

MIGRANTS' OBJECTION

R. R. Claridge Says People Must Put Farm Houses and Fences In Better Condition.

R. R. Claridge, who has charge of the joint immigration bureau for the Southwestern Gould lines, being the Missouri Pacific, I. & G. N. and T. & P., was in the city this morning. Mr. Claridge stated to the Courier-Times man that he expects a great tide of immigration to Texas this fall. "We hope to turn a big lot of it into East Texas," he said. "There is one great drawback to this section," continued Mr. Claridge, "and that is the fact that there are such sorry houses on the farms that are for rent or sale. The houses are not painted, the fences are down and the barns and other outhouses—if there are any—are mere make-shifts, and in fact really no houses at all. Half the time they do not shelter stock. The good houses are on the farms of citizens who do not wish to sell them. The newcomers will not clear the land, for they want to go to farming the first year they come in this section. So there you are. The people have got to remedy these evils in some way before we can ever turn any great amount of immigration to East Texas."

Mr. Claridge is making a tour of the Gould lines, preparing an exhibit which will be shown this fall at the great Chicago fair.

He expects to have exhibits from all towns and counties along the I. & G. N. and T. & P. in Texas, and hopes to have an exhibit from Tyler and Smith county. Thousands of people will visit this great fair, and it is up to our people to begin now and have a fine exhibit ready for exhibition at this time.

Our Commercial Club should at once go to work along this line and prepare a creditable exhibit. A few hundred dollars spent in this direction now will return a hundred-fold later on.—Tyler Courier-Times.

FOREIGNERS FALL OUT

French, German and Spanish Element Will Not Join In Banquet to President Diaz.

(Herald Special.)

San Antonio, Texas, July 28.—As the promoters of a banquet to be given in honor of President Diaz, the Society of the American Colony at Mexico City is in somewhat of a predicament. The banquet in question was to be given by all the foreigners in Mexico and a first canvass seemed to indicate that the idea would have universal support. Of twenty colonies, seventeen responded favorably when the matter was first taken up. The replies, however, did not come from the membership of the foreign societies, but expressed rather the view of their representatives. To the dismay of the promoters of the affair, a final vote, taken a few days ago, showed that only the British, Russian and Turkish colonies stood in favor of the Diaz banquet, the French, German and Spanish elements having for some reason withdrawn their support of the proposition. In view of the fact that these three colonies are by far the most influential and numerous in Mexico an embarrassing situation confronted the Americans. President Diaz, whose name had been drawn into the matter without even possibly his consent, had to be informed that the banquet could not be held now and that some other name would have to be appended to the affair. Since the Britishers and Americans voted for the banquet they now propose to convert it into an Anglo-Saxon banquet, if the Russians and Turks, who are not Anglo-Saxons, can be induced to withdraw their claim to remain. Whether President Diaz is now willing to be entertained, for his position in the case now is a rather delicate one, not to say awkward. So far nothing definite as to his views is known. As a retort courteous the Britishers and Americans are now preparing to hold the finest banquet ever held anywhere, even if it wreck some small fortunes.

What the cause of the split is can only be surmised because the other foreigners in Mexico City have so far reserved a very dignified attitude on the whole fiasco. Absolute silence as to their motive in turning down the proposal has been observed. The inference is that the French, German and Spanish colonies took offense at the somewhat forward behavior of the banquet promoters and promptly taught them a lesson. The man from continental Europe in Mexico is in little sympathy with the Anglo-Saxon element socially and this, too, may have influenced their action.

TWO MORE MESSAGES

Sent to the Legislature By Governor Campbell—Guaranty of Bills of Lading Included.

Austin, Texas, July 27.—Messages Nos. 3 and 4 were received from Governor Campbell today. Message No. 3 dealt with the usual vacation appointments. No. 4, however, presented a number of important matters.

The first of these calls for a better system of accounting for the controller's office, in accordance with the recommendations of the board of auditors.

