LABOR AND CAPITAL.

Abraham Lincoln said: "Labor is prior to and independent of capital; capital is only the fruit of labor, and could never have existed but for labor. Labor is the superior of capital and deserves much the higher consideration. Capital has its rights which are as good as those of labor." Nor should this lead to a war upon the owners of property. Property is the fruit of labor; property is desirable; is a positive good in the world. Let not him who is houseless pull down the house of another, but let him work diligently and build one for himself, thus by example showing that his own shall be safe from violence when built.

It seems to me that in these words Lincoln took substantially the attitude that we ought to take; he showed the proper sense of proportion in his relative estimates of capital and labor, of human rights and property rights.

We are face to face with new conceptions of the relations of property to human welfare, chiefly because certain advocates of the right of property as against the rights of men have been pushing their claims too far.

The man who wrongly holds that every human right is secondary to his profit must now give way to the advocate of human welfare, who rightly maintains that every man holds his property subject to the general right of the community to regulate its use to whatever degree the public welfare may require it.

But I think we may go still further. The right to regulate the use of wealth in the public interest is universally admitted. Let us admit also the right to regulate the terms and conditions of labor, which is the chief element of wealth, directly in the interest of the common good.

The fundamental thing to do for every man is to give him the chance to reach a place in which he will make the greatest possible contribution to the public welfare.

No man can be a good citizen unless he has a wage more than sufficient to cover the bare cost of living, and hours of labor short enough so that after his day's work is done he will have time and energy to bear his share in the management of the community, to help in carrying the general load.

We need countless men from being good citizens by the conditions of life with which we surround them.

We need comprehensive workmen's compensation acts, both state and national laws to regulate child labor and the work of women, and especially we need in our common schools not merely education in book learning, but also practical training for daily life and work.

Also, in the interest of the workman himself, we need to set our faces like flint against mob violence just as against corporate greed; against violence and injustice and lawlessness by wage-earners just as much as against lawless cunning and greed and selfish arrogance of employers.—Theodore Roosevelt.

MINDING ONE'S BUSINESS PAYS.

Brethren, we spend too much time talking about what other sections are doing. What we need to be doing is to show other sections what we are doing. Get into the Board of Trade and demand better conditions in this county. The first great work at hand is the securing of a larger county population.—Palestine Herald.

It is not matter of so very long ago that a certain high financier was rounded up in New York upon the charge of going into a pool with certain other men and dropping out quietly at the top of the wave, leaving his companions to bear the subsequent losses. In the course of his examination he was asked what he had told other people as to his intentions and responded that he told no person anything about his business. He is a striking example of making money by attending to one's own business all the time. It furnishes the moral for a layman—how to build up a town.

PALESTINE PICTORIALLY PORTRAYED.

From the Palestine Herald has come a little illustrated folder advertising the city of Palestine, county seat of Anderson county. This folder, carrying out the latest ideas, is mainly pictorial. There are shown views of public buildings in Palestine, country clubs, stores, municipal works, schools and churches. Two or three pages are devoted to a succinct and comprehensive statement of Palestine's growth during the past few years. Like the Herald itself, this folder is typical of a progressive and prosperous city and community.—Galveston News.

A most important election is being held in this good old town today, and if the people have voted right Palestine will be the owner of two pretty parks as a result.

The Boys' Corn Club made a big hit in the parade yesterday. These little fellows have started a movement in Anderson county that promises to bring this section to the front as a corn section.

Labor Day is a thing of the past for the present year, and the labor hosts provided a pleasant day's outing for their guests and friends. Everything passed off quietly and with good fellowship.

Dallas won the pennant in the Texas baseball league contest, and Col. Maloney, formerly of the good city of Palestine, and captain of the Dallas team, is as cheery as the law allows. Palestine sends congratulations to the pioneer.

From the Palestine Herald we have received a very handsomely printed folder of views about the Anderson county capital. The Herald itself is a visible indication of how live a town Palestine is, and the folder adds to the proof.—Denton Record and Chronicle.

