COUNTRY PAPER A BUILDER.

The country paper is the greatest country builder. Its constructive force is next to marvelous; its ability to get others to see and do things has no equal. It builds roads, it improves farms, it sustains towns and villages, it improves social circles and it supports material advancement. In fact, it enters into the very heart and life of all country progress and it never ceases to do its work, writes Aaron D. States, editor of the Lamar (Mo.) Republican-Sentinel.

The power of the age is the country newspaper. It goes into the quiet of the country fireside and becomes a competent tutor to every member of the household. It is indeed a public benefactor, a progenitor of all good and useful measures, therefore about and best friend of the race. It has great educative powers. It places maturity in one school and gives to each member equal rights with the other. It is not a respecter of persons; it goes into the hovel and the modern home and it carries the same message to all. As the years deepen into the century, its influence grows stronger and its appreciation is extended.

Every year brings a needed change, a decided improvement. All classes look to it for information, for suggestion and for publicity. Corporations know of its worth, all classes of business seek its support, and all conditions of humanity come to it for aid. The country press will never die. Its columns may be abused, they may carry messages that are worthless, and ineffective for good, yet the time is fast arriving when the ideal country journal will begin its history. The time is already here when the people are asking for better things and the careful journal is meeting their demands and profiting by their requests. Let the good work go on until the entire country press will stand for every uplifting measure and for the principles and ideals that build for the betterment of the race. Better homes, a better country in which to live and a strong unit of brotherhood.—Publishers' Auxiliary.

AND THIS IS A TRUTH.

The Rusk County News says: There will be a general weeding out after the gubernatorial inauguration next January and many that have been feeding at the present administration pie counter will have to step down and out to make room for the incoming administration's hungry horde, but mark our prediction, when we say that but few of the horny-handed sons of toil, who cast the majority of the votes and did the most wailing for the nominee, will be gathered about the pie counter the next two years.

And still there are some very dirty alleys in the down-town district. Clean them up, and let us keep a clean town, back and front.

It seems that Teddy was turned down by the New York republicans yesterday, but they cannot keep him down. Just keep your eye on the old boy.

An exchange declares a fine vacation can be spent in the back yard. The Herald knows of some back yards where it would not be pleasant going for a vacation.

The Austin Statesman facetiously remarks: We don't want any sensible legislation at this time; it is too much like forcing a Campbell hen to lay eggs for a Colquitt incubator.

The Hon. Wiley Mangum Imboden wants that senatorship job. There seems to be quite a bunch of the boys eager for the place made vacant through the death of Senator Stokes.

The San Antonio Light declares the democratic party has been captured by the pros. Not yet, not yet. There remains that state senate bunch. They remain untamed and apparently untamable, and refuse to be captured.

The city of Washington is paying a bounty of 4 cents a hundred for house-flies. In some sections of this beautiful city good money could be made if such a price was offered. They could be scooped up by the thousands.

If half the truth is being told regarding the treatment of the Indians by the land-grabbers and the shrewd, unscrupulous lawyers and politicians of Oklahoma, the penitentiary of that new state is not half big enough to hold those who should be in it.

March 4 next will mark the passing of many of the picturesque figures in the United States senate. Practically all of the old guard will have retired save Senators Frye of Maine and Cullom of Illinois.

Frank S. Butterworth, who was a star football player at Yale in the early nineties, is a candidate for the republican congressional nomination in the Second Connecticut district to succeed M. D. Sperry, who at eighty-four is retiring, the oldest member of congress in point of years.

Rather a Dull Sort.

"Yes," said Mrs. Wadsworth, "the family is most interesting. John dances divinely, Tom sings like an angel, David is a famous footballer, Susanne paints with great taste." "And Henry?" "Oh, Henry. YOAKUM ROAD WILL BUILD into San Antonio within a Very Short Time—Rich Territory to Be Opened Up.

(Herald Special.)

San Antonio, Texas, Aug. 17.—That the St. Louis, Brownsville & Mexico railroad will build a trunk line into this city is the definite announcement made by A. T. Perkins, vice president of the system. Mr. Perkins came to San Antonio for the express purpose of making this statement to the Chamber of Commerce. In order to put his road in contact with San Antonio as soon as possible a branch line will be built from Kingsville to Alice, a station on the San Antonio & Aransas Pass railroad. This done the St. Louis, Brownsville & Mexico will run its own trains into this city. The branch line in question will be twenty-two miles in length and will ultimately form part of the main line. Work on the latter will be pushed with all energy and Mr. Perkins is confident that it will be in operation within twelve months. The distance to be covered by it is one hundred and twenty-five miles. Owing to the fact that the country traversed is prairie land of an undulating character no serious engineering problem will be encountered.

It is understood that the line to be built will form the connecting link in the Yoakum railroads for a short line between St. Louis and Mexico City. Surveying crews now in the field are selecting a route from Brady, Texas, southward towards San Antonio, the former being at present the terminal of the Frisco road. The two lines would meet in this city and provide a short haul for all through traffic to Mexico.

The new international bridge at Brownsville will be open for traffic next November and will give the Yoakum roads physical contact with the National lines of Mexico at Matamoras. In all probability, if rumors are to be believed, the Yoakum interests will then build an air line to Mexico City. The branch of the National lines with which the St. Louis, Brownsville & Mexico will connect follows a rather circuitous route and for that reason an effective short line to Mexico City from St. Louis will not be a reality before a road down the east coast of the republic is in operation. The latter incidentally would tap one of the richest districts in Mexico.

The territory to be opened by the road of which the building has been announced by Mr. Perkins is one of the richest in all Texas. In the southern and central parts of it crops are raised throughout the year and during the winter large quantities of garden truck are shipped from there. The new railroad would greatly stimulate the production of the latter and a large share of its freight tonnage would be made up from it.
