AN ORDINANCE.

An Ordinance to Amend Article 584 of the Digest of Cit, Ordinances of the City of Waco.

Be it ordained by the city council of the city of Waco:

Section 1. That article 584 of the Digest of the city ordinances of the city of Waco shall be so amended as to read as follows: Whoever in this city shall on Sunday sell, offer for sale, give away, or in any other manner dispose of any spirituous, vinous, or other intoxicating liquors, or shall keep open the doors of any barroom, saloon, or other house or place where any such liquors are kept or sold, or shall play at any game of billiards, pool, bagatelle, jenny lind, pigeon hole, base ball or any other game of chance, at which anything of value is lost or won, or shall be engaged in running any horse race, or shall engage in match shooting, or shall discharge any fire arms at or in any gun shop or shooting gallery, or shall on Sunday march in any procession, or otherwise, with music, through the streets or other public places, or shall play on any musical instrument in any public place so as to disturb the peace and quiet of others, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than twenty nor more than fifty dollars; provided, that so much of this article as refers to processions and music shall not apply to funeral processions nor to cases where the mayor shall have given written permission.

Sec. 2. That this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage. Passed October 15, 1891.

Note—The foregoing ordinance, not having been signed by the mayor nor returned to the council with his objections thereto within three days after its passage, thereupon became a law without his signature.

JONEY JONES, City Secretary.

Wonder Worker.

Mr. Frank Huffman, a young man of Burlington, Ohio, states that he had been under the care of two prominent physicians, and used their treatment until he was not able to get around. They pronounced his case to be Consumption and incurable. He was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds and at that time was not able to walk across the street without resting. He found, before he had used half of a dollar bottle, that he was much better; he continued to use it and is today enjoying good health. If you have any Throat, Lung or Chest trouble try it. We guarantee satisfaction. Trial bottle free at W. B. Morrison & Co., drug store.

The Behr.

The latest addition to our stock of strictly first class pianos, is the Behr Bros, an instrument with a tone that is orchestral, yet possessing all the delicate sweetness of a lute—with Steinway, Weber, Emerson, Chickering, Ivers & Powl and B-hr. Our hungry musical soul can leave our ore unsatisfied.

THOS. GOGGAN & BRO.

I CURE FITS!

When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again. I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed in no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. AN ERRATIC COMET

It is Visible at 3.30 O'clock a. m. in the East.

IT HAS EIGHT AND A HALF TAILS

And Goes Where and When It Pleases—Get Up and See It in the East just Above the Horizon.

If you happen to be astir at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow morning and find the sky clear and without any noticeable haze you will do well to get up on some high place and look toward the eastern horizon. The constellation Pegasus will be just clear of the horizon and you will make out its four bright stars in a trapezium several larger than the bowl of the Great Dipper. Near the uppermost star you will make out a small comet, which if looked at with a pair of strong opera glasses, will show several tails. This is Swift's comet, named from Prof. Swift, of Rochester, who discovered it several months ago. And it has one peculiarity which deserves attention and should make it interesting even to scientific eyes.

This comet does not belong to our system, and in all probability never before saw our sun or our planets in all the countless years of its existence. A few months ago it was journeying leisurely through space, jogging along with no particular business on hand. Our system hove in sight on its horizon, and thanks to the law of gravitation, our sun compelled it to pay us a visit and show us its peculiarities.

But it came upon our system in such a way that it can never come again. For it showed plainly that it disapproved of being dragged into making this visit at all, and passed around the sun as far away as possible following a route which would insure its never coming hereafter. Mr. Swift was the first to catch sight of the fretful wanderer, and then Prof. Barnard of the Lick Observatory made some photographs showing what a freak it was.

These photographs have eight tails. This is more than the six-tailed comet of 1744, which was the most profusely decorated comet before this one. Some of these tails are straight, showing them to be of hydrogen or some other light substance, while others are curved like a comet, showing them to be of heavier substance. All these things have been seen before, however. What makes this comet such a freak is the fact that from one of its tails, a long way out from the head, a smaller tail shoots away at a sharp angle.

Now it is easy enough to explain straight tails and curved tails, but no one has yet come forward with a theory which will explain this tail that leaves a tail. Just where this twig, as it were, leaves the branch there is a kind of knot something like the head of another and smaller comet, although it is certainly not that.

