THE HOUSE OF MORNING.

Occasional Writes on the Death of His Friends.

Mr. Editor.

Was you ever in the house of mourning? Was you ever in the midst of a family circle that had been invaded by the angel of death? Was you ever present when the shining lights of the domestic circle had gone out forever? If not then you are in no condition to sympathize with me, and mingle your tears with mine over such sad disaster. But a short time ago the members of the household of Mr. and Mrs. Nelse Steed were permitted to assemble around the hearthstone and while away the hours in pleasant conversation—only a short time ago two promising young sons with the imprint of health and longevity plainly depicted on their faces, made their kind and good parents happy—only a short time ago the Sunday school and church could boast of two young christian men faithful and punctual in the discharge of their christian duties. But how is it now? That home is made desolate—Gloom and despondency overshadow the premises like a dark and sombre cloud. The father and mother are bowed down in grief and sorrow—The mother, like Rachel of old, whose children were taken from her is weeping and mourning for her boys and will not be comforted, because they are not. None but those who have passed through a similar ordeal can realize its awful consequences—Eaf and Hugh Steed are gone forever. The place that knew them once will know them no more forever. Never again will they be permitted to throw their arms around their loving mother's neck until they meet in their Father's Kingdom. No more will they be permitted to sit in the East Waco Baptist church and listen to the warning voice of their beloved pastor. No. No. They can never come to us, but, as Solomon said when his beloved child passed away, "We can go to them. Friends let us prepare ourselves to meet them in that higher and better Kingdom where partings are unknown."

LETTER FROM HEWITT.

A Thriving and Prosperous Little Village.

HEWITT, April 19.—We notice your paper has correspondents from many towns. We also would like to be heard. Besides being in the most beautiful part of the county, Hewitt has a store just completed that would be a credit to any village. We think Dr. Womaok showed good business judgement in locating here. His genial nature must make it a success, as he gets acquainted with our people who can but appreciate the advantages of a general store.

The beautiful two-story house of Deacon Kellogg is near completion.

The Literary Society is prospering to a degree, Ervin Warren being president.

We have preaching twice a month and a Sunday-school of 75 members, with L. P. Rugg superintendent.

Crops are looking well, and with seasonable rains will be abundant.

Mrs. Anna Warren, of Vernon, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Barnes, and many friends. She returned home this week, and looks as lovely as ever.

ON THE WAR PATH.

Kemendo Fires Four Shots at Belliano at Close Range But no Damage Done.

Shortly after dark last night four pistol shots, in quick succession, were fired at the corner of Franklin and Fifth streets which caused a general rush to that locality, where Christanze Kemendo was seen standing with a bright 38 calibre Smith and Wesson pistol in his hand.

Deputy Sheriff Lee Jenkins was promptly on the scene, took the weapon from him, placed him under arrest and marched him off to the sheriff's office, followed by a large crowd anxious to know all about the matter, but the prisoner would say nothing.

After being taken to the sheriff's office, and the door locked to keep out the crowd, Kemendo stated that he had fired at Ciro Belliano, a former employe of the firm of Tripis & Kemendo, with whom he had had some trouble.

When the shooting commenced Belliano made tracks for cooler quarters and it was not known whether he was hurt or not. A man was sent out to find the assaulted party to ascertain the extent of his wounds if wounded at all. He was soon found and proved to be safe and sound, none of the bullets having struck him.

Kemendo was then admitted to bail in the sum of $500, under the charge of assault with intent to murder. After making his bond, which was soon done, he talked more freely and stated to a News reporter that he met Ciro Belliano on the corner of Franklin and Fifth streets and asked him about something he had said about himself and Paul Daura. Belliano replied to him by calling him vile names and he shot at him. I was in front of Crippin's meat market when I fired the four shots and about ten feet from Belliano. Belliano was discharged several days ago by Tripis & Kemendo and has ever since been talking about me.

The reporter next hunted up Ciro Belliano and found him at his residence at the corner of South Sixth and Mary streets. Not being able to speak English his little son acted as interpreter. He stated that he had been working for Tripis & Kemendo and had had a falling out with Paul Daura and had quit the firm. He went into Crippin's meat market to buy some beef and as he came out he met Kemendo who asked him where he was going. He told Kemendo he was going about his business. Kemendo immediately pulled his pistol and commenced firing and I stepped behind a wagon about ten feet away. I then went up the street and came home. Paul Daura, and several others whom I did not recognize, were with Kemendo when he shot at me.

It is thought by many that Kemendo did not intend to kill Belliano or he could hardly missed him every shot, being only ten feet away. Some of his friends last night laughingly told him that his only object was to gain the reputation of being a "shoot-est."

THIS IS PRETTY GOOD!

Mr. John C. Goodwin, a carpenter of Danville, Ill., writes: "About two weeks ago a heavy saw log fell upon my foot very badly crushing it. I sent for a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment and kept my foot well saturated with it. It is now two weeks since this happened, and my foot is nearly well and I am at work. Had I not used Snow Liniment I should have been laid up at least two months. For healing wounds, sprains, sores and bruises it has no equal. No inflammation can exist where Snow Liniment is used. "You can use this letter."

Beware of all white liniments substituted for Snow Liniment. There is no other Liniment like Ballard's Snow Liniment. Sold by H. C. Risher & Co.
