Result of William's Visit.

St. Petersburg, July 27.—The Journal de St. Petersburg says: "If Emperor William's friendly visit to Russia arose from a desire to establish relations based upon mutual trust of a nature to consolidate the friendship between the two countries, and to strengthen the confidence in European peace, this end has been attained for long years to come."

Danville, Va., July 27.—In Halifax county, near Meadesville, yesterday, Bruce Younger, colored, committed an assault upon Mrs. Robert Dodge, who was in a delicate condition. He was arrested and sent to jail at Halifax court house. Last night a party of men took Younger to a neighboring wood and hanged him to a tree.

Arthur, the physician who examined the victim, was conclusive, and the defendant was bound over in bond of $10,000. He was unable to give the bond and was remanded to jail.

Wreck and Death.

Gainesville, July 27.—There was a wreck on the Santa Fe at Justin, ten miles south of this place, last night. The trucks on one of the freight cars gave way and ten cars rolled into a ditch. J. M. Knox, a young man who was making his way over the road, jumped or fell off and was horribly mangled. Knox's remains were shipped to-day to relatives in Parsons, Kas.

A Bloody Fight.

Palestine, July 27.—Ex-City Marshal, Chris Rogers, was stabbed and mortally wounded by Billy Young, an engineer on the International and Great Northern railroad at 4:30 this evening. It was not known that any quarrel existed between them and the cause of the killing is not known. Rogers is dead and Young is under arrest.

The President's Party.

New York, July 27.—The yacht Susquehanna, with the president and party aboard, was anchored off Surf Hotel, Fire Island, at 10 o'clock this morning. J. B. GILMER & Co.,

Franklin street is showing commendable signs of progress, and the Brunswick Hotel is leading the procession and will soon be one of the leading hotels of the city, as Mrs. Ed White has taken charge, she being a lady of vast experience in the hotel business.

When a railroad connection with the Aransas Pass was first in negotiation the original proposition was that the city of Waco was to give depot grounds, the right-of-way and twenty thousand dollars in cash. This was not consummated and then the building of the road by a stock company was undertaken. This fell through and led to negotiations by which an agreement was made between the committee of fifteen and Mr. Cameron, the one to grade the road for the fifty thousand subscribed and between the Aransas Pass and Mr. Cameron that that road was to give Mr. Cameron $150,000 in first mortgage bonds. This arrangement fell through because a provision against consolidation of roads in the constitution interfered. Then the old original proposition was offered Mr. Lott. Mr. Lott demands that Waco give bond to secure right-of-way. Mr. Cameron wrote Mr. Lott yesterday that Waco would not give bond but would turn over the bonus and guarantee that right-of-way would not cost more than $10,000 and there it is. No answer has yet been received.

The Dance Went on.

Gainesville July 27.—There was a big dance going on at a picnic near Caddo Indian Territory when a difficulty arose between Julius Hampton and a man by the name of Empton. Pistols were drawn, and Empton was shot dead. He was calmly lifted into a wagon standing near by, a blanket thrown over him and the dance went on as smoothly as if nothing had happened to disturb the pleasure of the crowd.

Wary of Life.

Rousing Them Up.

Decatur, Ill., July 27.—Rev. J. G. Jourdon, the colored prohibitionist from Texas, spoke at the National Camp-meeting to-night, uttering sentiments that are resented by the colored people. Rev. Jourdon is the negro who got use of the African Methodist church at Springfield before coming to Decatur, where he said he was only going to talk on temperance. He devoted his remarks to abuse of the Republican party, saying it had never done anything for the colored race, and further, that he thought the colored race should vote either the Democratic or prohibition ticket. One colored woman in the audience was so indignant that she said she would give $20 for the privilege of horse-whipping the stranger who would attempt to mislead her race. Rev. Jourdon gave utterance to the same sentiments here, and got into discussion to-day with a soldier prohibitionist, who will now vote the Republican ticket.

Judge Lynch.

Wahpeton, Dak. July 27.—The body of L. S. Elmer, who so cruelly murdered pretty Mary Kerbel, hangs suspended from a bridge over Boies De Sioux river. A masked mob of 100 determined men overpowered Sheriff Miller and deputy and broke through the cages and took the murderer out. The sheriff offered all the physical resistance his 260 pounds afforded, but did not attempt to shoot or fight, because the mob were all his friends, and he said the life of a murderer was not worth the life of a friend. After the hanging the mob quietly dispersed.

Jim Blaine to Take the Stump.

New York, July 27.—There will be two James G. Blaines on the stump, but not until autumn. James G. Blaine, Jr., is spending July at Seabright. He said to your correspondent: "Father will make several speeches soon after his return from Europe, probably, but he will not go into the campaign until September. We expect that he will put in two months of hard work for Harrison and Morton. What will be his ora-torial specialty? Protection. That is the issue, you know, and he will devote himself to it."

Fatal Honeymoon.

Warsaw, Ill., July 27.—James B. Reagan, married two weeks ago to Miss Ella Vincent. The wedding was the social event of the season, and as the young couple were very much in love with each other a bright future was predicted. This morning the town was horrified at the news that Reagan had killed himself with a pistol and that his bride was in a death agony from the effects of poison. The story back of the tragedy has not yet come out. Physicians are at work on the woman, and may possibly save her life. It is supposed there was a quarrel.

Shot to Death.

Lufkin, Texas July 27.—Clawson's mills, a colored man named Millard, aged 30 years married, enticed the little 12-year-old daughter of a well known respectable family, into the bushes near her father's house, and violently assaulted her and by threats made her promise not to tell the facts but on her return home she informed her mother. The news spread rapidly and soon after his capture some 200 determined men gathered together and in open daylight unmasked heard the confession of the scoundrel allowed him time to pray, then suspended him by the neck, filing his body with hundreds of bullet holes.

Died With his sweetheart.

Texarkana Ark., July 27.—Chappel place ten miles distant on Red river. Peter Walker and May Whitney both colored wanted to marry, but the girl's parents objected. Last night they eloped and started across the Red river to an adjoining county to get married, and when about two-thirds of the distance had been navigated the skiff was overturned. They cried lustily for help but before it could reach them it was too late. The boy was a good swimmer and could have easily reached the shore but he stayed with his sweetheart and they went down together.
