A NEEDED LAW.

A great deal is being said just now about a law to protect the smaller creditors of railroad companies, the men who furnish supplies and render services, or who hold just claims against such companies, and there is a diversity of opinion about what is right and just, and much is said about the rights of stock and bond holders and all that. The Herald believes in the square deal, and believes that a corporation worth millions of dollars should not be allowed to ignore debts of small amounts made with people who cannot afford to lose their claims. It seems to this paper that one of the best ways to prevent such losses would be to make it a crime in Texas for a railroad to divert any part of its funds until its current and local indebtedness has been paid in full. All people who are familiar with such matters know that it is a common practice to take the funds and apply on interest on over-capitalization, or to apply such funds on other extensions, etc., making it often impossible to pay the debts from the income. And this should not be permitted. A big corporation should have no legal right, as it certainly has no moral right, to defraud the small man out of his bill, even in order to protect the bond or mortgage holder.

DR. SILLIMAN'S SUGGESTION.

The Herald today publishes the address of retiring President J. C. Silliman of the Board of Trade, and suggests that every reader of this paper give the article a close reading, because it contains truths and suggestions that every man in the town should know. The doctor has stayed well in the bounds of conservatism, and yet his address makes a splendid showing for the town. It is a fact that none will dispute that Palestine is today in the most prosperous condition of any time in its history, and it is a further truth that the Board of Trade is in a large measure responsible for this condition. But what has been accomplished in the past few years has been done by a comparatively few men in the Board, men who have unselfishly devoted their time and thought to the public needs of the town. If it develops in the year to come that this small number of workers are to be joined by many others we may expect big things to result. But, whatever you may think of this suggestion, read the address in this paper, and get the good suggestions made.

AFTER BIG GAME.

Teddy Roosevelt has announced that he is off on another big hunt. This time he is not after the white rhino, but says in good, plain English that he is going to hunt the crooks out of his own party. This is a hunt worth while, and if the former president succeeds he will have the thanks of the American people, regardless of party connections. There have come up within recent years a class of politicians who adopt as their motto "get the money," and they have burdened this country with special privileges and graft. And these are the fellows the ex-president says he is after. And he is joined in this hunt by thousands of good men and true, who do not believe the government should be despoiled and the masses exploited for the benefit of the few. Public opinion will eventually force public officials to be clean, and this same public opinion will right many other things that now seem to menace the common good. One of the first things it will do will be to correct the robber tariff. And while Roosevelt is hunting the crook in his party there are other strong men looking for the same class in the democratic ranks. The day of the grafter is numbered.

Anderson county should determine on securing five hundred additional farmers this year, and go after them. The people are coming to Texas.

A magnificent rain fell here yesterday afternoon, and last night was cool and delightful. It is in order now to advise that the turnip architect get busy with his seed.

The members of the Board of Trade, and this should mean every progressive man in the town, have pledged themselves to get out and work for the park proposition. Palestine needs and must have these parks, and if the people do not accept the offers now they will not have the opportunity again.

In just a short time now this people will be called on to vote on the park bond issue. As the Herald sees it it would be an irreparable mistake to fail to secure these parks at this time. If the city does not buy the park sites they will be cut up into residence lots and sold, and it will be hard to find such other locations. Think it over.

The Board of Trade was reorganized last night, and a fine spirit of enthusiasm was manifest. If the people of this good old town will take hold of the Board work and earnest and go after business they can get results that will be surprising. And this is what they should do. Every man, whether he is in business or employed on salary should have a live membership in the Board and a live interest in its work.

RANGERS INVESTIGATING

Report of Another Killing in Houston County—Negro Woman Reported Killed.

In answer to information received here Wednesday afternoon that a negro woman had been killed near Wenchell, in Houston county, the rangers temporarily stationed here were dispatched to that locality to make an investigation. Up to noon today the rangers had made no report on the case to the officers here, and little is known of the particulars. A telegraph item from Crockett says Sheriff Lacy of Houston county had made an arrest in connection with the killing.

SHIPPING BILL PASSES HOUSE.

