THE APPROPRIATION BILL

Carrying Sundry Civil Expenses of the Government Was Reported to the House Today.

(Herald Special.)
Washington, D. C., May 6.—The sundry civil appropriation bill was reported to the house today, and totals $111,849,211. This figure is $17,000,000 less than the estimates had called for, and is $26,000,000 less than appropriated last year. The budget allows $57,849,890 for the Panama Canal, which will be repaid to the treasury from the sale of bonds. President Taft's tariff board is given $350,000 to cover the cost of securing information about the relative cost of production at home and abroad and the duties on goods at home and abroad.

DR. RANKIN REPLIES

To G. W. Briggs' "Ecclesiastical" Version of Conversion.

Asheville, N. C., May 5.—Rev. Geo. C. Rankin gave out the following last night:

"Friends have wired me that the report is being circulated in Texas that 'ecclesiastical considerations' moved me to declare for Cone Johnson before I left Texas. Just what they mean by 'ecclesiastical reason' I can only infer. If it is meant that I had any personal aggrandizement in view, battle for prohibition in Texas, and the good people know me too well to accept the criticism of me by saloon papers and unscrupulous politicians. As soon as this conference is adjourned I will hasten to Texas to assume my duties as editor and speaker in behalf of prohibition.

"I have nothing else in view and crave no higher honor. No member of this general conference has suggested or intimated to me anything to the contrary."

JOHNSON AT LEWISVILLE.

Commends the Work of the Anti-Saloon League.

Lewisville, Texas, May 5.—Hon. Cone Johnson spoke here today to an audience which filled the opera house to its capacity. Mr. Johnson arrived about 9 o'clock this morning. He was met at the depot by a large committee of citizens and the Lewisville brass band, which rendered popular airs while he shook hands with the citizens who came to meet him. From the depot he was escorted to Russell Academy, where he delivered a non-political address to the students of that institution. He was given a cordial reception by the young people.

Dr. Salmon entertained Mr. Johnson at his residence until the hour came for the address he was to deliver at the opera house. The speaker was introduced by Rev. Mr. Lampton, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. He spoke for an hour and a half along the same lines of his addresses elsewhere. He referred to his opponents good humoredly and said that he was the only real prohibitionist in the campaign for the governorship. He highly complimented the work the Anti-Saloon League has done to close the saloons, and said that it had done more good in that particular than any other agency. His speech was received with close attention and his remarks were frequently applauded.

MID-SUMMER CLOTHING

No! we did not buy all the clothing we thought we could sell early in the season.

That is why we have new suits coming in now. No better clothing, of course, than the first shipments—because it is all "Hart Schaffner & Marx"—but newer patterns.

Most of these "snappy" new clothes are "tropical" weights—suitable for mid-summer—and "good looking" suits for particular men. This is the brand of clothing you see illustrated so persistently in the "Saturday Evening Post"—and this store is the home of Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes for Palestine.

ONE INDICTMENT SURE

Against Democratic Member of the Illinois Legislature—Others Will Follow.

(Herald Special.)
Chicago, Ill., May 6.—One indictment directed against a democratic member of the Illinois legislature, and based on the charges of bribery in the legislative session will be returned by the grand jury before night, according to a statement made by States Attorney Wayman at noon. And it is claimed other indictments will follow later. Wayman is plainly elated over the alleged confession of Representative Breckmeyer, who Wayman declares corroborates White's charges in every essential, in effect that money was paid to legislators to vote for Lorimer for United States senator, and that a legislative jackpot was distributed.

the statement is not only false, but unworthy of the heart that conceived it and the mouth that expressed it.

"There are hundreds of Methodists who are supporting Poindexter, and a number of them are members of this general conference. I went counter to the advice of more than one of them when I made my announcement for Johnson. I did it for two reasons only. First, Johnson, it is thought by our workers, stands upon the only unconditional prohibition platform; second, some of the leaders opposed to Johnson are holding Colquitt in reserve as a strong card in the event Poindexter is thought not to be a winner.

"When I became convinced that such a scheme was being developed, and that neither Poindexter nor Johnson could be gotten out of the race, I then fully decided to throw my support to Johnson. If the enemies of prohibition hope to break the force of this support by ascribing to me an unworthy motive, they only expose their own meanness.

COUNTERFEIT GOLD PIECES

Are Being Circulated in Texas—Officers Are Investigating.

Fort Worth, Texas, May 5.—Counterfeit $5 gold pieces, believed to have been made in Mexico, are beginning to find their way across the border, and local federal authorities, as well as federal authorities in other cities in Texas, have been asked to investigate. The counterfeits are of four different dates, 1880, 1881, 1884 and 1893 and are said to be such perfect imitations of United States gold coins that detection is decidedly difficult. Inasmuch as four dates are being used, it is certain that at least four molds are being operated, hence the counterfeiting is being carried on in an extensive way. The weight, appearance and ring of the "queen" gold pieces is identical with the genuine coins and the only way in which the counterfeit may be detected is by a close inspection. The standard gold coins of the United States are with dies, while this Mexican counterfeit is a cast coin.

This difference is so minute, however, that even a man accustomed to handling coins would have trouble in distinguishing between the counterfeit and the genuine.

The generally accepted theory of the authorities is that the coins are being made in the Mexican interior and circulated through the many mining camps of the sister republic. The coins are now finding their way across the border into the United States and the authorities are extremely anxious to break up the gang that promises to flood the southwest with bad money.
