MEMPHIS:
 Saturday Evening, Feb. 24, 1872.

THE PARTY LAST.
 The war between the Grant ring and the Trumbull-Sumner-Shurs ring of the Radical party has grown so hot that a fierce war is to be made by the former on all office-holders sympathizing with the latter. Grant's Washington organ says: Many officeholders have been corrupted with the prevalent cant of the party whip, and need whipping back into the traces. It is notorious that persons favored with the confidence and best gifts of the administration have been decidedly shaky in their allegiance to the Republican organization that has made those ingrates so fat that they have kicked out all discipline. There have been patience and long suffering, and we believe the largest liberty; but there must be a limit to all things, and men sustaining the defection of Shurs, Sumner & Co. must choose quickly whom they intend to follow and serve. Treason to party cannot be permitted among men holding place right here under the shadow of the capitol. Good nature and suzerainty toward such men is most imbecile, and can no longer be admitted as wisdom. Men can change coats no longer easily and comfortably; but they must not be permitted to wear our party uniform while holding communication with the enemy.

A CANDIDATE OUT.
 On Thursday last the National Labor convention, sitting at Columbus, Ohio, nominated Judge Davis, of the supreme court, for President, and Joel Parker, of New Jersey, for Vice President. Judge Davis has for some time been favorably spoken of by the Liberals as a candidate. He accepts. It would prove a happy deliverance from the evils that afflict us if such a man as Judge Davis could be elected President. If the Liberal convention at Cincinnati shall nominate him, the Democracy will rally to his support without regard to platform, and without asking any questions. Some ultra Democratic would-be leaders possibly may prefer Grant, but they cannot carry the people with them. The truth is, the Democracy have no leaders now. They have suffered long, and honeyed words will not cure the wrongs they endure. They know it, and the men who once led them have no more influence with them at this crisis, than the men who did not lead them have.

CHURCH DISESTABLISHMENT.
 The New York Herald is sanguine that the "Irish disestablishment has given an impetus to the agitation for a disestablishment in the sister island which cannot long be resisted, especially as the proposition involves the dismissal of a horde of lazy ecclesiastical blood-suckers, and the saving of from fifteen to twenty millions of dollars a year to the national treasury. Thus step by step, England is on the road to the 'divine rights' of the people, and no hedge by Her Majesty's government on the Alabama claims will serve to arrest this revolutionary movement." This is decidedly Heraldical. Nothing but a revolution greater than has taken place for years can accomplish so great a result.

THE INCOME TAX.
 A Washington dispatch says: The treasury department has given the necessary instructions for the collection of the income tax for 1871; and the assessors of this district to-day commenced to distribute blanks for the assessment. The rate, as is well known, is two and a half per cent. on all incomes above two thousand dollars per annum, from which may also be deducted all State, national and municipal taxes, losses accruing the year, and losses on real estate since December 31, 1867; also real paid for homestead, for usual repairs, for interest, and interest of dividends from which a tax has been withheld. The special taxes on pianos, watches, etc., were abolished last year, and not included as heretofore, in the assessment.

A VALUABLE WORK.
 The Teachers' National Publishing Association, New York, has sent us a copy of the Educational Year Book for 1872. It is a hand-book of reference containing digest of American public school laws, and interesting matters pertaining to schools and colleges, ranging from professional anecdotes to educational statistics. For superintendents and teachers it is a work of great value. The price is $1.25 in cloth, and 75 cents in paper. Address the Association, care of A. S. Barnes & Co., 111 and 113 William street, New York.

SCRIBNER FOR MARCH.
 Scribner's Magazine for March is on our table. We regard it as one of the best, if not the best, magazine in America. A series of papers are running through it entitled "Back Log Stories," by Charles Dudley Warner, who is characterized by the New York Mail as "Charles Lamb's new rival." Warner is one of the editors of the Hartford Courant, the author of "My Summer in a Garden," and is a rising star in American literature.

TENNESSEE LEGISLATURE.
 Extra Session—Governor Brown's Proclamation—What is to be Done by our Lawmakers.

Special to the Appeal.
 NASHVILLE, Feb. 23.—Governor Brown issued his proclamation to-day, convening the legislature in extraordinary session. He states that the purposes of this convocation are:
 To redistrict the State, and provide for the election of congressmen as apportioned to Tennessee under the late census. To amend the act to provide for the sale of lands which have been sold for taxes. To have the report of the inspectors of the State prison examined. To confer additional powers on the railroad commissioners. To receive the reports of the officers appointed to cancel State bonds and coupons. To provide for the appointment of agents to adjust claims between the State of Tennessee and the United States. To fill vacancies in the offices of registers and entry-takers. To supply the defects in the act of the regular session for the benefit of the hospital for the insane. The act to appropriate territorial and representative districts in Tennessee, so as to prescribe times and places for comparing the polls of districts. To amend the act to create the office of county judge for Carroll county, so as to provide said county with a legal court until the next regular biennial election. To afford relief to litigants by providing proper remedies for the speedy hearing of causes on crowded dockets, especially in the supreme court, and to consider the propriety of changing existing laws for editing and publishing the reports of the supreme court in response to petitions coming from the bench and bar and from other sources. To consider the propriety of republishing the former Supreme Court reports and revisal of the statutes. To appoint commissioners to settle the question of boundary between the States of Tennessee and Virginia. To authorize additional loans to meet the current expenses in anticipation of the revenue of the present year. To amend the laws relating to common schools and education in such manner as may be necessary. To provide for the preservation of the archives and public property of the capitol; and to consider the propriety of enlarging the powers of municipal corporations to issue bonds.

