

MAN OF MYSTERY GETS THEM GOING

Gives Very Interesting Information About the Prize Money, Twenty-Five Dollars.

Sherlock Holmes, Jr., is beginning to be the talk of the town.

In hotel lobbies, restaurants, cigar stands and in the crowds upon the streets the name of the Man of Mystery is beginning to be frequently mentioned, and it is a safe bet that before Mr. Holmes ends his stay in Palestine he is going to have the run of his life.

Traveling Man Talks.

While seated in front of a prominent hotel today a well known traveling man remarked to several gentlemen: "Well, I see by the afternoon paper that Sherlock Holmes, Jr., is in town. This coming December one year ago I was down in Jacksonville, Fla., when he was there and I never saw such excitement in my life. I was held up about a hundred times for Sherlock and I was glad to get out of the city. I ran into him again a few weeks ago over in Texarkana, this state, and the town was crazy about it. I was an eye-witness there one day when about two hundred people held up another traveling man and almost mobbed him. He swore he was not Sherlock Holmes, but they didn't believe him and he had to call on the police for protection. Well, Sherlock is all right. He has been giving lots of people a good time, and I wish him luck."

Words like these are appreciated. The gentleman is right when he says that Mr. Holmes has been giving lots of people a good time, and that is just exactly what he hopes to do in Palestine.

How to Win the Money.

When this proposition formally opens up there will be a $25.00 cash prize placed in reliable hands. This prize will go to the first man, woman or child who walks up to Mr. Holmes and says, "Of the Palestine Daily Herald, Mr. Sherlock Holmes, Jr., you are the Mysterious Man," at the same time holding the issue of the paper for that day in his or her hand. Now, remember, there are no strings of any kind or description tied to that prize.

Mr. Holmes' Whereabouts.

Sherlock Holmes, Jr., is one gentleman who is always master of his own actions. He has no specified places to visit at any specified times, and wouldn't follow a route if it was given to him. You are liable to run across him at any one of a hundred different places. It may be that he will stand near you in some prominent store, pass you in the postoffice or sit next to you in the theatres, at any time of the day or night, for Mr. Holmes is a sociable fellow and is never so happy as when mingling with the crowd, and remember, whenever you say the phrase to him correctly the $25.00 cash will be yours.

Sherlock Holmes, Jr., will demonstrate to your satisfaction before he leaves Palestine that he is a past master in the art of deception and you will not catch him without an effort.

You will be told through the columns of this paper just exactly when you can make a run for the money, and in the meantime, watch the daily story and try to get the right man located, for you are up against a harder proposition than you may imagine.

What He Will Do.

The question naturally arises, what will Mr. Holmes do in Palestine? Well, he will do a good many things, but chief among these he will quiz the police, have fun with the boys and girls, to say nothing of the old maids, and make himself very much at home in every way. He will gain admittance to the postoffice and talk with the postmaster, go into the leading banks and places of business and then tell these gentlemen through print the exact time of his visit, what he said to them and what they said to him, and in many ways to be related later give you numerous opportunities to land him and win the fifty little prize of $25.00.

Watch the Daily Herald tomorrow, for there will be something else interesting to tell you about the Man of Mystery, and this contest may be on almost before you know it.

SPECIAL PROGRAM

At the Lyric Theater on Main Street This Evening.

The management says:

The New Lyric Theater will run a special program tonight for the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks. It will consist of four thousand feet of high art motion photographs, illustrated songs by Mr. Joe Healy, Palestine's popular tenor singer, and Smith and Brown, the vaudeville team, who are styled artistic delineators of refined singing and dancing. Trice's Orchestra, always favorites, will render some high-class musical numbers, and the motion pictures to be exhibited will be some of the very best that have been seen in Palestine, the Lyric Theater using nothing but association films, licensed by the Motion Pictures Patents company of New York City; these pictures are all passed on by the Board of Censorship in New York before they are allowed to be projected, insuring only high-class, moral pictures at all times.

Tonight's program will include "Uncle Tom's Cabin," a dramatization of "Ante Bellum" days, comprising over 3500 feet of film. It is from one of the most famous publications of American literature, unequalled for emotional, dramatic and varied situations, unapproachable in true characterization. All through this film there is an unceasing impress and continuity of strong sentiment and emotional fervor. Thousands have heard about "Uncle Tom's Cabin," thousands are waiting to see it in motion pictures. There are three full reels in this great dramatic picture. Special music for this film will be played by Trice's Orchestra during the projection of the reels, including "O, Susannah," "Nearer My God to Thee," "My Old Kentucky Home" and "My Old Cabin Home." No one should miss the opportunity of seeing this great success in life portrayals.

The Gem is giving the best picture show ever seen in Palestine. The admission price is only a dime. One hour of profitable, instructive amusement. 19-11

AN OPPORTUNITY TO BUY OLD FORT DAVIS

TEXAS LANDMARK PUT UP FOR SALE AT PUBLIC AUCTION IN PURSUANCE OF ORDER OF THE INTERIOR DEPARTMENT.

(Herald Special.)
El Paso, Texas, Nov. 21.—Old Fort Davis, located about 175 miles southwest of here, in Jeff Davis county, was put up for sale at public auction today in pursuance of an order recently issued by the Department of the Interior. The fort was built in 1854, during the administration of Jefferson Davis as secretary of war, and during the early years of its career the troops stationed there were kept pretty busy running down marauding Indians and keeping the old El Paso trail clear for the stage coach and immigrants. With the advance of civilization and the disappearance of the Indians, the fort, being far removed from the railroad, lost its usefulness as an army post and in 1906 it was turned over to the Department of the Interior.
