

TELLS OF FIGHTS IN TOWNS OF CHIHUAHUA

rurales up to guard Terraza's home. Everyone was frightened.

Everybody Armed at Jimenez. "At Jimenez they had bought up all the guns, and were distributing them. Even the porters in the hotels were given arms. They said, there is a gun, now fight for your home. I could have got one if I had wanted it. They would take your name and deliver the rifle. They seemed to think that the people would fight against the revolutionists, but it didn't look that way any place else, did it.

Promising Soldiers Promotions. "Talk about the spirit of the thing! It was general; everybody was either excited or frightened. The government officials were promising advancement if they fought well. But the revolutionists had got in first. Somebody had played traitor, it seemed. I saw a translation of a circular which had been distributed among the troops. It was signed by Francisco Madero, and said that the soldiers were nothing but slaves, and asked them to turn before it was too late. On the bottom of the paper was a coupon. If that coupon was torn off and returned it signified that the man would fight against the government. The circular cited the revolt in Portugal and Turkey, and warned the revolutionists not to harm Americans. They are our friends," it said, "although they have received the best from the government. Every circular was numbered."

Mr. Sprenger was in Mexico City at the time of the anti-American demonstration. He said he was spat upon, and a student and an agitator killed. The traveler is a diamond merchant, employed by the Bernard, Bandler & Sons of New York City.

JUAREZ QUIET AND NO TROUBLE FEARED One Hundred and Fifty Volunteers Armed to Assist Police.

All is absolutely calm in Ciudad Juarez. One hundred and fifty volunteers have been secured and armed to assist the police if necessary, but no extra police are on duty.

There are about 300 soldiers of the 12th infantry stationed at the Juarez garrison, and a company of rurales near the city.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRES ARE ALL TAKEN.

An attempt by the Western Union Telegraph company to secure the use of a wire over the federal telegraph lines from Mexico City to El Paso to connect with the Denver office of the Associated Press has been unavailing. Officials of the federal lines in Mexico City stated that they were compelled to refuse the request as they had more than enough business to keep their only line from Mexico City to Chihuahua fully occupied.

For the first time in 15 years of operations, the lines of the Associated Press from Laredo to Monterey and Mexico City has been commandeered by the Mexican government on the plea of military need.

TEXAS RANGERS ARE ORDERED TO THE BORDER

Austin, Tex., Nov. 22.—Governor Campbell has ordered Capt. J. H. Rogers and three rangers to Zapata county. The men were sent upon receipt of a telegram from district attorney Valle, who said he had been notified by a Mexican general that an armed force of Mexicans were organized there.

FIGHTING REPORTED AT CHIHUAHUA

Mexico City, Mexico, Nov. 22.—Fighting was reported this afternoon at Chihuahua. Papers exposing the conspiracy to slay Mexican officials were discovered during a raid by the police Sunday. Three employees of El Imparcial had been furnished with explosives and were instructed to use it at the first report of an uprising, which was planned for last Sunday. The seizure of the plans on the day on which they were to be executed is thought to have had great effect in heading off the rebellion.

Orizaba is reported quiet. Miguel S. Macedo, secretary of the government, was also listed for death. President Diaz was to be captured but his life spared because of his past services to the country. The bodies of those killed were to be suspended from the electric light wires in the streets. The building of El Imparcial was to have been destroyed by dynamite.

TORREON GARRISON SURRENDERS TO REBELS

Eagle Pass, Texas, Nov. 22.—The federal garrison at Torreon surrendered. It is reported, after their numbers had been depleted by more than half in dead and injured. At Torreon is a colony of perhaps 450 Americans and many millions of American capital are invested there. After the garrison of nearly 300 federal troops at Gomez Palacio went over to the revolutionists yesterday, a fast march was made to Torreon, at least 1000 well armed men composing the attacking body.

FIGHTING SOUTH OF EL PASO; BLOODY BATTLES IN CHIHUAHUA

and was not going back to see, but brought his family to the border. Francisco Madero is reported to be in northern Coahuila where he is organizing the forces of the revolutionary cause. Everyone in Mexico, even the pro-government sympathizers, admit that the movement is the best organized that has ever been pulled off in Mexico and that the trouble has just started. Every part of the republic seems to have been organized and the juntas are now active in getting the propaganda of the revolutionists spread.

"Oppression" the Slogan. "Oppression." That is the one word which the revolutionists are using as their slogan. The oppression of the Mexican government is the thing the dissent is based upon and the fall of the Diaz reign seems a reality. It will be no surprise to many Mexicans if the troops go over. The proclamation offering the officers advancement is having its effect and the army is now wavering between the old and the new regime.

