Waco Daily News.

TO ADVERTISERS.

The News will take advertising with the understanding that if it has not a larger local circulation than any daily paper published in Waco, no charge will be made for the advertisement.

The demonstrations gotten up for Hogg at Wills Point will have more favorable effect than his speech.

SOME THINGS FORGOTTEN.

Governor Hogg forgot to mention the name of Chilton in his Wills Point speech or tell why he appointed that young man to fill Senator Reagan's place before Reagan had vacated. He did not say what kind of an alien land law he favored or give any reason for signing a headless measure containing all the features of robbery. He failed to tell why he did not post himself on his constitutional duties. He defended his action in recommending a loan of the sacred school funds to railroad companies in his speech delivered in type written copy to the papers but failed to mention the subject when he stood before the hurrah crowd. Senator Mills' name is always an interesting name to mention and never has failed to arouse enthusiasm wherever called but notwithstanding the fact that Governor Hogg has been charged with making a strong effort to defeat him for the senate and is expected to continue that effort in a quiet way, he never mentioned Mill's name at all. He failed to explain his connection with the International railroad in his deliverance to the qurrah crowd, although in his printed speech he says he was led to intervene and break up the stockholders meeting at Palestine by his knowledge obtained from the railroads, of the fraudulent character of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas stock and learned of the proposed meeting through the official advertisement of the company. He failed to say a word, either of mouth or of type-writer, about his Sabbath interview with Jay Gould's attorney in Austin, his instructions to that attorney to get some good citizen of Tyler to write him telling about the facts, which the said Jay Gould attorney had just so eloquently related, and of the feigned surprise of himself when he received that letter written by the aforesaid, attorney and copied by Mr. Brown, of Tyler. These are facts which were sworn to by credible witnesses in the International investigation and have never been controverted. His excellency was very eloquent on the type-writer on the subject of enforcement of the law speaking in a general way but he failed to state even there why he officiously meddled with the execution of the law by the local authorities in several instances, and entirely failed to notice the subject while speaking with his mouth at Wills Point. These are a few things Hogg has seemingly forgotten, but the people remember them well.

The printed speech of Gov. Hogg is couched in very pretty language, and contains phrases to which Gov. Hogg is an utter stranger.

That there is an effort being made to organize this state against Mills is a settled fact. When congress adjourns we will see what we shall see.

The board of trade address, published elsewhere is an important document and should be read and responded to by every enterprising citizen of the city. The board of trade is an absolute necessity and must be encouraged to do the good intended.

To Subscribers. I have called on most of you since the 1st and some more than once. I am sure if you will give the matter a little thought you will not compel me to make many calls for the small amount of your subscription. If you still owe for this month please pay at office or leave the money at the house and oblige

IT SAVED HIS LIFE.

What Padgett's Hot Baths Did for a New Yorker.

Waco, Texas, April 14, 1892. Tom Padgett, Esq.; Dear Sir.—I arrived in your city last November with inflammatory rheumatism, my lungs also being affected with rheumatic fever. I was given up to die and sent to Texas to prolong my life. Hearing of the benefits derived from the artesian baths in your natatorium, I went through a course of twenty-one baths. Before I undertook to take the baths I weighed 106 pounds, was very sick, with a poor appetite. After the tenth bath I could eat four good meals every day. I weigh today 123 pound, am in the best of health and will start for New York June, thanking you and all the people in Waco for the benefit I derived in your city since I have been here. Very respectfully, JAMES GREEHY.

Mascott Saloon.

317 Franklin. Fine Wines and Liquors. A place to enjoy the luxuries of one of the finest saloons in the city. Come one, come all, where the finest whiskies will be served. J. W. FOGARTY, Proprietor.

Tom Padgett bought the entire stock of huggies and carriages at the S. A. Owens & Son, United States Marshal's sale at almost nothing. A large number of them have been sold but he has still a few on hand which he offers still at remarkably low prices. It is a chance for a person of small means to buy a nice buggy and enable his wife to put on style over her less fortunate neighbors.

If you would be well dressed give your orders to the Gabert Bros., the leading tailors. They carry the biggest stock of new spring goods in Central Texas, and have all the latest styles.

Ben Garland desires to inform his friends that he will be pleased to see them at the new carriage house.
