the people or win their support for me in this contest. Capacity and ability alone should be the standard by which to select a candidate.

Desiring that our city should be ably and honestly governed, I will cheerfully give my humble support to the man that in the wisdom of the people may be selected. I am ready to do all I can fairly for the public good, but I will not be an independent candidate for Mayor.

G. A. HANSON.

LATEST TO NOON TO-DAY.

Dispatches to the Southwestern Press Association.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, December 27.—The Tribune has a report from Washington that the Administration has now under earnest consideration the propriety of changing its course with regard to Cuba, and speedily recognizing the belligerent rights of the insurgents. This course is impelled by the evident feeling of the people of the country, and the temper of a majority in Congress. The report further states that Secretary Fish and Senator Sumner have expressed within the last three days such views as would indicate a changing of policy toward Cubans, and a higher confidence in their future.

NEW YORK, December 28.—Prominent members of the Union League Club of this city have taken measures to raise some money to place Mr. Stanton's family in a comfortable pecuniary condition.

A very important case to stock-brokers was decided in the Court of Appeals yesterday. The substance of the decision is that a broker who sells out his customer's stock after his margin is gone, but without giving him notice of time and place of sale, is liable to the customer for the highest price of stock down to the time of the sale, because the customer owns the stock, and the act of the broker is a wrongful commission. This was a test case, prosecuted by the Brokers' Board.

A theatrical squabble broke out at the Grand Opera House yesterday. Alice Dunning applied to Judge Dodge for a warrant of arrest against her husband, Wm. Needham, alias William Horace Lingard, the well-known comic singer and mimic. Mrs. Needham Lingard Dunning alleges that her husband habitually abuses her, and that yesterday he threatened to blow out her brains with a pistol. Judge Dodge issued a warrant. Both sang as usual last night.

The Sun of this morning says an American Annexation League has recently been formed in this city with the avowed purpose of procuring, by persuasion or force, annexation to the United States of all the countries and provinces of North America, and all islands along its coasts. Their motto is that the national safety of the United States demands the acquisition of all North America and the West India Islands. Prominent citizens are members of the League, and it officers are the following well-known men: Col. Geo. W. Gibbons, President; Gen. A. L. Gurney, Vice President; Gen. Geo. W. Cole, Secretary; Gen. Jas. E. Kerngan, Financial Secretary; Gen. Jas. B Coit, Treasurer. The organization is preparing an expedition for active service and participation in the hostilities now going on in the Red river country, and against the representatives of the Canadian Government.

The expedition that they are preparing is to consist of fifteen hundred men, of whom eight hundred have already been enrolled. Twenty-five guides have been hired, who are familiar with the Red river country, who will conduct the troops from the last railroad station across the border line. Fifteen hundred Spencer rifles have been stored away ready for use. Ammunition and other supplies are also at hand, and no further great expenses are anticipated. A prominent railroad man, member of the League, has promised the troops free transportation to within two hundred miles of the border line, and from that place to the point of operations the filibusters will make their way by forced marches.

They will depart from New York in squads of from one to two hundred men, and as quietly as possible, so as to avoid detection or delay. The first squads will start before the 15th of January—perhaps as early as the first of the month—and the last detachment, it is expected, will have left the city before the beginning of February. Two bodies, numbering together two hundred and fifty men, have started for the Red river country already, from four cities—Chicago, Buffalo, Detroit and St. Louis. They have probably crossed the border line already, but no news has yet been received from them.

VIRGINIA.

RICHMOND, December 28.—It has transpired that a number of the Deputy Sheriffs appointed by General Canby, under the reconstruction act, are defaulters to the State in sums ranging from $5000 to $20,000, which they collected but are unable to pay into the Treasury.

A rumor was in circulation yesterday afternoon that irregularities have been discovered in the Merchants' Exchange National Bank on Broadway. The Bank officers neither admit nor deny the truth of the report, but say that a committee is examining the accounts, and that if it should be discovered that a defalcation has been committed, information of the fact will be given to the public.

Attractive Residence For Sale.

THE undersigned are authorized to offer at private sale a very desirable house and lot at Oak Lawn (formerly Buntyn station), five miles from Memphis, on Memphis and Charleston railroad. The lot contains six acres, well inclosed, half cleared and half in original growth of oak and elm; beautifully located, and sloping in every direction from the building site. The dwelling house contains two large and two small rooms, constructed so as to admit of enlargement at small outlay. There are, besides, a kitchen, servants' room, lock room, cow house and wood shed.

Within the last two years ten or fifteen persons, engaged in professional and mercantile pursuits in Memphis, have built in this locality. The facilities which the railroad offers are now such as to make this point more convenient for the residence of business men than the immediate suburbs of the city. There is not a more refined society to be found within or without the city—the locality is healthy and picturesque—churches and schools are convenient. No neighborhood around Memphis can pretend to offer such advantages, and the lands adjacent are, in consequence, rapidly increasing in value.