For several weeks now it will be straight old business in this good old town. Every effort should be made to extend the trade territory, that the people of this section may come to a good town to do their shopping. A little united effort and the liberal use of Herald advertising space should accomplish the desired result.

Announcement was made yesterday that a meeting of farmers will be held in this city Friday to discuss the question of cotton weighing in Palestine. The Herald hopes this matter will be sifted down and settled definitely. This paper does not believe anything but a square deal, and a thorough understanding should bring this about.

Awards Made in Boys' Corn Club Contest

Editors Herald:

I have the pleasure to report the results of the demonstration made by the Anderson County Boys' Corn Club. There were eighty boys enrolled in the club, but on account of the April freeze a number became discouraged, only about thirty continuing the work. We have reports from twenty-eight crops, on a number of acres which were replanted and some in fine corn was too green to gather and not reported. The awarding committee, G. A. Wright, Jno. F. Nash, B. F. Rogers and Wm. M. Brown, made the following awards:

Zack Hutcherson, first prize, 72 bushels.
Russell M. Shirley, second prize, 70 3-4 bushels.
Edgar Moore, third prize, 66 1-2 bushels.
Frank Johnson, fourth prize, 65 bushels.

In addition to above prizes, awards were made for best ten ears of corn, being sixteen prizes contributed by the merchants of the city, as follows: Tom Punderburk, first.
Perry Taylor, second.
Zack Hutcherson, third.
Hubert Marlow, fourth.

John White, fifth.
Marion Kennedy, sixth.
Francis Gerling, seventh.
Russell Shirley, eighth.
John Moore, ninth.
James Fitzgerald, tenth.
Marvin Pennington, eleventh.
Edgar Moore, twelfth.
Chilton Kelly, thirteenth.
Calvin Hinson, fourteenth.
Edgar Conaway, fifteenth.
Preston Hughes, sixteenth.

A special prize was awarded Hubert Marlow as a corn grower and diversifier, he having produced on his acre of land sixty-five bushels of potatoes planted between seven-foot corn rows, and after gathering his potatoes planted and harvested twelve bushels of peas, besides forty-four bushels of fine corn, for which he gained fourth prize.

The four prize winners averaged on four acres 67 1-4 bushels, and twenty boys on twenty acres averaged 48 bushels.

There is now on exhibition at the Board of Trade thirty-five samples from thirty-five farms in Anderson county, and I doubt if any county in Texas can show better corn.
C. A. Sterne,
Secretary Board of Trade.

DUGEY PLEAS NEW ORLEANS.

Initial Performance of Texan in the Southern League Praised.

Oscar Dugey, the Waco second baseman who went to New Orleans, is setting the Southern League afire, according to reports coming from there, and the wise ones are picking him to nose out some of the regulars if luck breaks favorably for the youngster. A New Orleans paper says:

"While the hefty hitting of the home men was a cause of delight to the crowd, the initial performance of Ossie Dugey, from Waco, Texas, was perhaps the chief feature of interest. The reputation given Dugey by the scouts who put Manager Frank on his trail, his prowess with the stick, as indicated in the Texas League records, and his promise as a ball player, combined to draw attention to him. "Dugey is all the scouts claim for him. Although a youngster, the infant of the flock, he is going to be one of its best. Jackson and other speed marvels had better look to their laurels, for he can burn up the turf. A clean fielder, too, and quick and true in his relaying. In three times at bat he made one hit. He shows good form at the bat, swinging clean and aiming to meet the ball flush—nothing more. These fellows who try to kill the horsehide and lose $1.25 of the management's money, are the outfielder's delight."

KILLED A RARE BIRD.

Mrs. Charles Williams, Sunday morning on Waterworks Lake.

Mr. Charles Williams, connected with the waterworks company, Sunday morning killed a white pelican with a shotgun, that measured from tip to tip eight feet and four inches. It is not often that pelicans are seen here, and the white pelican is a very rare bird. Unfortunately the bird was not saved for mounting, but it was sold to a party who had it picked for its feathers.

TEXAS NEWS NOTES.

Things in the legislature: The senate passed the Senate bill of lading bill, giving the railroad commission the right to settle the question.
