For this reason alone I consider it the best Cough Syrup in the world for children. My Lungs are now stronger than they have been for years. This Syrup is very soothing to the throat and lungs." The Tide Turning in His Favor in Every State.

TALKS WITH PROMINENT

Democrats From West Virginia, Indiana, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Illinois, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

The Washington correspondent of the Atlanta Journal writes that papers as follows:

From leading Democrats of doubtful states and of sections of the Union which must be carried to insure success—from steel-built Democrats who know the opinions of their constituents and who are authorized to speak for the people from whom they come. These interviews outline the situation in West Virginia, Indiana, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Illinois, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, New Hampshire and New York.

They show that the Democratic sentiment in these, the doubtful states, is overwhelming in favor of nominating Grover Cleveland for the presidency, and that with him as the candidate Democratic victory will be assured.

WEST VIRGINIA.

I begin with a gentleman personally well known to many Georgians and politically trusted throughout the union. Representative William L. Wilson, of West Virginia, said:

"I do not think West Virginia will be as close a state in 1892 as it was in 1888; but the fact that the Republicans think it good fighting ground makes it necessary for us to run no risks that are avoidable.

"I believe the Democrats of the state, in an overwhelming proportion, are for Cleveland. In many localities this feeling is both ardent and unanimous. I am sure his nomination would do more to assure a victory in West Virginia from the start than any that could be made.

INDIANA.

Representative George W. Cooper, one of the most careful and most accurate of Indiana's congressmen, said: "I am confident that at least 75 per cent. of the Democrats of Indiana prefer Mr. Cleveland as the candidate over any other man. A majority of the Indians with whom you meet will put it at 90 per cent.

"Indiana will be carried for Cleveland, or for any strong candidate who is a representative of his views. Indiana cannot be carried for any man who has the taint of Cleveland's blood on his hands—who has anything to do with killing off the people's favorite."

Editor Shanklin, who is now canvassing the state for governor, does not hesitate to endorse Cleveland and to assert that Indiana is overwhelmed in favor of Cleveland. So good a politician as Shanklin would not do this if there were any doubt as to the correctness of this view.

NEW JERSEY FOR CLEVELAND.

Representative Cornelius A. Cadmus who is as capable as any other man from New Jersey of speaking of her people, said:

"Mr. Cleveland is stronger in New Jersey than any man outside of New Jersey. He would poll double the majority in New Jersey of any other New York man. I know that many Republicans would vote for him, and I am confident that he would run considerably ahead of the regular party ticket. I think it probable that the New Jersey delegation will be for Cleveland."

HE ALONE CAN CARRY MASSACHUSETTS.

One of the staunchest of New England Democrats, Representative Frederic S. Coolidge, of Massachusetts, said:

"Though many states have favorite sons, Cleveland alone has been seriously considered by the people at large as the next presidential candidate. After preference has been given for their own man it will be again the same old fight between Cleveland and Harrison; tariff reform against high protection; the people against monopoly.

"New England will be a unit for Cleveland at the convention and I believe that he can carry Massachusetts in the election.

"It will be very hard indeed for us to carry Massachusetts with any other candidate."

RHODE ISLAND IN THE SAME BOAT.

Representative Oscar Lapham, of Rhode Island, whose ancestors have been unyielding Democrats since the time of Jefferson, said:

"Our people think that Mr. Cleveland considers the public service of sufficient dignity and importance to be above intrigue, and that it should be administered as a sacred trust wholly for the public good.

"The Democratic party in Rhode Island is largely composed of the sober, industrious and thoughtful laboring classes who are imbued with the principles of traditional Democracy and who recognize in Mr. Cleveland its leading exponent. He can carry Rhode Island I do not whether any other man could carry it."

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Representative S. F. McKinney, of New Hampshire, whose iron-ribbed Democracy has never been questioned, said:

"Four-fifths of the Democrats of New Hampshire are in favor of the nomination of Mr. Cleveland. It is believed that he can carry the state. He is undoubtedly the strongest man in the east, and if he is not nominated no other eastern man will be. The chances are that he will be nominated at Chicago and elected next November."

CONNECTICUT.

Representative Robert E. DeForest, of Connecticut, as good a Democrat and as careful a man as comes from the Nutmeg state, is thus brief and pointed:

"The Democracy of Connecticut is almost unanimously in favor of Mr. Cleveland as the presidential candidate. There is no doubt whatever about his getting the electoral vote of the state. He is now the strongest man in the country and he is getting stronger every day."

ILLINOIS.

