Lowenstein, of Memphis.

Monday next Mr. and Mrs. Bandmann, actors of high reputation in the dramatic world, will commence an engagement at the Memphis Theater. Hamlet, Othello, King Lear and other sterling tragedies will be presented during the week. On next Wednesday evening, on the occasion of Treasurer Short's benefit, the the attractive play entitled Narcisse will be placed on the boards.

The next startling sensation in Memphis will be the visit of the fugitive prince imperial of France. The telegraphic dispatches have it that Napoleon will start the young prince on an American tour next summer. America will soon become the great stamping ground of living and defunct European royalty. Can't Barnum get a few dozen kings and princes to visit the United States as a sort of royal menagerie?

STARTLING EMBEZZLEMENT.

A Dry Goods Clerk Charged with Embezzling Ten Thousand Dollars worth of Goods.

Arrest and Hearing Before the Recorder.

Last evening Mr. John H. Hackett, a confidential clerk and superintendent of the dry goods establishment of D. C. & H. M. Loewenstine, of the Southern Palace on Main street, was arrested by Detective Harry Cranmer, on the charge of appropriating a quantity of goods belonging to his employers. Mr. Hackett came to this city from Baltimore, Md., some ten years since, and has been in the employ of Messrs. Loewenstine since that time as clerk and business superintendent. Being a first-class business man, he secured the confidence of his employers. The arrest was made last evening as above stated. Mr. Hackett is charged with a series of embezzlements of goods, supposed to have been carried on for many months.

THE GOODS FOUND.

The officer, on searching the trunk of the accused, found a lot of goods belonging to Messrs. Loewenstine, valued at between one thousand to fifteen hundred dollars, which were at once identified by the owners. The officer found other goods belonging to the proprietors in the possession of some other parties to whom it is supposed they were given by Mr. Hackett.

The report circulated that Hackett had abstracted money and United States bonds from the safe of Messrs. Lowenstine is untrue, they not having lost any bonds, the accused never having had access to their safe. It is known that Hackett has a large amount of United States bonds in his possession, which bonds are supposed to be the result of the sale of goods abstracted from his employers. The story in a morning paper that the papers found in Hackett's trunk showed that he had sent numerous trunks full of goods to a New York firm, is flatly contradicted, as is also the story that numerous married ladies in the city were the recipients of costly presents from Hackett. These tales are sensational—the simple facts above set forth being the only ones brought to light.

THE ARREST.

When officer Cranmer, who had been on Mr. Hackett's track, made the arrest last evening, the prisoner took matters coolly, and refused to enter into any explanations as to the charges, no doubt preferring to await a consultation with his attorney. He was locked up in the Adams street station-house, where he passed the night. On his person were found a fine gold watch and chain, and $250 in gold, which were taken charge of by the station-house keeper. This morning the following warrant was sworn out before Recorder Winters, ex officio justice of the peace:

State of Tennessee, Shelby county:

Before me personally appeared H. M. Loewenstine and made oath that John H. Hackett did feloniously embezzle from affiant, at various times, a lot of goods to the value of ten thousand dollars, the property of D. C. & H. M. Loewenstine, against the peace and dignity of the State and contrary to law.

H. M. LOEWENSTINE.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 24th February, 1872.

P. M. WINTERS, J. P.

The warrant was executed at the station-house on the prisoner by Barney Cox, constable. The State and defendant not being ready for trial, Justice Winters committed the prisoner to jail, in default of bonds in the sum of forty thousand dollars, to appear before him on next Monday afternoon at two o'clock, when the case will undergo a preliminary judicial investigation.

THE PRISONER.

Mr. Hackett is aged about twenty-eight years, of medium size and is quite a handsome man. He always dressed neatly and well, wore a dark mustache and imperial, and was quite a favorite with the ladies. Possessing gentlemanly manners, and elegant appearance, he moved in good society. He was reputed to be a little fast, but of this we have nothing to do. The value of goods which he stands charged with abstracting is stated in the warrant to be $10,000, but it cannot be accurately ascertained what amount was actually taken. All this will no doubt come out on the investigation to be had before the recorder on Monday next. Mr. Hackett was attended in court this morning by Colonel George R. Phelan, his counsel, and the State was represented by Assistant Attorney General Gammon. The arrest and discovery has created considerable sensation and surprise throughout the city, as Mr. Hackett has been regarded as correct in business matters and stood high in social life.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

MONEY.

PUBLIC LEDGER OFFICE, MEMPHIS, TENN., February 24, 1872.

The situation financially is without the slightest change. Money is wanted by the merchants, and is furnished by some of the banks to their customers only, while others are not only supplying that demand, but leaving large amounts on thirty and sixty days' time to those considered A1. Rates remain steady at 10 to 12 per cent.

Exchange is in better supply, some of the banks getting enough to accommodate their neighbors, and by next week it is expected the supply will be largely in excess of the demand. Several of the banks to-day have taken amounts varying from $40,000 and $60,000 to $90,000 at the established rate, ¼c discount, and sell checks on New York at par.

Gold is higher, 111 being the New York rate. Dealers here buy at 110¼ to 110⅝, and would sell at 110¾.

