The calico dress ball of the United Hebrew Relief Association comes off at the Memphis Club Hall on next Thursday evening.

At the matinee at the theater to-day Mrs. Bowers will play Mary Stuart, Amy Robsart will be presented next Monday evening.

Mr. W. G. Means was sworn in as an attorney in the First Circuit Court today. Mr. G. F. F. Thompson was admitted to practice law in the Criminal Court.

The Memphis Art Exposition, at 232 Main street, was visited by hundreds of people to-day. The exhibition of oil paintings and chromos is extensive and varied.

The number of blind persons in the United States and Territories is estimated in the census tables at 20,320. Tennessee is credited with 876 persons who cannot see the rascalities continually going on around them.

The annual ball of the Ezra Lodge No. 39, A. J. O. K. S. B., will be given next Monday evening at the Memphis Club Hall. This ball is given for the joint benefit of the above Lodge and the Cleveland Orphan Asylum.

Mansford, corner of Second and Monroe, receives daily New York, Chicago, Cincinnati, Nashville, St. Louis and Louisville papers, and all the popular illustrated weeklies, and the leading magazines.

The price of game at the game depots to-day is as follows: Venison, 20c per pound; prairie chickens, 75c each; quails, 25c each; squirrels, 25c each; pigeons, 50c per dozen; rabbits, 50c each; lake fish, 15c per pound; oysters, 75c to $1 per can.

Two young men engaged in a personal difficulty on Jefferson street yesterday afternoon. During the affair a pistol was discharged accidentally, the ball passing through the leg of one of the combatants. The cause of all this was whisky; the result, regrets by all parties.

Emmons & Son, the popular newsdealers at 10 Jefferson and 410 Main, have weekly illustrated papers, foreign publications, monthly magazines, and daily papers from New York, St. Louis, Cincinnati, New Orleans, Nashville, Chicago and other cities.

The convicts working on the Selma railroad give general satisfaction. They are guarded by men sent down from Nashville. It is a kind of retributive justice to compel the white and colored thieves to build up railroads in a country wherein they formerly plundered.

Captain R. G. Lowe, one of the editors of the Southwestern, published at Shreveport, La., is still in the city in the interests of the Memphis and Shreveport railroad. Captain Lowe is having printed in pamphlet form the proceedings of the late Shreveport railroad convention.

The Memphis Theater was crowded to excess by the elite of the city last night. Hundreds of our fashionable young men had to stand up and lean against the walls, like summer plants. Flirting was carried on through lorgnettes between the beaux and belles who were separated by a densely packed mass of humanity.

A large concourse of people attended the requiem high mass chanted at St. Peter's Church over the remains of Miss C. Dougherty this forenoon. The imposing ceremonies were conducted by the Rev. Fathers O'Brien, Cary and Burns. The remains of the deceased will be sent to the family burial ground in Canada for interment.

The Shreveport railroad project has turned public attention to Texas. There are about 3,800,000 head of cattle in Texas, one-fourth being beeves, one-fourth cows, and the other half yearlings and two-year olds. 750,000 calves are raised and branded every year. All are raised on the great Texas plains, which cover an area of 152,000,000 acres.

The penitentiary at Nashville has been leased for five years to Colonel R. F. Looney, of this city, and Major Thomas O'Conner, of Knoxville. The price paid is a bonus of $30,000 per annum, and assume all the contracts entered into by the Inspectors, and take off the hands of the State not only the entire institution, but also the men and materials of every description.

St. Joseph's Infirmary, presided over by the Sisters of Charity, has ceased to exist. The institution ceased to be self-supporting, and the Sisters preferred to give it up rather than appeal to the public for aid. This is to be regretted, since St. Joseph's Infirmary was the only place where persons who have no homes in the city could secure proper attention during sickness.

A New York musical critic thus describes Capoul, the tenor: "He is as full of nervous tremors and palpitations as any hysterical woman. In the sentimental music of Martha he yearned over the orchestra and at the wine with such ineffable spoonery that no female heart could withstand it. He did not seem to be singing the music so much as embracing it and giving it little hot shakes and woe-begone kisses."

It is reported on the streets that the Democratic Executive Committee intend meeting on Monday next for the purpose of calling a regular Democratic Convention to nominate candidates for office at the next municipal election. The mass meeting syndicates will have to stand from under; the voters or workingmen will support the regular Democratic nominees.

William Johnson, a colored larcenist, was found guilty in the Criminal Court yesterday, and sentenced to one year's imprisonment in the penitentiary. Williams managed to walk out of the court-room while the deputy sheriffs were engaged in looking after the other prisoners. The crowd of negroes that infested the court-room made it so dark that William easily escaped through the thick atmosphere without detection.

