Touching Pianos and Organs.

I claim to be a cheap house, but unlike some of my competitors, I do sell goods that are not first-class. Still I have more first-class goods in my house than any house in Waco, and I do not have to wire anyone to know the lowest price. I can sell a piano like every other first-class house and keep all kinds, both cheap, medium and first class. But unlike some other houses I do not sell a cheap instrument as first-class, because I am my own boss, and do not have to do as I am told about these things. Neither have I as delicate a musical ear as some, still I sell more pianos and organs, better ones and for less money than any house in Waco notwithstanding the fact that I am not the oldest house in the state and have sold sewing machines and do trade for mules, horses and cattle and take them at good prices and sell goods at cash prices and will meet any competitors. Come and see me.
 Yours truly,

GEN. HENRY E. McCULLOCH

DENIES THAT HOGG TRIED TO PROSELYTE HIM.

Says the Administration is Dictatorial and Undemocratic and in the Interest of Personal Friends.

GALVESTON, April 26.—The following letter from Gen. Henry E. McCulloch appeared in the Galveston News yesterday morning:

AUSTIN, Tex., April 25.—[To the News]—Your Dallas correspondent says in your issue of the 20th, "There has been a rumor in Dallas to the effect that Gen. McCulloch had been tendered the influence of Governor Hogg and of the administration to secure for him (McCulloch) the nomination of state treasurer and that Gen. McCulloch would probably avail himself of the opportunity thus presented." There is no foundation whatever for any such rumor. Neither Gov. Hogg nor any one of his party has made any overtures to me in any manner whatever. I think that he, with every respectable supporter of his, knows me too well to believe for a moment that I am purchasable stuff. In an interview with Governor Hogg he expressed a good deal of personal regret that I should have left the organized Democratic party, which he said I "had served so long and efficiently," and identified myself with our independent party, and while I give him credit for sincerity he certainly did not even intimate that he expected me to make any change for any consideration. I have been fighting his administration from principle too long and too earnestly to change unless it had radically changed. I have regarded it as dictatorial and undemocratic, inaugurated and administered in the interest of his personal and political friends for selfish purposes without that high regard for the interest of the people that patriotism and true statesmanship would have suggested.

Judge Clark is my personal friend, and as early as the 9th of last month I had occasion to say to him, in a letter over my signature, "I can only say that I very much regret that I differ with you so much on national and state policy that I cannot give you my cordial support. While your canvass may be purely upon local state issues, it will have such an influence, if successful, upon national issues that the people will call for an expression of them and will consider them in casting their votes as between you and some man who entertains views more in accord with theirs," and I do not think I could have said more plainly to a friend that I would not support him and was looking for some other man to support.

In this campaign I am trying to be governed by what I regard as the best interests of our country, regardless of prejudices or friendships, and as I honestly believe the principles and policies of the independent party now being organized represent them more fully than any other, I have adopted them and will be found with them, whether in victory or defeat.

 HENRY E. McCULLOCH.

AN ELK'S BENEFIT.

A Grand Entertainment to be Given Soon.