The Tribune, speaking of the minority report of the Ku-Klux committee, says it is conclusive against the loathsome officials (carpet-baggers) of the South. It adds: "Misrule and corruption have combined with ruffianism and brutal mob-law to make the South uninhabitable. Day after day and week after week, the crumbling fabrics of these fraudulent political structures have attested the truth of all that the Tribune said long ago of the carpet-baggers. If the end of the Ku-Klux shall come with that of the thieves, it will be well for the whole country."

That many of the accidents fatal to life on railroads, in consequence of broken rails, could be averted by diminishing the speed, is beyond cavil. The St. Louis Republican says that midwinter accidents on railroads will not be seriously diminished in number until a general arrangement is effected between the companies for reducing considerably the running time during the cold season. If this was done throughout the country, business and travel would learn to accommodate themselves to the new regime, and the inconvenience would be only temporary.

A LETTER from Berlin, Prussia, to the Baltimore Sun, states that a spirit of speculation is taking possession of the staid people of that great capital of a million inhabitants, somewhat similar to that which affected us towards the close of our late civil war. Most of the necessities of life have, within a few months, advanced their twenty-five to fifty per cent. Real estate in speculative sections, has gone up one hundred per cent. within a year.

THE World says: It is asserted by geologists that this city is gradually sinking at the rate of seventeen inches in a century, so that in the course of time a few lots on the top of Murray Hill will constitute all the terra firma of Gotham. It is doubtless the Fourth avenue railway tracks will thus be inexpensively depressed, so as to place nobody but the little fishes in danger.

ILLINOIS has taken to investigating. A committee of inquiry into the management of the State penitentiary report that during the past three years there have been expenditures for that institution to the amount of $177,000, for which there are no vouchers anywhere.

The Progress of Memphis.
 Memphis is rapidly becoming the great cotton center of the world. Its trade and commerce are increasing at a ratio unknown to other cities, and it will soon be the greatest crossing point on the Mississippi river, from the side of travel and commerce between the East and the far West over the Southern Pacific railroad. Eastern capitalists, merchants and manufacturers are turning their eyes in the direction of the Bluff City, for already its location and advantages are to them clearly perceptible. With an eye to this fact, and the rapidly increasing trade of our city, Messrs. Finkle & Lyon's manufacturing company had established an agency at No. 40 Court street some months since, but were forced by increasing business to hunt up some more adaptable location. The company has removed its agency at No. 223 Main street, where the celebrated "Victor" sewing machines of the company can be examined by the public. The "Victor" stands unapproachable for simplicity, great range of work, and ease of adjustment. The manufacturers have fitted up an elegant room, and their agent, Mr. L. C. McAllister, is receiving daily from the company's works the Victor machines of every style and pattern. This speaks well for our city and the inducements presented by us to Eastern manufacturers to locate in our midst.

 AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION, VIA E. P. & A. TELEGRAPH COMPANY.

GERMANY—FRANCE.
 The German Nation Arming—Another Invasion of France Probable.
 New York, February 24.—A Herald special from Berlin says:
 The German nation is arming again and assuming a war aspect rapidly. Two corps of the Imperial Prussian army have received orders from the war office to hold themselves fully equipped and in readiness to move immediately when directed. The reason is found in the great and unusual activity now pervading the French political circles at Versailles, and consequent apprehension on the part of Germany of the possible occurrence of a sudden change not only in the ministry but in the form of the government of France. Prussia reserves to herself the right to judge of and pronounce on any new government which may succeed that of Thiers, as to whether such new government is likely to execute the treaty of peace and discharge the French obligations to Germany. Should Prussia decide unfavorably another invasion of France will follow.

WASHINGTON.
 WASHINGTON, February 23.—Garrett Davis is so much better that his physicians believe he will be able to return to his home in Kentucky next week.
 The case of Captain Stevens for not exercising due caution and preventing the United States steamer Gurion from running on rocks on the coast of Italy, will conclude its courts-martial to-morrow and report the result to the secretary of war.

NEW YORK.
 New York, February 24.—It is asserted that there are now affidavits in possession of the committee of seventy which originate Police Superintendent Kelo, in conjunction with the notorious William Hennessy Cook, who was accessory to the voucher robbery, for which Haggerty and Batch were indicted at the general session of the grand jury.

Railroad Accident on the Louisville Short Line.

CINCINNATI, February 23.—A terrible accident occurred on the Louisville and Cincinnati Short Line railroad yesterday, about thirty miles from this city. The Lightning Express train, consisting of two passenger cars, baggage and express car, left Louisville at eight a.m., with about sixty passengers, and as it was crossing what is known as the Ten Mile Bridge, the bridge gave way, throwing the passenger cars, baggage and express cars and tender down twenty-five feet. Two persons were killed outright and fifty-three others wounded.