The Memphis and Shreveport railroad committee meets this afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce to adopt a plan to secure such assistance from Shelby county as will insure the completion of the road. The following are the committee: Samuel Tate, M. J. Wicks, A. H. Douglass, T. H. Allen, J. T. Hillsman, W. L. Duff, J. W. Dickinson, T. R. Dillard, John T. Stratton, Hon. Jacob Thompson, W. R. Moore, J. F. Boyd, A. Vaccaro, D. Pante, M. Magevney, R. A. Pinson, P. C. Bethel, M. L. Meacham, Newton Ford, William R. Hunt, William Farrington.

Amusements.

MEMPHIS THEATER.—A larger number of people never appeared at the theater than did last evening on the occasion of Mrs. Bower's benefit. Hundreds of people were turned away, it being impossible to procure seats or standing-room. The attractive and sensational drama, Lady Audley's Secret, was presented, with Mrs. Bowers in the leading role. To say that the audience was delighted with her wonderful acting would but faintly describe the pleasure received by those fortunate enough to be present. At the matinee to-day Mary Stuart will be presented, and to-night Mrs. Bowers will appear in the great play of Lucretia Borgia. Katharine and Petruchio will also be presented this evening. On next Monday evening the charming drama, Amy Robsart, will be placed on the boards.

BROOM'S.—Manager Broom continues to attract large audiences to his Jefferson street Opera House every evening. He has secured the services of a fine ballet troupe and the Lawrence troupe, who appear in the panorama of classic groupings. The great French Can-Can winds up the performance every night.

OLYMPIC VARIETIES.—Crowds of people visit the old Washington street theater every evening. Manager Lusk has a fine company of variety artists, composed of ballet dancers, operatic and sensational vocalists and general specialty performers. New attractions are presented nightly, including the famous Can-Can, which has been placed on the boards with new scenery, etc.

Fires To-day.

Early this morning a fire broke out in an old frame stable on Brinkley avenue, between the Raleigh road and the Memphis and Louisville railroad, in Chelsea. The building was owned by Mr. Gear, and was totally destroyed. The fire was the work of an incendiary. Loss one hundred dollars; no insurance.

Atten o'clock to-day a frame barber shop, on Charleston avenue, was destroyed by fire. The building was of little value.

ALL in search of nice game should call on S. Clement, 72 Beal street. He has just received a large lot of venison and bear meat; also, a fine quantity of ducks, partridges, pigeons, dressed turkeys, celery and oysters.

Day Boarders.

Young men especially, will find it to their advantage to try the Commercial Hotel. Cheap rates, excellent fare, and every accommodation is extended.

Ætna Insurance Company.

From the "Hartford Daily Courant," Nov. 10, 1871.]

A special meeting of the stockholders of the Ætna Fire Insurance Company was held on Thursday forenoon, and it was agreed to reduce the capital stock from $3,000,0000, to $1,500,000. This action was verified by the directors, and official notice given at the office of the Secretary of State, from which a certificate was issued accordingly. The stockholders then voted to increase the capital a million and a half, bringing it up to the chartered amount, and the directors will hold a meeting to arrange the payment of the new stock, several plans being proposed. This action places the company in possession of an ample reinsurance fund, and it will be able to meet all the requirements as to "condition" which the legislation of any State requires. The premium receipts since the fire have been and are enormous; over $700,000 having been taken by agents during twenty days in October.

From the "Local Money Article" of same date.)

"The feature of the local market is dullness. Prices are well sustained in the absence of forced sales. It is quite evident those persons are to be disappointed who expected to buy our best local stocks on their own terms, because of the extensive forced sales that were to be made. Ætna and Phœnix Fire have both been in demand, at prices made last week, but no stock has come on the market this week. The immediate future of the market value of Ætna will of course be governed largely by the amount of the new shares put on the market. At the annual meeting of the company held to-day (Thursday), the stockholders unanimously voted to reduce the old capital from three million dollars to one million and a half dollars, and as unanimously voted to put their hands in their pockets and pay in a million and a half fresh money, and thus restore the capital to the old mark of three millions, and thus continue to hold the Ætna in the very front rank of insurance companies of the land." 68

PUBLIC LEDGER OFFICE, MEMPHIS, TENN., November 18, 1871.

Money.

The usual routine of business is about all that can be reported as transpiring at the banks to-day. There is a fair number of depositors, and the balance sheets thus early in the month would show a favorable balance for a majority of our merchants. There is but a small demand for money, and rates remain as usual.

Cotton bills are coming in more freely. Rates are steady at ½ to ¾c discount buying and par selling. New Orleans bills are bought at ¾ to ⅛c discount for large and small amounts.

Gold is bought at 110 to 110½. The New York rate is 111.

Local securities are without change. The only transaction worthy of note was $11,500 Arkansas levee bonds yesterday at 26c. City bonds, currency issue, 55 to 56c buying and selling; gold issue, 62½ to 63½c, ex-coupon. City scrip 78 to 80c buying and 82c selling.