Will Not Be Made Operative Immediately as Was First Desired.

Austin, Texas, Aug. 25.—Action of the house committee on insurance today in substituting the Cureton insurance bill for the senate bill means that a solution of the insurance question is still a problem between the senate and house. In the house this afternoon it is expected the house bill will be passed finally and sent over to the senate and then will come the free conference committee. The only thing done by the house today was the final passage of the bill of lading bill, but it failed to receive a two-thirds vote and consequently will not go into immediate effect.

While all indications point to the passage of the railroad claim bill in both branches, still there will be some opposition to the measure in the senate in its present shape. The senate wants to protect all bonds now existing and issued under the stock and bond law. This bill will come up this afternoon in the senate, while in the house this measure was made a special order for tomorrow morning.

The first business before the senate when it met this morning was to receive a message from the governor submitting for confirmation the nomination of L. C. Wise of Abilene to be a member of the board of managers of the epileptic colony there. He was confirmed in executive sessions beginning at 11:45.

Favorable committee reports were received on the car shed bill, both the bill of lading bills, the spider bill and the International and Great Northern claim bill.

The senate adopted a favorable committee report on the International and Great Northern bill and it was laid before the senate on passage to engrossment. Hudspeth offered an amendment to provide that the bill shall not affect bonds issued under the stock and bond law of Texas.

Senator moved to set the bill for a special order tomorrow morning. In arguing for this motion he suggested that the bill if passed in its present form might give the railroads an opportunity to issue watered bonds contrary to the state law, and also pointed out that any section which prefers one character of claim above another renders a law invalid. Brachfield suggested setting the bill over for consideration to 3 o'clock this afternoon, and this suggestion prevailed in the end. In the meantime Real got the floor and on a plea of personal privilege attacked a story in the San Antonio Light which he said reflected on the senate, branding it as slander. On motion of Brachfield the senate then recessed subject to the call of the chair.

After confirming the Wise nomination in executive session the senate recessed to 3 o'clock this afternoon, when the railroad valuation bill will be taken up and discussed.

When the senate met this afternoon the International railroad claim bill was pending business. Senator Hudspeth moved that the senate adjourn so as to give the members on the penitentiary committee time to complete their labors. This prevailed by a vote of 13 to 12 and the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

P. O. STATION IS ROBBED

OLD TOWN POSTOFFICE SUBSTATION ROBBED EARLY LAST EVENING—MONEY IS RECOVERED AND TWO NEGROES JAILED.

Last evening at about 7 o'clock the safe in the Old Town Drug Store was robbed and government money in the sum of some seventy dollars was stolen. The sub-station of the local postoffice is located in the drug store. Almost immediately the robbery was discovered and officers were notified, and got on the trail of the thieves. The chase resulted in the arrest of Willie Bonner and Pink Campbell, negroes, and a negro girl. The girl was released this morning by direction of the sheriff. It is claimed that when officers crowded the negroes last night they threw sixty dollars or more into the yard of a resident of Old Town, where it was recovered. The officers feel sure they have the right parties under arrest, and it is understood that a partial confession has been made.

Senior Stokes Dead.

A telegram received here yesterday afternoon by Judge Jno. F. Watts announced the death in Crockett of Mr. Chas. F. Stokes, a prominent citizen of that place, and the father of the lamented Senator Carl Stokes, whose death was recorded some two weeks ago. Mr. Stokes, Sr., was well advanced in years, but it is believed the death of his son contributed largely to the cause of his death. Mr. Stokes stood high in his community, and had been honored with public office many times by his neighbors. Judge Watts left this morning for Crockett to attend the funeral, which took place at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

A Board of Trade committee composed of Messrs. Jno. R. Hearne, H. V. Hamilton, G. H. Turner, D. M. Hodges and J. W. Pompeo Coppini, the well known sculptor of San Antonio, en route north, stopped over here today as the guest of Mr. J. W. Ozment. When advised of the movement to locate two pretty parks here, the sculptor grew enthusiastic, and said he hoped the parks would be secured, as a city without parks was very much like a home without a yard.
