tendencies, sizes up the situation in the same way, and uses the following argument to sustain its judgment:

While not a prophet in the true sense of the word, the fact yet remains that months ago the Times-Herald forecasted what is now daily taking place, if indeed it has not already arrived.

Submission is the paramount issue in this campaign, modified to some extent by the Bailey question. Such being the case, and the submission leaders having for the most part given their allegiance to Mr. Johnson, it necessarily follows that the contest is narrowing down to Johnson and Colquitt. This may be unpalatable to many men, but the wise man will take off his hat to a palpable fact every time.

We say unpalatable because, to be perfectly plain, there are some grave objections to each of these two men. Especially is Mr. Johnson a bitter pill to the Bailey adherent, and particularly obnoxious is Mr. Colquitt to the "anti" who does not like to be classed as a liquor sympathizer. But so pronounced is the issue becoming that minor considerations will be ignored by the great body of the electorate.

It goes without saying that some men are going to put the Bailey question ahead of the submission issue. Some prohibitionists will vote for Colquitt, and some anti-prohibitionists will vote for Johnson, governed solely by their attitude toward the junior senator.

It was only natural that the prohibitionists who ignore the Bailey question should fall in behind Johnson, for the reason that Johnson will use the statutory prohibition club to force submission at the hands of the legislature. Without such men are splendid allies for any section.

The Washington Post gives us the information that Roosevelt will stand by the Taft administration, tariff and all. Maybe so. But we do not expect to see him tearing his hunting clothes in behalf of a program that practically reverses all of his tall preaching of the past.

Everybody except the prohibitionists seem to be agreed that Poindexter is the better man of the two between he and Johnson. He makes the prohibition fight as a whole. Even the Houston Post says this. And there hangs a question as to whether the animal or the vegetable is better. The animal is more the reason why we should better stick to Johnson.

GREENVILLE---PALESTINE

St. Louis Republic Contains Item That Indicates the Building of Such Line.

The following item appeared in the St. Louis Republic of last Sunday under the head, "Steam and Electric Railroads Exploited":

"The Greenville & Palestine will be an extension of the International and Great Northern from Palestine north to Greenville, in Hunt county, a distance of 130 miles, connecting up with the Texas Midland, the Missouri, Kansas & Texas and the St. Louis Southwestern."

Surveys were made for a line from Paris to Palestine some two or three years ago, and there has been talk since of building such a line, but the I. & G. N.'s name had not heretofore been mentioned in that connection. Receiver Freeman said some months ago that an extension from Palestine to Dallas would meet his approval, should the road emerge from its present trouble, and he continue at its head. He thinks such an extension would prove a valuable one. The I. & G. N. already extends to Mineola, and that is on almost a direct line from Palestine to Greenville; so it is not likely a new line would be constructed from Palestine to Greenville by the I. & G. N. Rather it would use the track already to Mineola, and make the extension from Mineola. Besides the uncertainty that now surrounds the I. & G. N. under the receivership refutes the reported extension. The Herald believes a road will some day build north from Palestine to Greenville or Paris, but it will likely be some other than the I. & G. N. To reach out in that direction the I. & G. N. would most likely begin from Mineola, or some other point further north.

Animal vs. Vegetable.

There is not a single kind of animal food which we might not replace with a vegetable counterpart. In most cases it is merely a matter of choice which is better, the animal or the vegetable. The matter of cooking fats, however, vegetable has far the advantage. Lard is made from the fat of hogs, and is impure and unclean, always indigestible. Cottole comes from the cotyledons of the Sunny South. It makes a good fat that can be digested with ease by invalids. Cottole is recommended by both physicians and noted cooking experts as a much more healthful and desirable cooking fat than lard.

Mental Anguish Too High at $5,000.

San Antonio, Texas, May 1.—Stating that the accepted price of mental anguish in Texas did never exceed the sum of $2,000, Judge W. S. Fly of the Fourth court of civil appeals, awarded Mrs. Rachel A. Skinner consulatory damages amounting to $1,000 instead of the $5,000 she was suing the Western Union Telegraph company for. The suit had its origin in the delaying of a telegram apprising the plaintiff of the death of her daughter.

Jack's Proposal.

The management says:
Billy and May Owens presented their laughable little comedy sketch entitled "Jack's Proposal," at the Lyric Theatre last night, which was well received by the large audience present. This is one of the most refined little comedy sketches that has been seen here for many days. It is entirely free from anything that would displease the most fastidious audience. Their jokes are all clean and well delivered and the singing of Miss May Owens was much enjoyed.

Tonight they will present an entire change of act and some excellent subjects in motion pictures are programmed, including that much talked of film, "Duck Hunting on Reel Foot Lake," and two excellent comedy Edison films, "The Lost Hand Bag" and "He Joined the Frat."

The management of the Lyric guarantee their patrons an entire change in vaudeville and motion picture program each and every night and you run no risk of seeing the same old show the second time at the Lyric.

THE ISSUE IS MADE.

The Herald has been contending for weeks that the gubernatorial race would eventually come to the issue of submission over and above all other questions, and this paper has contended that under the circumstance the fight would have to be made between Come Johnson and Oscar Colquitt. The Herald has not tried to make this issue, but the very nature of things has made such a result apparent from the beginning. Johnson is an out-and-out prohibitionist, and draws no line or limitations as to how Texas shall be placed in the dry column, while Colquitt is all the time an anti, resisting with his full force every effort to make the state dry. All of the other candidates preach half way measures one way or the other. The Herald is not alone in its conclusion. The Waco Times-Herald, a close student of political

of the question to the people for final determination. Both Poindexter and Davidson failed to see this point and so eliminated themselves as formidable candidates; from now on their candidacy will be an absurdity. Mr. Colquitt becomes the leading "anti" candidate because he has the backing of those who fight prohibition 365 days in the year—fight it in precinct and county and state and nation. He makes no concessions. He is opposed to submission. He is opposed to county prohibition. He rejects in toto the idea of governmental interference with personal habits—with what a man shall drink or what he shall eat or wherewithal he shall be clothed. That suits Colonel Wolters; it pleases Uncle Renzi; it delights Sir Clarence; it enthralled "Old Politician," and these gentlemen, recognized leaders of the "wets," have no time to waste on a submissionist like Davidson; they are not "cornstalk fighters."

As we see it—and we have tried to size up the situation impartially—there is no possible chance for either Davidson or Poindexter or Cuny or Jones to capture the prize; circumstances have eliminated these gentlemen, and they owe it to themselves and to their pledged friends to get out of the way. The contest comes down to this: Johnson and certain submissionist or Colquitt and no submission.

If Palestine had the money to continue the work begun on Magnolia and Combination streets, within a radius of a few blocks, the city would be very much improved in appearances.

Five hundred men will congregate to hear a man discuss politics and skin his opponents for office, while fifty cannot be brought together to discuss the development of their city and county. Funny, isn't it?