Whatever may be the explanation of the mystery, the visitor is exceedingly interesting. We are rather blasé on the subject of comets. All sorts of comets have come to see us, and several have come and liked it so well that they have stayed. We have passed through the tail of a comet, and we have found out that even if one struck us full tilt, we would suffer no inconvenience. Now, along comes this fellow with his tail that sends out a tail just to let everybody know that comets are not so easy after all.

This wanderer having passed around the sun is now on his way into the utmost depths of space, leaving wonder and amazement in scientific minds. While he was passing around the sun, he of course got up a very lively rate of speed, several hundred miles a second. But now that he is safely away from that fiery attraction, he is taking things a good deal easier, although he is still going at a pretty good gait, perhaps fifty miles a second.

A man who was talking about comets the other day was saying what a queer thing it would be if some one who away off in the outskirts of the solar system was to have a comet pass his door going slow and easy because so far away from the sun. And suppose this man were to step aboard for a jaunt through space. His comet would gradually go faster and faster as it got near the sun, until it would get up a speed of say 300 miles a second; and finally, as it was passing around, just shaving the great shooting flames that dart hundreds of thousands of miles into space from the sun's surface, his comet would be going at the rate of 500 miles or so a second. "Now," said the man, "think how this traveler would look sitting there with his hair standing straight out behind and his teeth shut to keep his heart from jumping out and his hand clutching the comet. There would be rapid transit."

COPYRIGHT 1890

A building up of the entire system follows the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It's an invigorating, restorative tonic, soothing cordial and bracing nerve—and a certain remedy for all the functional derangements, painful disorders or chronic weaknesses peculiar to women. It improves digestion, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, melancholy and nervousness, brings refreshing sleep, and restores flesh and strength. For periodical pains, internal inflammation and ulceration, leucorrhoea and kindred ailments, it is a positive specific—a guaranteed one. If it fails to give satisfaction, in any case, the money paid for it is refunded. No other medicine for women is sold on these terms. With an ordinary medicine, it can't be done.

That's the way its makers prove their faith in it. Contains no alcohol to inebriate; no syrup or sugar to derange digestion; a legitimate medicine, not a beverage. Purely vegetable and perfectly harmless in any condition of the system. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Proprietors, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SARSAPARILLA.

Isn't one Sarsaparilla as good as another? No! No!! No!!!

Don't think it. Don't for a moment think it. If you want Bull's Sarsaparilla, demand it and take no other. It contains ingredients that are not found in any other sarsaparilla. These very ingredients that make it different from other sarsaparillas are the most important. In fact, essential to its curative virtue. Omit them and Bull's Sarsaparilla would be as inert as the many inferior preparations of sarsaparilla found in many drug stores. Bull's Sarsaparilla contains no important ingredient. Each ingredient used is chosen for its beneficial effect upon the human system. Combined, they exert a harmonizing influence upon every function of the body, improving digestion, strengthening the liver and kidneys, cleansing the blood of poisonous matter, soothing the nervous system, enlivening the mental faculties, and in a word, by infusing new strength and life, completely rejuvenates every part and makes one feel altogether like a new person.

SARSAPARILLA

Elmer Hodson, Alvaretto, Tex., writes: "My strength and health had been failing me for several years. My blood was in a very impoverished condition and very impure. My limbs felt lame, rickety and rheumatic, and I could not walk without tottering. I felt myself growing prematurely old, and my face began to look pinched and shriveled. I suffered considerably, and growing very melancholy. My eyes were sore and I had catarrh. I tried many tonics and bitters and blood purifiers, but failed to get better. I finally bought six bottles of Bull's Sarsaparilla, and before I had used it all I felt like another man. My strength and health improved, pimples and sores disappeared from my person, aches and stiff joints left me, and I consider myself a well person."

IS THE BEST!

bought six bottles of Bull's Sarsaparilla, and before I had used it all I felt like another man. My strength and health improved, pimples and sores disappeared from my person, aches and stiff joints left me, and I consider myself a well person."

There is no other remedy so pleasant to take and so sure in its effect as Dr. Bull's Worm Destroyers. Price 25 cents.

There is one chill remedy whose effect is a certainty. It has been tested in many thousands severe cases and never known to fail. It is called Smith's Tonic Syrup. Take no other.