At Torreon everything was closed Sunday and no demonstrations were allowed. At Jimenez all persons, including Americans, were given arms if they declared themselves loyal to the government. One American who came to the states this morning was given a gun and told to use it in case of trouble. At Chihuahua everything is closely guarded. This is to be made the seat of the military operations for the northern zone, it is said, and troops will be mobilized there for distribution to the different parts of northern Mexico.

Geographical. Torreon, Gomez Palacio and Parral, which are now the center of the revolutionary disturbances in Mexico, are three of the most important commercial and manufacturing cities of central northern Mexico. Torreon is a city of 40,000 people and has an American population of more than 2000. It is in the center of the famous Laguna cotton district of Mexico and has extensive cotton manufacturing industries, including three large cotton mills, two cotton seed oil mills and large cotton cloth mills. Americans are heavily interested in manufacturing there and a number of the leading business houses are owned by Americans. Gomez Palacio is a city of 20,000, three miles from Torreon, and connected with it by electric car lines. It is a division point on the Mexican Central railroad, has the largest soap and cotton seed oil works in the world, and has a large American colony. Parral is a mining city of 14,000 people, with many Americans, and is in the heart of the famous mining district of Durango. At Torreon is the largest smelter in Mexico, and one of the largest in the world, and there are three large rubber plants, all giving employment to thousands of the lower class of Mexicans.

REBEL LEADERS MAKE WILLS HERE

Two of Madero's Lieutenants Were In El Paso Last Week.

Two Madero leaders were in El Paso last week to make their last will and testament before going to the front to lead the insurgent forces against the towns of Parral, Gomez Palacio and Madera. Jose de la Luz Soto, a wealthy cattleman, of Jimenez, and one of the most influential men of the state of Chihuahua, accompanied by Abraham Gonzalez, president of the Antirevolutionist club of Chihuahua, and state leader of the Madero party during the recent election, came from Jimenez Wednesday to make their wills here before joining the revolutionary forces at Jimenez and Gomez Palacio. They arrived here Wednesday morning on the National railways train from Mexico City. They went immediately to a notary public where their wills were drawn and signed. They left the same evening for the front and are thought to be leading the fighting at Gomez Palacio or Parral. While in El Paso the insurgent leaders warned their friends to watch the situation closely in Mexico, as something significant would happen within a very few days, they said. The uprisings in the towns of Gomez Palacio, Madera and Parral are thought to be what they had in mind. The revolutionary leaders were in communication by cipher with Francisco Madero, who was at San Antonio at that time. They represent the better element of the revolutionary forces and are in close touch with the entire movement against the government.

LEAVE BUSINESS TO GET OUT OF MEXICO

Chihuahua Merchants Reach El Paso and Confirm Reports of Trouble.

That the trouble in Mexico is serious, is believed by Primitivo Enriquez and Louis Estrada, two Chihuahua merchants, who arrived in El Paso Tuesday morning with their families, over the National railways. Both are endeavoring to secure houses in El Paso and have announced their intention of remaining in the United States until the trouble is over.

The hasty exit from Mexico was due, Mr. Estrada said, to the effort of army officials to enlist himself and partner. Upon their refusal, a company of rurales was sent, but the Chihuahua merchants left the city before their arrival. Estrada states that he and his partner are members of a Rifle club in Chihuahua and that an effort is being made to force all the members of the club into the regular army.

Estrada confirms the report that a trainload of soldiers left Chihuahua Tuesday afternoon for Parral, as a result of the serious trouble there. Estrada also states that a telegraph operator at Chihuahua told him that a report had gone over the wires that Rodolfo Valle, the mayor of Parral, had been seriously wounded and was expected to die.

MEXICANS ARE FLOCKING BACK TO MEXICO

Denison, Tex., Nov. 22.—One hundred Mexicans employed in railroad construction here have quit and left the city, the majority going to San Antonio. It is believed they intend participating in the Mexican revolutionary movement. While here they were making heavy purchases of firearms and cartridges at the local stores. A report says a company was organized here by secret agents of Madero and that the men are being sent to Mexico daily from north Texas construction camps.

NOTED WRITER GOES TO INVESTIGATE REVOLUTION

Otheman Stevens, dramatic and music critic for the Los Angeles Examiner, staff contributor to Cosmopolitan Magazine and playwright, spent Sunday in El Paso en route to Mexico to investigate the revolution for the Hearst publications. While here he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Martin at 514 Corto street. Mr. Stevens has frequently had interviews with president Diaz and knows Mexico well.
