

JOHNSON ENDORSED

DR. RANKIN OF DALLAS DECLARES IN FAVOR OF THE SMITH COUNTY MAN FOR GOVERNOR, AND GIVES REASONS.

Dallas, Texas, April 30.—Dr. G. C. Rankin today declared himself in favor of Hon. Cone Johnson as a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor. Dr. Rankin has heretofore expressed personal preference for Hon. William Poindexter, but now says he has become convinced that Johnson is the stronger candidate of the two. His personal announcement of his new attitude is contained in the following prepared statement for the press, given out today:

For more than two months a great many people from all over the state have been writing me urgently to declare my choice for governor in the present campaign, but for reasons satisfactory to myself I have purposely and studiously refrained from such declaration until now. In the first place I have not been so presumptuous as to even imagine that the announcement of my choice as between Judge William Poindexter and Hon. Cone Johnson would to any considerable extent go very far toward the solution of the complex and delicate problem confronting us. Men for the most part are doing their own thinking, and the influence of any one man or set of men is a limited asset. In the second place, I am aware of the fact that it matters not which one of the candidates I might select; it can only give satisfaction to his admirers and at the same time displease the other candidate.

The chief reason for deference is two-fold. In the first place, I wanted sufficient time to study the situation for which I am a candidate. In the second place, I am aware of the fact that it matters not which one of the candidates I might select; it can only give satisfaction to his admirers and at the same time displease the other candidate.

I have not been and am not now after the mere success of the man, but the cause. Until the present I have not been prepared to judge between them and to side with the one whose chances, in my opinion, are the most favorable to success.

Even now I may be mistaken, but the matter will not be postponed longer. I have heard from our workers generally throughout the state, and to my mind the time has come for decision.

In the second place I wanted to wait until we had exhausted all the efforts of which we are capable to prevail upon one of these candidates to retire from the field in the interest of the other, to get one or the other of them to sacrifice his ambition for the good cause; or, if possible, to get both of them to withdraw in favor of some one else upon whom we could concentrate the bulk of our forces. But both these alternatives have failed so far, and the two candidates are still in the field with their relation becoming more intense and acute. Therefore there is nothing left for me to do but to choose between them and make the most of it. And since a great many people have expressed their wish for me to make my choice known, why, if it is any service or gratification to them, I will proceed to do it.

In doing so I have not taken the Anti-Saloon League into my confidence. That is not a partisan organization, and it has no specific place in partisan, much less factional politics. It operates upon a broader plane.

Neither do I, in making this announcement, pose as dictator to my fellow-workers. I am only one man, profoundly interested in prohibition. I have fought for it for thirty-odd long

AN UNIQUE MARRIAGE

SCHOOLMATES MARRY AT THE AGE OF SEVENTY-FIVE—THE FOURTH VENTURE FOR BRIDE-GROOM, THIRD FOR BRIDE.

(Herald Special.)
Braintree, Mass., May 2.—In the presence of a large number of their friends ex-Representative Fred Hanson of Brockton, Mass., and Mrs. Emily J. Cole were married today at the home of the bride in this city by the Rev. Daniel W. Waldron, chaplain of the Massachusetts house of representatives. Both Mr. Hanson and his bride were born May 2, 1835, and celebrated their birthday by becoming married. They had been schoolmates more than sixty years ago, when their families lived in Weymouth. Both are still healthy and vigorous. The marriage of today is Mr. Hanson's fourth and his bride's third. Both are prominent in Grand Army circles, Mr. Hanson having served in the Civil war and both his bride's former husbands having been members of the Grand Army.

years, and I am willing to do anything or to make any sacrifice in its behalf. This is the only motive that prompts me to take any sort of public part in this political campaign. There is nothing selfish in my action. My devotion to this cause has not been for gain or personal aggrandizement. The only permanent asset that I have gotten out of it is the good that I have done and a conscience void of any trace of offense.

Therefore, if any of my fellow workers with whom I have labored thus have it in their heart to follow my example in my choice for governor, good and well. That is their business, not mine. If they choose to do otherwise, I certainly have no quarrel with them; neither will I become involved in wrangles with them. I can quarrel and fight to the bitter end with an enemy, but not with a friend.

However much I may differ from a friend, I want my personal relation toward him to remain pleasant and unchanged. There will come a time when our differences of judgment will settle themselves, and then we will come together in our common cause to again take up a united fight against a common foe.

With these remarks, permit me to say that I will henceforth give my support to Hon. Cone Johnson; but this does not mean that I will esteem Judge Poindexter personally any the less. He and myself are friends. But it is the consensus of opinion among the majority of our active and leading workers that his position on statutory prohibition is well-nigh fatal to our cause. Personally, I do not think so; but as there is a division of sentiment on the subject, I am willing to sink my own judgment in the matter pugilism in the metropolis are looking forward to a gala night tonight when present-day champions and champions of a decade ago are to don the mitts at the Fairmount Athletic Club in friendly bouts in aid of Young Corbett, the former lightweight champion, who, as the saying goes, is very much down on his luck. James J. Corbett, Tom Sharkey, Joe Gans, Terry McGovern and many other old-timers have volunteered their services. Many well known theatrical stars are also helping to make the testimonial the biggest thing of its kind that has ever taken place in New York. The proceeds of the benefit are to be placed in trust to provide a weekly allowance for Young Corbett.

CATARRH

Quickly Cured By a Pleasant Germ-Killing Antiseptic.

The little Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me) inhaler is made of hard rubber and can easily be carried in pocket or purse. It will last a lifetime.

Into this inhaler you pour a few drops of magical Hyomei.

This is absorbed by the antiseptic gauze within and now you are ready to breathe it in over the germ infested membrane, where it will speedily begin its work of killing catarrhal germs. Hyomei is made of Australian eucalyptol combined with other antiseptics, and is very pleasant to breathe.

It is guaranteed to cure catarrh, bronchitis, sore throat, croup, coughs and colds, or money back. It cleans out a stuffed up head in two minutes.

Sold by druggists everywhere and by Bratton Drug Co. Complete outfit, including inhaler and one bottle of Hyomei, $1.00. And remember that extra bottles, if afterwards needed, cost only 50c. Send for free booklet, and sample bottle of Hyomei. Booth's Hyomei Co., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.