In the great northwest Cleveland sentiment is, if possible, even stronger than it is in the east. Representative Scott Winkie, a big-hearted Democrat from Illinois, thus states the situation: "In the country at large Mr. Cleveland will poll a very much larger vote than any other man.

"As with the country, so with Illinois. Cleveland is much stronger in Illinois than any man outside of Illinois. I believe that he can get the electoral vote of Illinois. No other New York man can touch it."

IOWA SOLID FOR CLEVELAND.

Representative Thomas Bowman, one of the strongest young Democrats of Iowa, speaks for his state in these words:

"Governor Horace Boies is much stronger in Iowa than any other man and our state will insist on him as the presidential candidate. Mr. Cleveland is the second choice of nearly every Democrat in the state.

MINNESOTA.

Representative James N. Castle, of Minnesota, an unyielding Democrat, who always has strong opinions and strongly expresses them, thus voices the sentiments of his section:

"In the Northwest any man who opposed Cleveland is politically dead. Many Republicans will support him who would not support any other Democrat. He can get Minnesota's electoral vote; no other New York man can get it. His nomination would give such strength to the party in Minnesota that we could elect an United States senator; a nomination of any other New York man would likely lose us three congressmen.

WOULD MAKE WISCONSIN SAFE.

Representative Thomas Lynch, of Wisconsin, an unwavering Democrat, who is thoroughly posted upon the sentiment in his own state and the great northwest, said:

"Ninety-nine out of one hundred of the Democrats of Wisconsin prefer Mr. Cleveland as the presidential nominee. His nomination would make Minnesota as certain as any state in the south.

NEW YORK WILL FOLLOW SUIT.

Representative Charles F. Tracy, of New York, than whom no man is more thoroughly posted upon the democratic sentiment of that state, speaks for New York in these words:

"I am in constant communication with Democrats from all over the state, and I know that the party, as a whole, feel very kindly towards Mr. Cleveland. He has taken no part in the recent fights in which bitterness has been engendered; he has shown no dissensions in the party ranks, and the people have absolutely no reason to oppose him.

"Even if some of the party regulars should go against him, their numbers would be more than offset by gains from the independents and the Republicans. Considering all the circumstances that can be considered, I am of the firmly fixed opinion that Mr. Cleveland is the best man with whom to carry New York that can be nominated."

SUPERIORITY. Not Equality, but true Superiority over all other Blood Remedies.

Mercury enters the composition of many blood medicines, while with others iodide of potash is the principal ingredient. Both these substances are poisons, and while in some instances they lessen the severity of the ravages of blood poison, their use in the end are more harmful than otherwise. Bear in mind Dr. John Bull's Sarsaparilla is strictly a vegetable compound, yet its effect on blood filled with poisonous germ matter is like water on the forked tongues of a flaming fire. It subdues the evil instantly, even when other medicines have failed. Again, Bull's Sarsaparilla is frequently used by the system has become poisoned by the use of mercury and potash. It quickly eliminates these mineral poisons from the system, thus preventing and curing mercurial rheumatism, potash sores, etc. In all syphilitic and scrofulous affections, Bull's Sarsaparilla is a true panacea. The sequelae of blood poison, such as salt rheum, eczema, king's evil, scald head, boils, carbuncles, itch, sores, rheumatism, neuralgia, etc., all permanently disappear if the use of Bull's Sarsaparilla is continued a sufficient length of time.

MERCURY

W. A. Smith, Paducah, Ky., writes: "I was down sick with malarial fever for over a month. The doctor gave me too much calomel and mercury, and when I began to get better rheumatism set in, and my left leg was made crooked. I thought I would be a cripple for life, but an acquaintance got me to use Bull's Sarsaparilla, which gave me strength and cured my rheumatism, and now my leg is nearly straight again and I walk on it very easily."

AND POTASH.

R. B. Walton, Cairo, Ill., writes: "I experienced the horrors of blood poison for four long years. I had three running sores on my body as large as my hand that would never heal, and over a dozen smaller ones. My hair and eyebrows and whiskers all came out and I looked like a perfect scarecrow. I became discouraged trying medicine, but as a last hope tried Bull's Sarsaparilla. The use of 25 bottles made me well, but there are scars on my body that look like they had been burns."

Children like Dr. John Bull's Worm Destroyer. They taste good and never fail to remove worms if there are any. Price 25 cents. Try them.

The demand for Smith's Tonic Syrup is unequalled by any other child medicine made. My sales are immense." F. J. Dreher, Leetsburg, Ill.
