PLANNING TOWN BUILDING.

The modern town builder does not begin haphazard any more, but specialists are called on to plan out the work progresses along lines set out by the experts. And the results show the wisdom of such a policy. In former times towns just grew up without regard to street lines or other shape, every builder working along independent lines, with the result that many of our older towns are ragged and unshapely. The town building specialist is a new kind of doctor and a most valuable one. He is even of great value to towns that have committed the error of building without planning. Dallas is the latest city to appreciate the need and services of such a specialist and has employed a man to look over the situation there and offer suggestions for making improvements. Every town could profit by securing the services of such a man. They know how to remove unsightly places, how to improve the streets and sidewalk lines, and how to make the waste places attractive. Palestine could profit by the advice of such an expert, employed for a few weeks or months.

THE HOPE THAT MR. COLQUITT INSPIRES.

Down at San Antonio on Monday night of last week a local orator, at a political rally, spoke hopefully of Mr. Colquitt's election. "Then," said the speaker, "we shall have the good old days again in San Antonio, the good Hayes of California, One of Uncle Joe's Warmest Enemies.

Representative Everis A. Hayes of California has been one of the most active of the Republicans in congress opposed to Speaker Cannon. He is a lawyer by profession and also a fruiter, raiser, owner of gold mines and newspaper publisher.

In Brother Clarence Ousley's town where the Panther formerly stood the banks of the Trinity and how Cone Johnson drew the largest crowd that has yet greeted any of the aspirants for the governorship. "Hout it, Sir Clarence?"

The Houston Post cannot forget William Jennings Bryan for saying and never loses an opportunity to run the Nebraskan one with its little hammer. Whereas in the years gone by this same Post was always swearing that Bryan was the greatest demagogue out of office.

The split log drag is not coming Navarro county; it has arrived. Besides other points in which the drag is being used, as noted in these columns, the commercial club of Provo has purchased and is now having used four drags, while the Farmer Gin company has bought one. These drags will be used on the streets of Provo and roads in that vicinity. Blooming Grove it is learned the drag is also being used.

And for the exact reverse reason the element that "hopes" in the nomination and election of Mr. Colquitt "dispairs" at the thought of Cone Johnson being the next governor. As you say, Mr. Colquitt may not personally encourage the idea that he will let the bars down and restore the "good old days" of outlawry, but the support of his candidacy is based on the blind faith that he will do this very thing. Personal liberty has been cried up and down the state as Mr. Colquitt's chief purpose in offering for the governorship, and to many the term personal liberty means the broadest kind of license. On the other hand people know that Cone Johnson is pledged against these alleged "good old times," that he will oppose all measures of lawlessness, and that he will give the state a clean, wise and progressive administration. As the Herald sees it, it would be a serious mistake to elect Mr. Colquitt as governor, for the very reason that a hope is being built on his success that would threaten the peace of the state.

WHAT JONES HAS DONE.

Silent Tom Jones of Tyler has been heard from again, and he still refuses to give his neighbor, Cone Johnson, a good name. But against the testimony of Jones several hundred good people of Tyler, including the pastors of the churches, the business and professional men, the mechanics and the farmers, say Johnson is all that his friends claim for him—a good, clean man, worthy to be made governor of this great state. Jones must feel lonesome in such company.—Palestine Herald.

Mr. Jones reminds us of a certain Johnny Jones and his sister Sue who ate the peach of emerald hue and acquired that for which Jamaica ginger is a panacea.—Marshall Messenger.

The sweet girl graduate again takes the center of the stage and makes us all glad that she is here.

Talk about fine spun theories, the fellow who figures it out that despite the tail of the comet being 25,000,000 miles long, if compressed it could be put in a pill box, was going some.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

Five candidates are contesting for the republican nomination for governor of Vermont.

The democrats of Nevada hope to replace Senator George S. Nixon, republican, with a democrat after next fall's election.

Gilbert M. Hitchcock, representative in congress from the Second Nebraska district, is a candidate for the United States senate.

There is talk of nominating Douglas Robinson, brother-in-law of former President Roosevelt, for representative in congress from the Twenty-seventh New York district.

Former Governor Theodore Bell is to be the only candidate for the democratic nomination for governor of California in the approaching primary election in that state.

At a dinner to be given in St. Louis on June 2 the friends of Joseph W. Folk will launch his campaign for the democratic nomination for the presidency in 1912.

Judge George Gray of Delaware, whose name was suggested in connection with the democratic presidential nomination in 1900 and again in 1904,

United States Senator J. Carey, father of the Carey land bill, has formally announced his candidacy for the republican nomination for governor of Wyoming.

It is said the democrats may lose Nevada to the socialists as a result of a large influx of socialists in the camps, which are the centers of population.

Some political observers express the opinion that Senator Dick of Ohio will have a hard time securing a re-election. The legislature at present is only thirty-one republican on joint ballot out of 151 members. The democrats are counting on big party gains in Cleveland and other large industrial cities.

The United States senate as at present composed is made up of sixty republicans and thirty-two democrats. The democratic leaders are hopeful of adding to their representation next fall by the election of democratic senators in Nebraska, Montana, Missouri, Delaware, New Jersey, Nevada, Wisconsin, Ohio, Indiana and New York. This would make the United States senate fifty republicans and forty-two democrats.

With one or two exceptions, every city of size in the state of Texas has followed the example of Galveston in adopting the commission form of municipal government. Many of the smaller places have also taken up the commission plan.