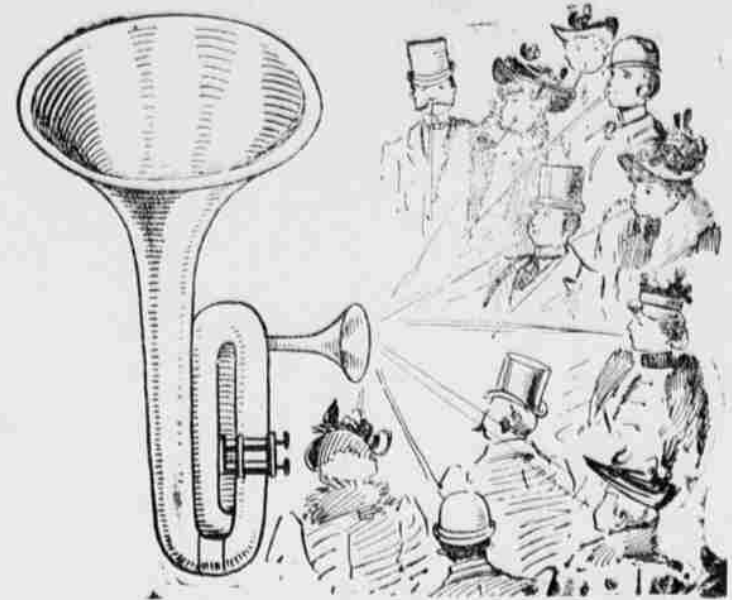

A movement has been on foot for some time among the members of Waco Lodge of Elks, to prepare an entertainment for their benefit. It culminated yesterday in an arrangement between a committee of Elks and the Histrionics, for a performance to be given at Garland opera house on the night of May 10. This will be the first day of the bankers' convention, and the Elks expect to fill the house to overflowing.

The Elks have, during the past season, given to their friends in Waco some of the most elegant and costly entertainments ever enjoyed here; they have made their luxurious club rooms the scene of more enjoyment and pleasure than is usually observed in a city like this, and they do not fear but that their friends will be willing and ready to return these courtesies by giving them a house that will go down to history as the largest in point of numbers, the most remarkable in point of elegance and the greatest success in point of enjoyment. It will be a society event that will fittingly close both the theatrical and social season.

The Histrionics will present "The Merchant of Venice," and every member of the company will appear in costumes made in St. Louis specially for the occasion.

The Waco Wheelmen meet tomorrow night at the city hall. A full attendance is desired.

In addition our prices shall be in accord with your views.

STARVING RUSSIANS.

A NEWSPAPER CORRESPONDENT'S DESCRIPTION OF SUFFERING

In Kazan—Over 1,000,000 People Starving—Killing Horses for Food Situation not Discrifiable.

By Associated Press to The News:

LONDON, April 26.—Special correspondent Reuters of the telegram company who is traveling in the famine districts of Russia, writes from Kazan, under date April 3 as follows: The province of Kazan has a population of 2,100,000. Of this total about 300,000 represent independent population, leaving 1,800,000 of whom Zemstev is feeding. An epidemic of typhoid fever is raging. Peasants are being brought in cart loads. Hospitals are full, in all directions most horrible sights meet the eye. Young women brought into town in a state of nudity except for some scraps of matting that were thrown over them in the cart. The destitution is something terrible and the streets are filled with beggars. The question that is giving most uneasiness at present is the supply of horses. Tartars have eaten theirs and horses of other peasantry have mostly been killed for hides. The government is going to grant 10,000 horses to the province, but that will do very little good. The situation in Kazan at present is beyond description.

Mayor's Court.

The mayor's court room at the city hall was well filled this morning to witness the celebrated case of the city of Waco vs. Jim Clay and L. Hough, charged with fighting together last Sunday at Padgitt's park—as boys sometimes do. The defendants both pleaded not guilty and the large array of witnesses sworn and placed under the rule. Clay was represented by Capt. T. A. Blair, who after having examined a number of witnesses withdrew the plea of not guilty for his client and stated that he thought the evidence disclosed the guilt of both and asked the leniency of the court for the reason that they were only boys and as boys will do, had had a little scrap in which neither of the young belligerents were hurt.

The evidence showing that Clay was slightly the aggressor and was fined $250. Hough was declared not guilty.

John Brimingham was the next defendant called, also charged with fighting. His face showed that he had been badly beaten up, impressing one with the belief that he had already been severely punished. He stated that he had been sick in bed ever since the fight and had not had a chance to get his witnesses summoned. His case was reset for next Tuesday morning.

George Crippen pleaded guilty by proxy to discharging firearms and was fined $250. A vicious dog ran out in the street and frightened his horse and George fired a shot at him. Had he killed the worthless cur he would have had the thanks of many.

Favotte Buchanan was fined $250 for cursing and swearing.

Several other cases were continued for various causes.

Ben Garland desires to inform his friends that he will be pleased to see them at the new carriage house.
