Thanksgiving Wedding.

The beautiful wedding of Miss May Gregg to Mr. Leigh M. Ballowe of Richmond, Texas, took place on Thanksgiving evening, Thursday, November 24th, 1910, at 7 o'clock, at the elegant Gregg home on Magnolia street. It was a quiet home wedding, with only the immediate family and a very few intimate friends. The impressive ceremony was by the uncle of the bride, Rev. John E. Green of Houston, and prayer by her lifetime friend and pastor, Dr. R. H. Crozier. The reception hall, sitting room and library were lit in numerous candles, in beautiful candelabras. White chrysanthemums were tastefully arranged in these apartments. Every detail of the wedding was home-like and informal, with that beautiful simplicity, which is a characteristic of the Gregg family. At the appointed time Mendelssohn's wedding march pealed forth, Mrs. Webb Wright the musician, and the bridal party descending the wide stairway was a scene to be remembered forever by the friends and loved ones. Mr. Ballowe, the groom, was escorted by his best man, Mr. John Gregg. Miss Mary Gooch, maid of honor, followed, then the matron of honor, Mrs. H. H. Thompson of Trinity. The beautiful bride followed, leaning upon the arm of her father, Hon. A. W. Gregg. A pretty wedding circle was formed just in front of the bay window of the sitting room, which had been transformed into a marriage altar, with palms and ferns. Surrounded by those dearest to her heart, the only daughter and a general favorite of all Palestine was claimed by her chosen one for life. Congratulations and loving wishes followed, and all were invited to the elegant dining room, where the wedding supper was served. The table was exquisite in point of lace and the hand-painted china of Mrs. Gregg's own art; white carnations were here and there. The center piece was white carnations and maiden hair ferns. Those assisting Mrs. Gregg in the dining room were Messrs. E. J. Reed, D. F. Collins, E. D. Stagg, Werner Kuhne and F. Hufsmith. The bride wore her traveling gown, a dark blue meteor crepe, en suite. The matron and maid of honor were gowned in light blue, wearing black picture hats and carrying arm bouquets of white chrysanthemums. The gentlemen were in conventional black. The happy pair left on the night train for a trip over Texas, and then to their home at Richmond, Texas, where he is a leading lawyer. Palestine, so all Texas, is proud to know that after different seasons spent in Washington and other places of note, that our congressman's daughter comes home to fair Texas to choose her home and her mate, and long may Texas sunshine, soft breeze and pretty flowers belong to her and her loved one.

Homecoming and Wedding Dinner.

Mr. Joe H. Elam arrived Wednesday evening with his bride from Milano, where they were married in the afternoon. Mr. Elam is chief clerk in the International and Great Northern railroad yard office, and is very popular with his friends. On this auspicious occasion he and his bride were met at the depot by a special committee of two, Messrs. Albert Russell and Elmer Davis, from the B. R. C. A cab was in waiting, decorated in white chrysanthemums, and all were driven to the pretty home on Conrad street, all established for housekeeping. They were welcomed by Mr. Elam's mother, Mrs. Florrie Elam and his brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Pope Elam. After loving words, the dining room doors were thrown open and all invited to dinner. The center piece was bride's roses and maiden hair ferns. Covers were laid for the mother, Mrs. Florrie Elam, the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Jope Elam, Mrs. Jessie Patterson and Miss Jessie Patterson of Franklin, Mrs. John C. Mitchell, Miss Nell and John C. Mitchell, Jr., of Franklin. The dinner was elegant and served in colonial style, and was suggestive of the establishment of home, loving and faithful hearts.

Thanksgiving Meeting.

The Woman's Home Mission Society of the Grace Methodist church held a devotional meeting with Mrs. J. T. Burnett Tuesday afternoon. A beautiful program was rendered. The following toast by Miss Bessie Wagon was much appreciated:
It was indeed a pleasant surprise when I was honored with a request to toast this Grace church Home Mission band. To tell of all the good they do at home would be a big task for any one. They raise their money in many pleasant ways, and now they are using all the Tuesdays. They have furnished entertainment for the young as well as the old, and I am safe in saying every member is worth her weight in gold. They can work from the parlor to the kitchen, with their faces all in smiles. To this happy band I would say, may you always in these good works abound, and all praise and glory to Christ, who wears the crown. Let us hope that every lady present is a member of some Home Mission band.

"Snow White."

The beautiful cantata, "Snow White," presented last night at the Temple Theatre by the students of the High School, was enjoyed by a full house. The scenes and songs were beautiful. The Princess Snow White was portrayed by Miss Mildred Prather. The fairies or forest children assembled to do her homage on her birthday. Her stepmother, the Queen, who was Miss Nellie Grimes, is jealous of the love shown the fair princess and of her beauty and grace, and orders Carl the huntsman (Henry Radey) to kill her. His heart falls him. While alone in the woods she finds the dwelling place of the dwarfs, and they retain her as their housekeeper. This scene was especially attractive. While there the wicked Queen, in disguise, comes first as a seller of wares and then vegetables, each time attempting the life of the little Princess. The young Prince (Clarence Campbell), through Carl, hears of the Princess and does not wait for sight to fall in love, but gives his heart and affection at once to one whose praises and admiration are so sung by the fairies, by the dwarfs and by the huntsman. The Queen, ever consulting her magic mirror, at last must give up in despair and is banished. The closing scene, the marriage of Snow White and the young King, surrounded by the dwarfs and wood children, was beautiful. The costumes of pink, white and blue were charming, the singing fine, and through the four acts not a mistake. The whole was a moving picture of grace and beauty.

