

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

At the Lyric.

The management says: Just think of it! Crowded again last night, despite the disagreeable weather. Well, everybody knows the Lyric Theater is warm and comfortable, and that they will see a high-class vaudeville act and the best motion pictures, and they brave the weather to be present. If you have any doubts about Palestine people not liking vaudeville, you should have heard the hearty applause that was given to the clever singing and dancing act of O'Dowd and O'Dowd, who opened a three days' engagement last night. They are top-notchers when it comes to handing out the real comedy, good singing and up-to-the-minute dancing. It is easy to see that they will be a big drawing card for the popular little vaudeville theater during their stay in our city.

Tonight there will be projected over four thousand feet of the very latest and best subjects in motion pictures. Space forbids us giving a detail description of them all, but would especially call attention to one of the feature films, entitled, "A Leap For Life," one of those excellent Kalem pictures. It is a dramatic story built upon an incident of early Canadian history. The story deals with the hardy settlers of Canada and the warring bands of Indians who made the white man's life one of great danger during the pioneer days. The picture has correct scenic surroundings and brilliant action.

A Treat For the Children.

The management says: The Gem Theater will give a little present to each child buying a 5 cent admission ticket on tomorrow (Saturday) matinee and night. A specially arranged program has been selected for this occasion. Matinee from 3 to 6; night performance, 7 to 10:30. Send the children here; we promise to take good care of them. Coming: A special program for December 26 and 27. At a big expense the Gem will present to its patrons "The Cowboy and Indian Frontier Celebration," held at Cheyenne, Wyo., reviewed and participated in by Colonel Theodore Roosevelt. This is an exclusive motion picture of the "west as it was," the only western frontier picture worth while—a cowboy western picture and the best ever shown. Over three thousand feet of film. This picture shows the world's champions, a full description of which will be given in tomorrow's paper. Watch for it. Program for tonight's show in full in another column of this paper. We have an Imp picture for tonight; you will enjoy it.

Albert Taylor Coming.

Albert Taylor and company will open an engagement at the New Temple Monday afternoon. Speaking of "A Ragged Prince," in which Mr. Taylor will be seen here, a press notice says:

"A Ragged Prince" is one of the very best of the romantic dramas and the opera of "Maritane" is founded on it. It is not often played because few actors are equipped for the requirements of the title role. Barry Sullivan was the greatest Don Caesar of his day and Alexander Salvini, so richly endowed by nature for such roles, made a great success in it. Since his death almost the only actor of note who has attempted it in road production was Charles B. Hansford, so that to the younger generation the play is largely unknown.

Don Caesar, defending a pretty street singer from insult, becomes engaged in a duel and is sentenced to death. Though the offices of a worthy priest and a devoted page the bullets of the firing squad are removed. When the soldiers fire Don Caesar falls, and supposing him dead, the priest and Don Caesar's followers are permitted to move the body. Don Caesar escapes and remains in hiding. Meantime the king falls in love with Don Caesar's wife. He had married her before his supposed execution while disguised, but has never seen her face, as she was heavily veiled. The girl has been removed to Don Caesar's castle and Don Caesar arrives on the scene just as the king is trying to force his unwelcome attention on her. Don Caesar is legally dead and appears under a new name, but the king recognizes him, and a wonderfully skilled dialogue ensues in which the king is shamed into manhood, pardons Don Caesar and exclaims: "If I were not king I would rather be Don Caesar, the Ragged Prince."

Purify the sewers of the body and stimulate the digestive organs to maintain health, strength and energy. Prickly Ash Bitters is a tonic for the kidneys, liver, stomach and bowels. Bratton Drug Co., Special Agents.

Piano Tuning.

I have done as much work the past summer as I wanted to. In fact, I have had to keep my tuning fork on ice to keep it from melting, but it is getting some cooler now, and if any of my old customers want their pianos tuned or any new customers will trust me with their work, I will be glad to do it. I guarantee my work and will give entire satisfaction or money refunded. I have a limited time in Palestine to do this work, and have no time to solicit, so if you want me to do your work just drop me a card or leave orders with W. H. Kingsbury or W. E. Swift and I will give the matter prompt attention.

Yours for good, honest work.