Very few transactions are reported in local securities. County warrants, in small amounts, are bought by dealers at 90c, but for a large amount 89c is, perhaps, the best price that could be obtained while the selling rates range from 92½ to 93c. City securities are quoted at 55c for the long date currency issue, January coupon detached, and 62c is the quotation for the gold issue. Tennessee money is bought at 84 to 85c for the old and 36c for the new issue, and is sold respectively at 86 to 87 and 37c. Telegrams from New York to-day quote Memphis and Charleston stock at 38c bid and 39c asked. One dealer here offers small and large amounts at the former price, while those who have held the stock in anticipation of the benefits to be derived by the city from a lease to the Southern Security company are firm at 40c, and will hold for that figure. The stock now upon the market at a less price is owned principally by the Alabama holders, who, it seems, are supremely disgusted with the course things have taken. Sales by some of these parties were made in New York late yesterday at 38c, and several telegraphic inquiries have been received to-day asking for quotations and the amount that could be purchased.

NEW YORK, February 24, 10:25 a.m.—Governments are a fraction better, with a medium demand. Sterling exchange is very steady at 109⅝. Gold is carrying at 1 per cent.

COTTON.

Fifteen hundred bales was the amount purchased by exporters and speculators yesterday, spinners' agents doing but a light business. To-day New York has declined ⅛c, making a total decline of ⅛c since our last report. Liverpool is dull to-day and a shade easier. The New Orleans market is easier at 22⅛c for middling, and here the market has, to a certain extent, followed the decline elsewhere. Factors are not alarmed, however, nor excited, but accept the situation; and the buyers to-day, exporters and a few spinners, who are working upon discretionary orders, are getting the choice of the market at the ruling prices, which we quote as follows:

RIVER, BUSINESS, WEATHER.

Another rise of eight inches is reported by the gauge mark here during the past twenty-four hours, and the changes above and below are as follows: A rise of two inches at Pittsburg, fifteen at Cairo, six at Evansville, five at Vicksburg, seventeen at St. Louis, and a decline of one inch at New Orleans, two at Leavenworth, six at Nashville, Louisville, five at Cincinnati, and two at Shreveport. A light drizzling rain set in before daylight this morning and from present appearances will continue all day. The Arkansas has risen two feet and has now a depth of nearly five feet to Little Rock and three feet to Fort Smith. White river is rising slowly.

PORT NEWS.

The Bismarck added 404 bales cotton yesterday and left for New Orleans with nearly 1800 tons of produce, all of which, except the cotton, she got at Cairo.....The Dexter came down during the evening loaded deep with a 1700 ton cargo, the principal items of which were 6000 sacks oats, 4000 sacks corn, and 4000 barrels flour for New Orleans. She laid over until this morning for passengers.....The Belle St. Louis has 450 bales cotton and 1090 empty beer kegs awaiting her arrival. .....The rain has made portions of the landing almost impassable for either man or beast.....The Hartford left for Evansville to go on the docks.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The rise yesterday and the day previous broke the gorge below St. Louis, and the river is now open to that point.

The machinery, boilers, etc., recovered from the wreck of the Roseville will be sold at auction Monday, at the foot of Jefferson street.

The Belle St. Louis, with Pullman sleeping car mattresses and Gaston's restaurant attached, with the veteran Blake on the roof, will back out for Cairo and St. Louis, and all way landings, at five o'clock this afternoon. Alf. Grissom is her clerk.

The Robert Burns will leave here on Tuesday next, for Cincinnati direct.

The Robert Mitchell and H. S. Turner are making lively time down the Ohio to get a load at Cairo. The Mitchell left Louisville first, but the Turner is ahead now, and will arrive at Cairo to-day.

The Pat Cleburne will be due to-morrow from the Arkansas.

Lively times are expected at the levee next week, now that the Ohio river is open to Pittsburg and the Mississippi to St. Louis. Steamers at the levee are loading rapidly and several will leave to-day for the lower Mississippi, Arkansas and Red rivers.

It does not require special congressional legislation to bridge the Ohio, or will not soon, as the House committee on commerce at Washington on Thursday considered the matter of bridge privileges and concluded to report a general act allowing the construction of bridges at any point without any special legislation on the subject. The only restriction placed upon the provisions of the bill is that the plan for a bridge and the sites selected must first meet the approval of the secretary of war. The committee will report the bill on Tuesday next.

The salvage claimed on a portion of the cargo of the steamboat Nashville, saved from the waters of the Ohio, was appraised at $897 85.

It is thought that boats will be able to pass through the new locks at Louisville in less than one week. The gates have all been completed and the last one was towed down Thursday by the Robin from Howard & Co.'s shipyard.

The postmaster general has awarded the mail contract on the route between Vicksburg and New Orleans at $29,000 a year, and also the Red river route at $17,000 a year, to Captain Geo. Kountz. The lower coast and St. Francisville are retained by Dr. Paterson, at former prices.

Durfee & Peck were the lowest bidders for the transportation of government freight up the Missouri, and got the contract day before yesterday at Washington.

The Thompson Dean, Sam J. Hale, Edinburg and Nightingale are coming down the Ohio for points below.

A Portsmouth, Ohio, dispatch says:

A spirited rivalry exists between our up river packets. The newly-built Fannie Dugan proposes to wear the honors, and has challenged the Chesapeake to a trial of speed to Ironton on March 17th. The challenge has been accepted.

The Glencoe, Minnie, Mary McDonald, Atlantic and barges, Emilie LaBarge, Alice and Mary Poe, will be the first boats to arrive at St. Louis from below. There is five feet of water from St. Louis to Cairo.

It is stated that Captain N. S. Green has bought an orange plantation in Louisiana.

There has been a loss of half a million dollars in commerce direct to St. Louis by the ice blockade this winter, the river having closed three times since the eighth of November last.

The Dick Fulton No. 3 leaves Louisville in a day or two with a coal tow for New Orleans.

A paragraph is going the rounds that the grand duke, on his way down the river, at various times took the place of the pilot and engineer of the steamer stating that he would be responsible for all accidents.