NEW YORK MONEY MARKET.

NEW YORK, November 18, 10:25 a.m.—Governments are active and steady. Sterling exchange is steady at 109¼. Gold is loaning flat.

Cotton.

Sales yesterday were nearly 4000 bales up to the hour that our reporter left the market. To-day 1580 bales had been disposed of, showing a good demand and a disposition on the part of buyers to go a little higher in prices and not hold over, as is usually the case on Saturdays. It is surmised, too, that the activity that has characterized our market during the week is due in part to the movement on the part of some of the Eastern spinners to purchase their next summer's stock earlier this season and not postpone it as heretofore until spring, and pay from two to four cents per pound higher and then select from a poor stock. Whether this be true or not we are unable to say, but would deem it a wise move for the spinner. The falling off in receipts, as shown by our daily statement, causes some anxiety among buyers, showing that the planters this year are able to hold their cotton, sending only such quantities to market as will supply them with provisions and meet the payments on old accounts. From this standpoint the outlook is anything but discouraging, and at the end of the season we expect to see the planter in a better condition, financially, than he has experienced since the war. Included in the sales to-day were all grades. The demand, however, being chiefly for strict good ordinary to strict middling; the inside figure paid for the former was 17c and purchased on Liverpool account, and 17¾c for middling. We quote as follows:

The New York and Liverpool telegrams indicate a firm market without change in prices.

The weekly statement of receipts, exports, etc., at United States ports telegraphed to-day, compared with the corresponding week last year, is as follows: Receipts for week, decrease, 22,560; since September 1, decrease, 129,441; exports for week, decrease, 36,624; since September 1, 76,595; stock, decrease, 40,223 bales.

A New York telegram gives the following comparative weekly statement:

Total weekly receipts from September 1, 710,154; same time last year, 597,456. The total exports from September 1, 1871, are 267,963; same time last year, 358,150. The stock at all the United States ports in 1871 is 326,712; last year, 331,008; at interior towns in 1871, 53,579; last year, 61,244; at Liverpool in 1871, 539,000; last year, 420,000. American cotton afloat for Great Britain in 1871, 94,000; last year, 100,000.

Our daily telegrams below give the latest quotations from other markets.

Trade.

Two cargoes of produce are expected hourly, and will in all probability reduce the price of grain and feed and vegetables, but to what extent cannot be safely predicted. The stock of grain is not large and the steamer from the Ohio river may not do more than to supply the demand, while the stock of vegetables is light, and were it not that consignments will be drawn against necessitating their being placed upon the market, the prices of such articles as potatoes, butter, eggs, etc., would undoubtedly advance. There are few changes to note to-day.

Mess pork is in light supply, with a moderate demand at $14 50 to $15. Bacon clear sides are held at 8½ to 8¾c, clear rib 8¾ to 8¾c, shoulders 7½c. Lard, 10¾ to 10¾c for tierce and 11¼ to 11½c for keg. Breakfast bacon and hams are quiet and a shade easier; the former is quoted at 10½ to 11c, and new sugar-cured hams are sold at 15¼ to 15½c uncanvassed and for fancy canvassed 16c is the price. Bulk sides, old, are 7½c; new, 8 to 8¼c. Corn meal is quiet at $3 15 to 3 20. Corn is held at 60c. Hay is $24 to $30. Bran is quiet at $25 50 to $26. Apples, $2 to $4, with choice fancy held at 4 50. Onions are quiet at $2 90 to 3. Butter is in fair supply at 24 to 26c for common to fair table and 28c for extra choice. Beans are quiet at $3 to 3 25. Eggs are steady at 37½c, with a light supply. Cabbage firm at $7 to $8. Dried apples 5½ to 6¼c and quiet. Dried peaches 6 to 7c, with a good supply. Cranberries are easier at $12 to 13 per barrel. Kraut is quiet at $9 00 to 10 00. Choice flour is firm but quiet. Sugar is quiet, but prices are not lower. Coffee is quiet at the decline noticed. Poultry is in fair supply at $4 for ducks, $8 for geese, $12 to 17 for turkeys, and $2 50 to 4 00 for chickens. Onions are dull, at $2 50. Potatoes are quiet but a shade firmer at $2 85 to 3 00. Nails are firm at $4 75 rates. Bagging is easier, with sales 200 pieces at 16½ to 16¾c for 2 to 2¼ pound flax and hemp. Cheese is easier at 15c for factory. Whisky is unchanged. RIVER, BUSINESS, MISCELLANEOUS.

The river is again on the rise, and has gone up at least six inches since noon yesterday. This will give a depth of seven and a half feet from Cairo to Helena, Island 26 and Reeves' being the most troublesome places between the two points. The Arkansas and White rivers continue to fall. Our special telegrams give the latest information from the Mississippi and its tributaries above and below. Business is fair. The weather is cool, with indications of snow.
