COUNTRY PAPER A BUILDER.

The country paper is the greatest country builder. Its constructive force is next to marvelous; its ability to get others to see and do things has no equal. It builds roads, it improves farms, it sustains towns and villages, it improves social circles and it supports material advancement. In fact it enters into the very heart and life of all country progress and it never ceases to do its work, writes Aaron D. States, editor of the Lamar (Mo.) Republican-Sentinel.

The power of the age is the country newspaper. It goes into the quiet of the country fireside and becomes a competent tutor to every member of the household. It is indeed a public benefactor, a progenitor of all good and useful measures, therefore about the best friend of the race. It has great educative powers. It places humanity in one school and gives to each member equal rights with the other. It is not a respecter of persons, it goes into the hovel and the modern home and it carries the same message to all. As the years deepen into the century, its influence grows stronger and its appreciation is extended.

Every year brings a needed change, a decided improvement. All classes look to it for information, for suggestion and for publicity. Corporations know of its worth, all classes of business seek its support and all conditions of humanity come to it for aid.

JACOBS AND SARDEL

Acrobatic Jumping Comiques.

The country press will never die. Its columns may be abused, they may carry messages that are worthless, and ineffective for good, yet the time is fast arriving when the ideal country journal will begin its history. The time is already here when the people are asking for better things, and the careful journal is meeting their demands and profiting by their requests. Let the good work go on until the entire country press will stand for every uplifting measure and for the principles and ideals that build for the betterment of the race. Better homes, a better country in which to live and a strong unit of brotherhood.—Publishers' Auxiliary.

A PROSE POEM IN STONE.

Away off in Grayson in the state of Virginia there is a paper published called the Gazette. We do not know the name of its editor, but it deserves to be known, and when known it will recall the fame of Robert Ingersoll or Landon C. Haynes as a word-painter and a writer who touches the innermost chords of the human heart. Writing of the Richmond granite to be used for a Confederate monument the writer says:

It was quarried from right beneath the old trenches and redoubts which protected the Confederate capitol throughout the stern years of '61-'65. Over it have screamed the shells and whistled and whispered the hail of death from northern guns. It has listened to the shout of defiance and heard the last breath of the dying, the sudden challenge, the guarded council, the quick command. And above it the grim powder-scathed throats of the Confederate batteries roared and crashed, unyielding and unafraid. It heard the roar of northern charge, and the crashing volleys of southern rifles. The cavalry bugles have awakened its answering echoes; the thunder of Stuart's charging horse has floated across its pine crowned summits and above it all for four long years there proudly waved the great war banner and battle flags of the Confederacy.—Exchange.

GOOD ROADS.

Good roads are the most valuable asset a county can possess. Every farm within their operation is largely increased in value. The farmer is close to his markets, his church and to the city. The conveniences and pleasures of country life are enhanced ten fold. Few railroads do more for the welfare of the agriculturists than good modern highways.—Wills Point Chronicle.

There is a movement on foot now which is likely to result in a good roads bond issue election in this precinct. Our people should begin now to study this matter carefully. Good roads are a necessity and we must have them. Counties all about us are building them and where there are good roads there is prosperity and independence for all the people. By them the country becomes as attractive as the town. Social life is blessed and the property owner not only finds his land values increased but his life is made more pleasant. The tenant finds that the market can be reached regardless of weather and that his children can reach the school room when otherwise they must remain at home on account of impassable roads. He finds that life is more pleasant on the farm for him also and that he saves annually more money than his increased tax is in the way of wear and tear on team, wagon and harness. More than this, instead of deserting the farm in fair weather, as he must do now, to market his crops, he can defer that until the weather prevents him from working on his farm and, further, with good roads, the man with two horses can haul as much as the man with four now hauls. The Chronicle is correct in its brief estimate of the value of good roads.—Corsicana Sun.

ARE LIES EVER JUSTIFIABLE?
There is now a discussion going on between some newspapers as to whether or not lies are ever justifiable. Usually they are not, but sometimes they are. For instance there is the social lie. When the truth would hurt it is better to indulge the lie. Some folks will not subscribe to this, but most of them, whether they believe it right or wrong, indulge in the practice at times. We tell a girl as ugly as a mud sty that she is attractive or pretty. It pleases the girl, perhaps, and does us no harm. We tell our wives that they are just the best little wives in the world, and most of us believe it; but suppose we did not believe it, if we can keep up the deceit, and make her believe we think her the best little wife in the world, the lie is justified. Then here is a case. A gentleman told us the story, and did not blush when he admitted to a bare-faced lie. We rather admired him for it, and believe he did a good thing; He said he was going from his home to his shop one day, and met a little tot of a fellow crying as if his heart would break. "What is the matter, my son?" he asked. "Oh, sir, I have lost a nickle my mamma gave me with which to buy a paper of pins. I dropped it somewhere, and she will be so angry; she will most likely whip me, sir, and I did not mean to. It just slipped out of my pocket somewhere, for it is gone. Did you find it?" "Why, yes, son, I did; I picked it up, and here it is." The man said, "Of course I lied, but to see the good it did that distressed boy paid me for it." Now, was this lie justified, and did the man do wrong in telling it?

Statutory prohibition went into effect last night at midnight and will remain in effect until Monday morning.

General Davidson was kissed by a lady in Waco. Why be in such a hurry in saying good-bye to the general?

Old Brother Itoldyouso will begin arriving in the city tonight and will hold a gabfest for the next several days.

The watermelons continue to get better and bigger every day. And the supply is inexhaustible. And Elbertas, too many.

When the hour strikes seven this evening a governor will have been made in Texas, and the other officers will have been filled. If your man wins, smile; if he loses, smile.

A bride laughed so heartily at a joke sprung by her new hubby that she dislocated her jaw, making it necessary for a doctor to put her face together. These bridegrooms are certainly amusing cusses.

The Herald will flash the headlines tonight, and the news will be as straight as the news agency gives it to us. There will be no coloring, no holding back, but the news will be given in the order received.

Some of the candidates have told us that they favor good roads in Anderson county. We have made a note of it, and expect to call their hand when they are in office. Good roads is a fine platform, but a platform is no good unless it is put into practice.

The next move on the part of the progressives should be an effort to build ten miles of good road out of Palestine within the next few months. Start in four directions and build two and one-half miles out. In this way four good demonstration roads would be up for the inspection of the people.

The men of Palestine are certainly to be commended for their good feeling maintained in this campaign. While the interest has been at fever heat, and those representing the different candidates for governor have neither asked nor given quarter, the campaign has been free from personal bitterness.

The salt river packet began getting up steam bright and early this morning, ready for its regular once in two years trip. A big excursion of those who failed to get the votes will be at hand, and though part of the journey be through the shadow of disappointment it always turns out that the destination is that beautiful land of Forget-it.

GOVERNOR'S BALLOT 64

GOVERNOR T. M. CAMPBELL CAME HOME LAST NIGHT TO VOTE FOR HIS FRIENDS—WAS NO. 64 ON THE LIST AT THIRD WARD.

Governor T. M. Campbell arrived from Austin last night, coming home to vote. He got in ahead of the time he was expected, for his friends did not look for him before the morning train. Today he has spent quietly with his friends, mixing with his old neighbors on the street, discussing the election in the good old democratic way. At the hour of 10:15 he went to his old polling place, the Y. M. C. A., in the Third Ward, and cast ballot number sixty-four. The governor was late, however, compared to his former law partner and friend, Judge Selden McMeans, who got in the fourth vote shortly after the polls opened. Both of these gentlemen have a host of friends here, and they have been busy during the day shaking hands and exchanging smiles. They were mixed up in a little gubernatorial fight four years ago, Mr. Campbell as the candidate and Judge McMeans as his manager, and they pulled off a fight that all Texas still remembers. And today again they stood together for a man for governor, both casting a vote for the Hon. Cone Johnson.

AT THE Y. M. C. A.

Gymnasium Classes Are Running on Schedule Time.

All gymnasium classes are now running on schedule time and every senior and junior member has an opportunity to do some good work in that department. A fast daily round in the gym, followed by a swim in the large sanitary pool, will do much to build up the system and every member should take advantage of these privileges. Water polo is the popular game in the pool at the present time.

A comparatively new boiler is being installed in the heating plant and in a very few days there will be plenty of hot water. Every effort possible is being used by those in charge to furnish the members with every reasonable convenience.

The boys' department is in excellent condition and much is being done to train the boy mentally, physically and morally. There is a great need for a special boys' department in this association; much more could be done for the boys' interest.

At the regular boys' meeting tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock Mr. Welch will have charge. A special meeting for boys above fourteen years of age at 8 o'clock. Something doing for the older boy.

HUGO THE HUNCHBACK

Will Be the Feature Film at the Airdome This Evening.

The management says: Lake Reynolds and May Lewis made another decided hit last night in their German comedy sketch, "Der Fader Land," at the Airdome Theatre. Tonight they will present a farce comedy sketch, entitled, "Tony the Tailor," a German comedy sketch that never fails to please and is said to contain a "laugh for every second." The feature film in motion pictures will be a Selig high art subject, "Hugo the Hunchback." Of this picture of devotion and desertion we see happiness, contentment and satisfaction; length, one thousand feet.

Election returns will not commence to come in before about 9 o'clock and every one can have an opportunity of witnessing the first performance at the Airdome and still be in time to see and hear the election returns.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Published By Authority of the Secretary of Agriculture.

For Palestine and vicinity until 7 p. m. Sunday: Tonight and Sunday generally fair; continued warm weather.

Minimum temperature, 74. Maximum temperature, 92.

Weather Conditions.

A disturbance of great intensity, central over Minnesota, dominates weather conditions from the Plains states to the Great Lakes. This storm has been attended by rain in the lake region, the Missouri valley, the upper Mississippi valley and in the northern Rocky mountain region. Rain has also fallen in Arizona, the New England states and the east gulf states. The weather is generally clear and warm in Texas this morning. The following heavy precipitation (in inches) has been reported during the past twenty-four hours: Rapid City, 2.76; Tampa, 1.28; Toledo, 1.00. The pressure distribution indicates generally fair and continued warm weather for this vicinity tonight and Sunday.

CLOSED BIG LAND DEAL

CHICAGO COLONY TAKES OVER ELEVEN HUNDRED ACRES OF LAND THREE MILES EAST OF PALESTINE.

Through the real estate agency of Dyal & Redwine a deal has just been closed whereby F. L. Anderson, representing a Chicago colony, bought eleven hundred acres of the property known as the Swanson estate and owned by Mrs. Douglas. The consideration was $27,500. The property is located about three miles east of the city, in easy access of the city, and in a good part of the county. As said, Mr. Anderson is representing a colony and it is the purpose of his company to locate a good number of progressive farmers on this land. This is an important deal, and will be followed by others. People are beginning to appreciate the value of this land, and are beginning to understand that it is the best land in the country today at anything like the same price. As a mere investment money put into Anderson county lands at present values will make the owner rich in time. The great fruit and berry and melon crops, and the good reports of all other crop conditions in this section are being heard of by people all over the country and a great movement to East Texas is sure to follow.

Better Than Spanking.

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers Box W., Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in his way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties day or night.

Ready For Business.

Well, I am back and ready for business. I find there are other tuners in the field, but that is all right. I can work enough for all, and I will get all the work I can do with my tuning down other tuners. I will get the work, that is all. I will get to my old customers as soon as possible. If you are in a hurry just drop me a guaranteed. Yours for piano tuning, card, or phone 1034. Would be glad to take any new customers that want me to do their work. Satisfaction H. M. Jones. Mormons to Honor Pioneer Day.

(Herald Special.)
Salt Lake City, Utah, July 23.—Arrangements have been completed for the customary celebration tomorrow of Utah's Pioneer Day, the anniversary of the entrance of Brigham Young and the pioneers into the Great Salt Lake Valley in 1847. The day is observed also by the Latter Day Saints of Idaho, Oregon and other sections.

GOLDSBORO HEARD FROM

A Lady Who Lives in Goldsboro Joins in the Chorus of Praise for Cardui, The Woman's Tonic.

Goldsboro, N. C.—"A physician treated me for many distressing symptoms," writes Mrs. Etta A. Smith, "but gave me no relief.

"I suffered with neuralgia around the heart and was troubled at times with my head. I had pain in my left side, bowels, left thigh, shoulders and arms.

"After taking Cardui, I am now well and can recommend it to other suffering women."

Just such doubtful symptoms, as those from which Mrs. Smith suffered, are the ones for which it will pay you to take Cardui, the woman's tonic.

It is at such times, when there is nothing to show, for certain, the real cause of the trouble, that you need a tonic, to give the body strength to throw off the illness that evidently threatens.

Take Cardui, when you are ill, with the ailments of your sex. Take Cardui as a tonic, to prevent illness, when you feel it coming.

Your druggist keeps it.

N. B.—Write to: Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper on request.
