WHOSE PROPERTY IS IT?

The city commissioners and the Palestine school board are at sea over the question as to whether title to the school properties, the buildings, grounds, etc., rests in the city government or in the school government. The question arose some few months ago over a contention as to whose duty it was to keep the buildings insured and pay the insurance fees. Mayor Bowers contended it was the duty of the school board, as the title to the property was vested in the board. President Hamilton of the board, and other members of the board, contended that the school properties belonged to the city, and that

THE GAEBELEIN LECTURES

"God's Masterpiece" and "Christ's Work in Incarnation and on the Cross" Discussed Monday.

Two of the most helpful addresses ever given in this city on Bible themes were heard yesterday afternoon and evening at the Congregational church. Dr. A. C. Gaebelien is truly a thorough Bible expositor. Members of the different churches in the city are hearing him and hearing him gladly and prayerfully.

The subject in the afternoon was "God's Masterpiece." The first three chapters of Paul's Epistle to the Ephesians contains that marvelous revelation from God which Dr. Gaebelien calls "God's Masterpiece." The third verse of the first chapter was dwelt upon as the doxology, which says: "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with every spiritual blessing in the heavens in Christ." Next was the structure which portrays the full name of God as Father, Son and Holy Spirit, showing in the fourth, fifth and sixth verses that God as Father has chosen, predestinated and accepted those who are saved; and in the seventh to the twelfth verses that God as the eternal Son has redeemed, made known the mystery of His will and has given an eternal inheritance for which all who are saved are kept by His mighty power; and the thirteenth and fourteenth verses reveal that God as Holy Spirit has quickened the believer and sealed him, and the Holy Spirit is the believer's earnest or part payment as guarantee of the full and final manifestation of every spiritual blessing which belongs to all Christians alike, though some of them do not apprehend them by faith now as they will by sight at the coming of the Lord.

Following the wonderful exposition of those verses mentioned, Dr. Gaebelien referred to two things in the prayer of Paul which concludes the first chapter and the first address on God's masterpiece. The two things are: First, that believers may know the hope of His calling, i. e., that we shall be like His Son, when we shall see Him as He is. Second, that we may know the exceeding greatness of His power toward all who believe, which has to do with all the wonderful things God has done, is now doing and will yet do for the believer who is chosen by the Father, redeemed by the Son, and sealed by the Holy Spirit, predestinated by the Father, made known the mystery of His will by the Son, and sealed by the Spirit; also accepted by the Father, has an eternal inheritance in the Son and an earnest who is the Holy Spirit Himself.

The night message on the work of Christ in incarnation and on the cross was still more wonderful in exposition, which Dr. Gaebelien made plain to be a revelation from God which is only revealed to faith. He first spoke of how the incarnation was foretold in the Old Testament in the Levitical sacrifices and in positive prediction, and he then gave three special reasons for the incarnation: First, that Christ might make known the invisible God; second, that He might be fitted for the great work He is doing now and to be the head of a new creation—the church; third, was the chief purpose, the great object and that was to do the mighty work on the cross. Then Dr. Gaebelien spoke in four ways of the sufferings of Christ and what believers possess as a result, such as a perfect justification before God, perfect peace with God, perfect standing and access into God's holy presence, power over sin and a perfect title to glory.

The meetings will continue at 7:30 and 9:30 p. m., until Friday night. Everybody welcome.

DIVERSIFIED NOVELTY ACT.

Si Vad and Inez Pleased Large Audience at the Lyric.

The management says: Despite the numerous and many attractions in the city last night the New Lyric Theater did a big business, the house being filled to its capacity for the first performance and a large crowd attended the second show.

Si Vad and Inez were the vaudeville feature, presenting a diversified novelty act. They are acrobats of wide popularity and offered some new and original stunts in their work. Mr. Si Vad did some very clever trapeze work last night, and the ease with which he executes his work is remarkable. Miss Inez has a very sweet voice, and her acrobatic work with Mr. Si Vad shows her to be a woman of wide experience in this line.

By special arrangement the management has secured for tonight at considerable extra expense Selig's distinctive feature film, "Ranch Life in the Great Southwest." This great picture will recall to the aged days of the cowboy and buffalo, and will show to the younger generation the sports and pastimes of our forefathers. Not only is it invaluable historically, but it is entertaining, amusing and educational as well. The entire staff of the Selig company spent one year in arranging this production. In the moving picture the onlooker witnesses varied exhibitions of skill and daring dexterity, wherein the maddened bulls of the plains vie with the American cowboy—"The Kings of the Prairie." The other high art motion picture to be exhibited tonight is "The Dumb Half Breed's Defense," an intensely dramatic story of the west. It shows the tremendous odds against an innocent dumb half-breed, accused of the murder of his sister and her brutal husband, and how he clears himself in pantomimic defense. A strong subject.