The next is with reference to legislation prescribing the duties of county tax collectors, tax assessors, county clerks, the controller and the state treasurer with reference to tax matters and providing for an improved system of accounting.

Section No. 3 out of the last message makes recommendations regarding guaranteed bills of lading, the particular purpose being to protect the cotton business so that such bills may have better standing in the commercial world.

The message reads as follows:

To the legislature: By virtue of authority vested in me by section 40, article 3 of the constitution of the state of Texas, I hereby designate and present to you for your consideration the following subjects and suggest legislation thereon:

1. Legislation providing for the election, qualification, bond and duties of the controller of public accounts of the state of Texas and of his employees, and providing for a complete, effective and more economical system of accounting, bookkeeping and auditing for that department of the state government.

2. Legislation prescribing the duties of county tax assessors, tax collectors and the county clerks, controller and state treasurer, with reference to the assessment and collection of taxes and providing a more systematic, effective and economical system of bookkeeping and accounting, and the enactment of such other rules and methods with respect thereto as may be proper.

3. The enactment of adequate laws defining "bills of lading" and defining the words "carriers." Providing that it shall be the duty of common carriers, and their officers and agents, to issue negotiable bills of lading and straight or non-negotiable bills of lading at the between certain places to be prescribed in the law, and defining negotiable or straight bills of lading and prescribing the necessary requirements for all bills of lading; to make all negotiable bills of lading negotiable by indorsement and delivery in the same manner as bills of exchange and promissory notes and prohibiting the placing upon negotiable bills of lading any terms which would in any manner limit their negotiability; and providing for the division of bills of lading into such different series as may be appropriate and defining each series prescribing how bills of lading shall be issued and prohibiting the issuing of negotiable bills of lading in part or parts, except as prescribed by law; prescribing the duties of general freight agents or persons authorized to act for them and the duties of local station agents of common carriers and for such additional legislation on this subject as business conditions and the general welfare may demand.

Very respectfully,

T. M. Campbell, Governor of Texas.

COUNTY OPTION ISSUE

Democrats of Minnesota Meet at Minneapolis—Leaders Want John Lind For Governor.

(Herald Special.)

Minneapolis, Minn., July 28.—John Lind for governor on a county option platform is the program of the leaders in the democratic state convention which was called to order here today for the nomination of a state ticket to be voted for at the November election. The principal fight in the convention promises to be over the question of the adoption of a county option resolution. It is planned to have the resolution fight come first, as that will decide the status of John Lind in the convention. It is well known that Mr. Lind could not be persuaded to accept the nomination except on a county option platform. Congressman W. S. Hammond, who, next to former Governor Lind, has been most prominently mentioned for the head of the ticket, has given the delegates to understand that he does not care for the nomination. In the event of the defeat of the Lind forces, therefore, the convention will probably name Judge C. W. Stanton of Bemidji, John Jenswood of Duluth or some other equally prominent democrat as the standard bearer in the coming campaign.

J. L. Boyd Grateful.

Palestine, Texas, July 28., 1910. To the Democratic Voters of Anderson County:

By the vote cast for me in the first primary I am in the lead of my opponents by a handsome plurality, for which confidence in me as expressed by the sovereign voters I am more grateful than language can express.

It is my wish and prayer that every man that voted for me in the first primary will do so again, and that I may secure a sufficient number of the votes cast for Mr. Davis to secure my nomination. I desire that each and every man that voted for me will also use his influence in my behalf, and if he will do so there will be no doubt of my nomination as your sheriff. Yours truly, J. L. Boyd.

Illness of General Funston Causes Universal Anxiety

The serious illness of General Fred Funston of the United States army has caused much sorrow throughout the country. General Funston is stationed at Fort Leavenworth, where the attending physicians have announced that he will be a long time regaining his health. Starting life as a newspaper man, General Funston today is one of the most prominent officers of the regular army. Since the San Francisco earthquake and the admirable manner in which he fitted into the crisis much of the adverse criticism against Funston has been stilled. He has many warm admirers among the men in the army and the public generally.