Scandalous Affair.
 BALTIMORE, February 24.—This city was thrown into great excitement to-day by the fact being made public that Rev. L. D. Horton, minister of one of the most fashionable Methodist Episcopal churches of Baltimore, had fled the city, having accomplished the ruin of a number of young ladies, members of his flock. He is represented as being an able and eloquent preacher, attracted large audiences, and was highly respected previous to the facts being made known. He left a wife and family behind him.

"Alas, Poor Yorick!"
 Since the city authorities and the criminal court have determined to suppress gambling or regulate it so that it cannot be carried on as publicly as any legitimate business, many members of the sporting fraternity sit and weep like Marius over the ruins of their Carthage, or have gathered up their laces and penates in the shape of chips and faro boxes, cut cards, keno traps, and have left the bluff without casting even one "longing, lingering look behind" — except when the police were in sight. Keno, probably the most dangerous, seductive and pernicious game ever introduced into Memphis, has been driven into the suburbs of the city, where it ekes out a precarious existence beneath the light of a dark lantern. Faro, the royal game, the lineal descendant of the Egyptian monarch, still rears its crest in our midst, but not in the gorgeous and flaunting style of yore. Behind belts and bars, and guarded by pickets, it is always in a condition to retreat on the first alarm. Gambling at the faro table, like many other social evils, cannot be entirely suppressed so long as this world holds together. Judge Flippin, of our criminal court, has enacted a rule that will go far to relieve Memphis of a crowd of "sports" who have drifted into our city from St. Louis, Chicago and other points. Heretofore when a gambler was found guilty on an indictment and fined, he generally escaped both imprisonment and fine by taking the insolvent debtor's oath—the ten days' notice (during which time he would, according to law, have had to remain in jail) being generally waived by the attorney general. Consequently the "sport" walked into court after the conviction, and while wearing a heavy gold watch and chain, diamond pin and studs, a hundred dollar suit of noble clothes, took the insolvent debtor's oath, swearing to his poverty and pauperism, and marched out a free man, to engage again in his "braces" and confidence games in a few hours. Judge Flippin has ordered the clerk of his court not to enter up the judgments in such cases until the fine and costs are paid. This order is followed by an execution, which if not settled, acts as a highway to the county jail. No wonder the new rule causes a legion from the Mecca of Memphis to some out of the way Medina.

Amusements.
 MEMPHIS THEATER.—Lotta's benefit last night attracted a larger audience than ever before assembled within the walls of the theater. A galaxy of beauty adorned the dress-circle and parquette, and gentlemen stood in the aisles as closely packed as sardines in a box. The play, Heart's-Ease, never before presented in Memphis, was admirably suited to Lotta's attractive and captivating style of acting. She was admirably supported by Mr. Ketchum and other members of the company. At the matinee to-day Lotta will appear in the Little Detective, and this evening in Heart's-Ease, which will be her closing performance in Memphis.

THE BANDMANS.—Next Monday Mr. and Mrs. Bandmann, sterling actors, will commence an engagement at the Memphis Theater and will present during the week such dramatic treats as Narcisse, Richieu, Hamlet, Othello, Hunchback, etc. Mr. Bandmann is considered equal to Booth or Fechter, having acquired a high reputation as an actor in England, Australia and the United States. Narcisse, which was represented one hundred nights in London, will be on the bills on next Wednesday evening, the occasion of Treasurer Short's benefit.

THEODORE THOMAS' CONCERTS.—The musical sensation is the Thomas concert, next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, at the Greenlaw Opera House. The musicians, sixty in number, are all of the best musical talent in the country, and together they form a grand orchestra. The treasures of musical works which compose Thomas' concert programmes are so varied and rich that to speak of them with true appreciation would require more space than is allotted to us. Suffice it to say, that every morceau, small or large, so-called classical or modern, captivates the listener's whose attention and interest.

BROOM'S OPERA HOUSE.—The Victor family at Broom's have proven a great attraction. They certainly merit much approbation for their performances are first-class. The thrilling feats of Henry and Oscar on the horizontal bar are excellent, and their terrific leaps in mid air simply astounding. Neil Rogers, one of the cleverest delineators of Ethiopian character in this country, is becoming a great favorite, and is no small card at Broom's. Altogether, Broom has an excellent company and well deserving patronage.

THE OLYMPIC.—Manager Lusk seems determined to keep pace with the times, and hence his variety company is one of the best in the South, and capable of giving a mirth-provoking entertainment every evening. The Olympic is always well patronized because the company is always a good one and the performance such as to interest and entertain.

PROPERTY CHANGING HANDS.
 The City Going in for Real Estate.
 The city has commenced filing deeds for property bought in for taxes in 1870. Forty or more deeds have already been filed for record in the County Register's office, and we are given to understand that the number will be added to at the rate of about one hundred a week, till the whole number to which the city is entitled are entered up. Unless redeemed, as no doubt many will be, the city itself will be the most extensive property holder within its own limits. Files this week:
