DR. KING'S

Royal Germeteur,

THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY.

Dr. King, of Royal Germeteur notoriety, assisted by Rev. D. P. Haggard, manager of agencies, were in the city this week, and we understand that while here they disposed of five states. This new medicine is still attracting much attention here and some of our best business men are taking hold of it.—Marlin Ball.

Mr. A. W. Foster received over 200 gallons of royal Germeteur one day this week. He says he has sold as much as 14 gallons in one day.—Marlin Ball.

When you come to Marlin don't fail to ask some of your friends who have been using Dr. King's Royal Germeteur what they think of it.—Marlin Ball.

We believe everyone who has taken Royal Germeteur is pleased with it, and it is certainly performing some wonderful cures.—Marlin Ball.

Royal Germeteur is still selling rapidly, and those suffering should not fail to use it, as it has ceased to be an experiment.—Marlin Ball.

Small Pox Spreading in Galveston.

GALVESTON, Jan. 25.—There are now several well developed cases of small pox in this city under treatment. All are isolated from the first case reported two weeks ago. All persons afflicted are negroes, and every precaution is taken to prevent the spread of the loathsome disease, and vaccination is the order of the day. Quite a scare was created this morning when it became known that a large quantity of clothing had been sent out to various families in the city who have their washing done at a recently infected family. An application will be made to the board of health immediately for two colored physicians, who will be quarantined with the recent developed cases which are remote from the first case discovered. Grave apprehension exist that the disease will become epidemic, regardless of the precaution to prevent its spread, owing to the condition of the weather, which is favorable to its propagation.

STRAY BITS.

There are in India about 300 separate species of snakes, but only thirty-three of these are poisonous.

No Laplander has ever written a song, and no Finlander has ever written a book. No wonder they are a happy people.

The London Times has the figures to show that Spain has degenerated faster than any nation on earth—even faster than Patagonia.

The statistics of New England prove that seven out of every ten women left widows under the age of 35 marry again within two years.

The electric light is making great progress in Berlin, the number of lamps now in use there being about 25,000, against 500 at the end of 1886.

The word "folk-lore," invented by the late W. J. Thomas for use in English, has been adopted by the French and appears in the titles of new publications.

Experimenters at Manhattan, Kan., have discovered that the use of salt on wheat fields will greatly increase the yield. It is also announced that salt will kill potato bugs.

The Pawnee Indians have become so civilized that most of the bucks wear paper collars, the squaws wear red stockings, and all are catching on to popular songs and slang words.

According to experiments recently made the tensile strength of a wet rope is only one-third that of the same rope when dry, and a rope saturated with grease or soap is weaker still.

In its editorial department the Detroit Free Press has eleven persons whose service averages over seventeen years. The managing editor was engaged in 1805, the editor-in-chief in 1801.

There has been made in Geneva a musical box that plays entire operas, the solos rendered by pipes representing the human voice. These newest of harmonious inventions are to be exhibited at the Paris exposition.

Hotel keepers at Monte Carlo endeavor to have the habitual gamblers pay their bills considerably in advance, lest, in a bit of disappointment over great losses, they commit suicide and leave the boniface their creditor.

Twenty years ago there were ninety-two lightning rod factories in the United States. Today there are but three, and those doing a trifling business. The lightning rod was the biggest humbug of the Nineteenth century.

A Frenchman has invented a new system for propelling canal boats. It consists of an endless cable running along the two banks. The boats are moved at double the ordinary speed, and can readily be attached and detached from the cables.

An omnibus run by electricity, the only one in the world, has made successful trips in London. It runs on any kind of a street without the use of rails, while the so-called electric omnibus of Paris is in reality a tram car running on a track.

There is nothing startling in the fact that many Russian people have been frozen to death this winter. It is the business of Russia to be very cold for three months in the year, and something would be out of order if a few hundred people didn't freeze to death.

One Newman, of Rushville, Ind., has a crow which has forsaken its kind, and associates altogether with the chickens in the barnyard. At night it roosts with the poultry, and during the daytime feeds with them, and altogether conducts itself as a well positioned chicken.

A contrivance has lately been introduced on the railroads in Russia to indicate the next station at which the train will stop. It is a dial, the index of which points to the station. One is set up in every car, and the indices of all are moved at once by electricity, working from the locomotive.

Sometimes it happens that quite an entertainment is arranged especially for a jurymen's benefit. Such an instance was seen in a Maine village the other day. It was in a horse case, and the entire jury had to go out and see for themselves what kind of a record the animal could make on the track.

A Pittsburg man is said to have really married a girl under the impression that he was marrying her sister. His courtship of the other girl was brief, and the sisters so closely resembled each other that he proposed and was accepted before he discovered his mistake. He has never confessed that he made this odd error, but the girl who lost a good husband because of it insists to this day that she ought to be in her sister's shoes.

Professor Kirchhoff, of Halle, estimates that the language most spoken on the globe, for the last thousand years at least, is Chinese, for it is without doubt the only one which is talked by over 400,000,000 of the human race; the next language most in use (but at a very great distance behind Chinese) being Hindustani, spoken by over 100,000,000. Then follow English, spoken by about 100,000,000; Russian, over 70,000,000; German, over 67,000,000, and Spanish, over 47,000,000.

The new meat market of Haun & Dollins, 721 Austin street, is under full headway and doing a first-rate business. The proprietors are well skilled in the business and are serving their customers with the very choicest meats to be procured. They take a pride in selling the very finest porterhouse and sirloin steaks, fat and tender roasts from corn-fed beef, with the choicest pork roasts. Customers who are fastidious about their meats should give them a call, as they sell the best, and at reasonable prices.

Riddle's cheap or cash meat market, south side of the square, is doing a rushing business. Riddle is always first in his line, selling the richest, the fattest and juiciest of meat at bottom rock prices. His customers follow him and one who trades with him once becomes a regular customer. You can buy fine porter house steak at Riddle's at 10 cents per pound, and all other meat in proportion. Take your basket around there.

Farmers in the country surrounding Waco, recognize the fact that the best flour they get comes from their home mills. Hence QUEEN CITY straight flour from the Waco Roller Mills, is the most popular brand on the market for them. The way our country counts build up home institutions, is by buying home made goods.

D. H. Spencer will sell you a fine instrument, first-class on the installment plan, $10 per month on pianos and $5 per month on organs and charge only reasonable price for them.

On February 3d and 4th the H. & T. C. R'y Co. will sell excursion tickets from Waco to Corsicana for $3.40, good to return until February 10th.

R. H. Hill, Agent, Cor. 4th and Franklin Streets.

Tennyson's Little Joke.

On one occasion it came to Mr. Tennyson's knowledge that two men were hiding behind trees on either side of the drive, presumably to have a look at him when he went out for his usual walk. Lord Tennyson, at once seeing a chance of some fun, called in his gardener, an old man. He told him of the two men, and made him put on his velvet coat and wide awake hat. Then the old man sallied forth and made his way to the drive, down which he walked as though in deep meditation. He had not gone very far when he heard a man's voice coming from behind, with a strong Yankee twang, say, "Now I've seen Lord Tennyson, I guess I'll go home to Amerika."—London Star.

A New Perfume.

The church was beautifully decorated with sweet spring flowers, and the air was heavy with their fragrance. As the service was about to begin, small Kitty pulled her mother's sleeve and whispered, "Oh, mamma, don't it smell solemn?"—Harper's Young People.

A Change of Base.

In the shoe store, Mrs. Bascom—Young man, I want to get a good pair of shoes. Clerk—Ye'm; what size, please? Mrs. Bascom—Well, I kin wear fours, but I guess you might try me this time on sizes and a half.—Burlington Free Press.