The following is the cast:
The Princess Snow White—Mildred Prather.

The Queen—Bessie Grimes.
The Prince—Clarence Campbell.
Carl, the Huntsman—Harvey Radey.
Rose—Dimple Scott.

A Beautiful Present.

The following gentlemen from the B. of R. T. called at the newly established home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. Elam on Thanksgiving night: Messrs. F. E. Staats, Albert Russell, A. H. Parnell, O. S. Adams, W. W. Rogers and P. L. Rogers. After pleasant greetings, Mr. Staats, in behalf of the B. of R. C. gave a beautiful toast to the host and hostess, at the same time presenting to them a handsome cathedral clock. The bride and groom were taken by surprise, but equal to the occasion, responded in grateful words. A delightful evening was passed, and some of the wedding cake enjoyed. The sweet chimes of the new clock reminded all that time is fleeting and that even happy evenings like this must end, leaving a sweet memory to all present.

Honored Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McMillan entertained at dinner Thanksgiving day in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Chas. McMillan of Plantersville, Texas. Covers were laid for the host and hostess, the honorees, Mr. Will Gordon and Mr. and Mrs. Firebaugh. Dr. McMillan and wife will leave tomorrow for their home, carrying sweet remembrances of Palestine and their many friends and loved ones.

The beautiful wedding of Miss May Gregg, daughter of Congressman and Mrs. Gregg, to Mr. Leigh M. Ballowe of Richmond, closes the stay of the Greggs in Palestine for awhile, as they leave next week for Washington. Their home coming is always a joy to their friends, who miss them greatly during their stay at Washington.

We are in receipt of a beautiful turkey card, with Thanksgiving love, from Mrs. Lula Wilson Ridge of El Paso, Texas, to all her Palestine friends, who will remember her as a school girl here several years ago.

Miss Annie Cutter, who is an assistant teacher in the public school at Frankston, came home for Thanksgiving.

Miss Mary Brown, principal of the public school at Frankston, spent Thanksgiving with friends in Palestine.

Mr. John Gregg came home from the State University for his sister's wedding.

Mr. Will Gregg came home from his studies at Sherman for the Ballowe-Gregg wedding.

Mr. Fred Brooks of San Antonio, uncle of the bride, came for the Ballowe-Gregg wedding.

Dr. T. J. Crow of Dallas came over for the wedding of Mr. Leigh Ballowe and Miss Mae Gregg.

A HANDSOME HAIR DRESSING But Easy to Do.

Style B. See Note

Model and Instructions by MADAM LULA BUTLER
Principal, The Madam Butler School of Beautifying Arts, Detroit, Mich.

Style B. The hair is waved on each side of the parting and over the crown of the head. The ends of the waved hair are then brought half way up between the nape of the neck and the crown of the head and arranged in puffs or ringlets. The main body of the hair is brought below the nape of the neck and braided into two braids. These braids are crossed and brought around the head. The curls or puffs are allowed to drop across the back. This arrangement is without the use of rats, frames or false hair.

To Have Beautiful Hair Use Newbro's Herpicide

No woman can afford to be indifferent to the appearance of her hair. A mass of nice snappy hair, becomingly dressed will add more in genuine good looks than a pretty face, or an expensive gown. Don't allow the scalp to become clogged with dirt and dandruff. Don't let the Dandruff Germ destroy your hair. If your hair is uneven, dead, dull and brittle and comes out by the handful every time you draw a comb through it, the germ is there. To kill that germ and check the loss of hair should be your first anxiety. Newbro's Herpicide will do this and at the same time put the hair and scalp in a sanitary condition. Herpicide appeals to those of greatest refinement on account of its exquisite odor, its purity and cleanliness. It contains no grease and does not stain or dye. There is nothing more dependable than this remarkable scalp prophylactic. The hair responds readily to a regular and intelligent use of Newbro's Herpicide. Try it and see.

A Palestine Visitor.

Mr. John W. Coombs of West Kennebunk, Me., arrived in the city this morning to be the guest of Mr. Hyman Pearlstone for a few days. Mr. Coombs is a member of the Philadelphia American League baseball club, being the champion pitcher of the world, as well as the pitching hero of the world's series played last month with the Chicago Cubs, during which he pitched and won three games for his club, thereby bringing the championship of the world to Philadelphia. Mr. Coombs is an old friend of Mr. Pearlstone, and after a few days' visit here he will go to Cuba to spend the winter. And he will take with him a Palestine girl as his bride, the wedding to take place early in next week.
