THE SEATTLE SPIRIT.

We've all heard of the New York spirit, the Chicago spirit and a score or more of other spirits, but the newest and most concrete one is that says: "The Seattle spirit is the expression of the high tide of American genius and enterprise in the social and commercial activities of the day."

WALL STREET WARNING.

Calling attention to the decline in bank reserves throughout the west and southwest—especially in Oklahoma and Texas—the Wall Street Journal serves notice thus: "In 1906 New York was intoxicated with the large profits arising from the rapid advance in security prices; while our western and southern states are now equally intoxicated with the large profits accruing from the rapid rise in the prices of farm products. We are a speculative race. The instinct seems to be shared equally by all classes of people, and all that is needed to bring it out is the stimulus of exceptionally large profits. If there is a scarcity of funds to move the crops this fall, or if there is a flurry in money rates, the country is warned in time, and for once in an age will find it hard to shift the blame on Wall street."

Cheer up. Wall street plunged and the country at large picked up its share of the burden. Possibly the west and southwest is plunging. Turn about is fair play. If there's a flare-back in store let Wall street shoulder its share. However, this is not the time for pessimistic forecasts. Prosperity in grand old Texas is on wheels. Let 'er roll.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Mme. Tetrzzini.

Singer In Better Voice This Year Than Ever Before.

According to the critics, Mme. Luisa Tetrzzini, the famous soprano, is singing in better voice this year than ever before.

Well, he made it, and it is a safe bet that England does not want him to make but the one. Teddy seems to have stirred things up with the lion, and started a roar that can be heard all over the world. As a star performer the colonel has them all whipped to a finish.

Railroad Commissioner Colquitt has drawn a salary for the month of May amounting to $333.33, and in return he has made twenty-nine speeches in behalf of his candidacy for the governorship. He has been on the stump every day in the month, Sundays excepted. This may be all right, and Mr. Colquitt may be earning his salary, but we cannot quite see why he should take the money. A state law is needed to prevent such conditions. A railroad commissioner should be removed from politics.

"Money spent in municipal improvements returns many fold not only those who spend it but to every man of the town that is benefited."

FATIMA TURKISH BLEND CIGARETTES

The popularity of Fatima Cigarettes is due to their subtle flavor and fragrance.

Both are the result of skillful blending of mellow Turkish leaf.

Because of an inexpensive package you get ten additional cigarettes.
