

WEYLER'S CAMPAIGN.

No very Definite News Received of the Captain General's Movement.

Havana, Nov. 15.—No very explicit news has been received from Gen. Weyler, but it is known that the engagement at the Rubi Hills he continued his march into the interior of the mountains towards Sonora and that he succeeded in penetrating to points to which no other Spanish columns have ever reached. He has had several skirmishes with the insurgents, notwithstanding the advantageous positions which they hold in the mountain strongholds, but he has not succeeded in concentrating any considerable force of the insurgents.

Insurgents have again attacked the village of Gondola and have cannonaded it, but without inflicting any damage, the Spanish sharpshooting having silenced the artillery by picking off the gunners.

Eighty-eight families and 482 men have been concentrated at Mantua, in Pinar del Rio.

Capt. Gen. Weyler is now at Oleaga.

The committee of national defense today held a meeting presided over by the Governor and agreed to name committees for the provinces who are to invite the presidents of political parties to join the committee in the work they seek to accomplish.

The committee on national defense also resolved to take steps to organize the labor of the island for work in the agricultural districts.

Antonio Maceo is today at San Juan Coutroas, in the southern part of the province of Pinar del Rio, fifteen miles from Artemsia. His vanguard occupies a position between Punta Brava and Candelaria.

IMMIGRATION LAWS.

Col. Stumpf Explaining Their Scope and Force to the Italians.

Rome, Nov. 15.—Col. Herbert Stumpf superintendent of immigration of the United States, who has come to Rome for the purpose of explaining the United States immigration laws to the Italian authorities, has had several conferences since his arrival on various immigration questions.

Among other projects which have been gone over at these conferences was the establishment of a bank to enable Italian residents in the United States to send home savings and otherwise assist immigrants. The Marquis di Rudini, premier, has sent a circular to prefects in structing them to publish the principal points of the United States laws on immigration.

The Italian Socialist, Bernardino, sailed from Genoa on the Oraga for New York.

MONEY STILL TIMID.

Restricted Supply and High Rates Reduce English Investments.

London, Nov. 15.—Money rates have been firm and there has been a brisk demand for gold for the continent. It is probable that large shipments are going to India shortly. Dear money has restricted business on the stock exchange, but the tone has been good in all departments, except mines, which were stagnated and depressed on the impression that the Transvaal would demand a big indemnity of the Chartered South African Company for the Jameson raid. Public investments in the African market have almost wholly ceased. The demand for low priced bonds and shares of reorganized railroads is active at increasing prices. The Venezuelan settlement would have had a better effect on the market, but for the rumors of trouble between the United States and Spain over Cuba. Lord Salisbury's speech at Guild Hall had a steady effect on foreign securities.

Manchester, Nov. 15.—There has been less active selling this week and for the leading markets it was more difficult. The minor markets and also the home trade are doing fairly well. In yarns the previous position is maintained. The absence of surplus stocks render the shippers independent of cloth stackers or cotton vagaries.

Brownsville, Cameron Co., Texas.

Cameron County is the extreme southern county of Texas. It is separated from Mexico by the Rio Grande on the south and has about 100 miles of gulf coast as its eastern boundary. It was organized in 1848, and contains 3308 square miles. Farming and stock raising are the principal industries of the people the location, climate and soil being admirably adapted for both. The greater portion of the soil is a rich loam, and produces an exceedingly heavy yield of both cotton and corn the chief farm products. Two, and sometimes three crops of corn, averaging from fifty to seventy bushels per acre, are raised yearly, while cotton will easily yield from one to two bales per acre. Grasses grow all the year, and stock find pasture without being fed or sheltered during the winter. But the soil and climate of the Lower Rio Grande Valley are by nature best adapted for the production of vegetables and fruits. Vegetables of all kinds grow all the year around, and northerly people are astonished to find tomatoes, lettuce, spinach, English peas, etc., served fresh from the gardens in midwinter. This is undoubtedly the paradise of track gardeners, and so soon as rail transportation is obtained Cameron county vegetables by the car load will be shipped to northern markets during winter and early spring, and will obtain the highest prices, as there will be no competition. This is due to our exceedingly mild climate. Frequently the entire winter passes without a single frost, and there is rarely ever any cold weather before Christmas. Fruit culture has not been attempted in this county on a large scale, but there is one large banana plantation on which this delicious fruit yields most abundantly and in the greatest perfection. Grapes are also raised extensively, growing in almost every yard. They ripen from two to four weeks earlier than in any other section. Many planters here make all of their own table wines. Oranges and lemons also grow in profusion, and this section could easily be made to rival Florida in the production of oranges. Sugar cane is also one of the most important products of this valley. The Rio Grande plantation of Mr. Geo. Brulay and the Rabb Starck plantation produce great quantities of cane, which is all manufactured on the Rio Grande plantation. This cane makes sugar which is produced by experts to be even superior to the best Louisiana product. Havana tobacco has also proven a success here, Col. J. G. Tucker having made some most successful experiments with it; his samples were classed by New York buyers as equal to the best Havana.

The county is watered by the Rio Grande with its ample flow along the southern boundary, and numerous small streams called "arroyos," and "resacas."

The population of Cameron county according to the census of 1890 is 13,424. Brownsville, the county seat, has a population of about 7000 Point Isabel, the seaport of the county, has about 400 inhabitants and Santa Maria, a growing little river settlement, has about 250. Improved lands sell for from $5 to $25 per acre, unimproved for from $2 to $6 per acre. The average taxable value of land is $1. There are 82,240 acres of school land in the county. The county has a total school population of 4400, and gives employment to 80 teachers. The average length of the school term is five months. The total tuition revenue received from the State is $13,000. There are a number of public schools in the county, affording ample educational advantages.

Home-seekers are gradually beginning to find their way to this land where farmers can work in the open air 365 days in the year, but it is comparatively undeveloped as yet. With the building of the railroad to Corpus Christi, however, a great influx of settlers may be expected and they will be heartily welcomed. This valley is capable of supporting millions of people. The Herald will be pleased to furnish any further information regarding the Lower Rio Grande Valley that readers abroad may
