STATE NEWS.

—The West Texas Teacher's Association convened at Flatonia Saturday with about 40 teachers present.

—It is stated that the Fort Worth Iron Works will engage in the manufacture of a newly patented ice making machine.

—Five houses were burned at 12 Monday night in Dallas just in time to be added to the unparalleled August record.

—The city council of Elgin has authorized the mayor to advertise for proposals for building a water system to supply the city.

—The Corsicana cotton compress plant has been bought for $70,000 by P. H. Wood and J. H. Brown, who will put it in operation.

—A large force of mechanics are at work on the new Baptist church at Abilene. The building will be completed about the middle of November.

—A waterworks company has been organized at Hondo City, with a capital stock of $5000. They will commence work on a well and tank at once.

—J. E. Nebras, an Italian barber, was found dead Monday on the streets of Mexia. The coroner's verdict was that he came to his death by hard drinking.

—Owen McGowen is under arrest at Millican on suspicion of having killed Mr. Cullen Knox. The sheriff carried the prisoner to Palestine during the trial, and an indignation meeting was held and resolutions adopted asking the sheriff to produce the prisoner.

—Jno. Jauner of San Antonio, was robbed by three men. One held a knife against his throat while the other two went through his house getting considerable money. When he heard it jingling he endeavored to rise, and the man who held the knife cut him very badly.

—Deputy Marshal Landy Folsom passed through Denison Monday, having in charge two men charged with burning a gin in Chickasaw Nation. The parties were captured after a long chase, in which one horse was killed and one man slightly injured by coming in contact with a barbed wire fence.

—Joe Blain killed Clark Barber at Logan's saloon in Gonzales Monday evening by shooting him twice with a six shooter. Barber was unarmed. Ten shots went into the floor. Blain has served a term in the penitentiary and has only been out about a year. He was shot at about a month ago. Blain was arrested and is in jail.

—N. O. McLeary of Medina county went to San Antonio, was fleeced of $200 in a gambling house, squealed and arrests followed. One of the parties threatened to make a sieve of McLeary, the other invited detective Thomas Hughes to step outside and indulge in a little gun practice, but the bluff won't work as the officer signified a willingness to accommodate him.

—William Hayes, a lad of 17 years of age, was beating his way on the Houston and Texas Central railway. At a water tank, seven miles south of McKinney, he crawled under the cars to avoid notice, but in getting out was too slow and the wheels ran over his heel and cut it off. He was brought to McKinney and cared for. He claims his relatives in Chicago are wealthy and that he is a relative of ex-President Hayes. His statement is corroborated by circumstances and papers.

—As the time is near at hand when the farmer will house his corn, we will state for the benefit of all that before housing, put a few armfuls vermicore weed in the bottom of your cribs, something that grows on almost every farm in the county, and by so doing you will clear your corn of weevils. "Don't say, 'Well, I don't believe it.' Try it, as we have done. It don't cost anything. If it will, and you know it does, expel vermin from the human stomach, why not from corn. And a few leaves of it will drive worms from cabbage. Place a few leaves on each plant and try it.—Greenville Herald.

A Planter's Experience.
"My plantation is in a malarial district, where fever and ague prevailed. I employ 150 hands; frequently half of them were sick. I was nearly discouraged when I began the use of

Tutt's Pills
The result was marvellous. My men became strong and hearty, and I have had no further trouble. With these pills, I would not fear to live in any swamp." E. RIVAL, Bayou Sara, La.

A man's character is what he makes it, and no man can soil or damage it. A man's character is known only to himself and his God, but his reputation is the common property of the public, and few reputations get absolute justice at the hands of the public.

Due to Near Sightedness
"My social blunders," said a near sighted woman recently, "would fill a book. Not long ago at an evening reception my hostess presented me to a lady whom, having heard of before, I was specially pleased to know. We talked together some time, and then drifted apart. Later, in another room, I saw standing near me a guest whose features I thought I recognized, but whose identity I could not place. As she was disengaged, I approached her in my blind way and said, 'Your face is very familiar to me; where have I met you before?' Imagine my consternation when she replied promptly and with a justifiable curtness, 'Fifteen minutes ago in the front drawing room.' She was my just acquired acquaintance."—Her Point of View in New York Times.

How Coreans Wear Their Hair.
The Corean wears his hair plaited down his back, it being considered unholy to cut it or to even wear it loosely around the neck and shoulders. After he gets married, and not before, the law permits him to wear it curled up on top of his head. To tell a married Corean that he had ought to wear his hair down is equivalent to telling him that his wife is the better man of the two.—St. Louis Republic.

A Disfigured Countenance.
Many people who would scarcely notice an armless or legless man will instantly detect and remark on any blemish of the human face and dive into all sorts of speculations as to its cause and attendant circumstances. If you doubt this assertion become possessed of a discolored optic and note how much attention it will invite. A black eye is generally available, but blotches, pimples and other scrofulous and eruptive marks stand upon us without warning and are frequently the first intimation of the fact that our blood is going wrong. A prompt and systematic use of P. P. P. (Frickley Ash, Poke Root and Potassium) will purify the blood, cleanse the skin and give back to the face nature's familiar, ruddy signs of health. Get it of your druggist.

Pluck and plod, mingled with tact and talent, backed by a laudable desire to excel succeeds almost as well as success itself.

The Greatest Strike.
Among the great strikes, that of Dr. Miles in discovering his New Heart Cure has proven itself to be one of the most important. The demand for it has become astonishing. Already the treatment of heart disease is being revolutionized, and many unexpected cures effected. It soon relieves short breath, fluttering, pains in side, arm, shoulder, weak and hungry spells, oppression, swelling of ankles, smothering and heart dropsy.
