Euchre Club.

Mrs. Hyman Harrison entertained the Euchre Club Thursday. Three tables were arranged for the players. Everything was bright and merry within; nothing was suggestive of the cold without. Hospitality and New Year's greetings reigned. After several games Mrs. Leo Davidson was awarded the head prize, a beautiful individual sugar and cream set. Mrs. H. Horwitz received the consolation, a pretty hand-painted cake plate. Mrs. Siegel of Arkansas was presented the guest prize, a dainty pin cushion of pink silk in laces and ribbon, the work of the hostess. An elaborate two-course luncheon was served. Mrs. Siegel of Arkansas, who is the guest of Mrs. Sam D. Brooks, was a guest of the club. The members are: Mesdames Leo Davidson, Hyman Harrison, H. Bloch, H. Horwitz, Sam D. Brooks, Barney Pearlstone, A. S. Fox, A. Teah, Will Klein, Hada Dreyfus, Misses Finkelshtein and Stella Ash.

Bade Farewell to the Old Year.

The following clipping from a New York paper is sent by a friend, with the note: When men and women cease to think more of self than anything else in the wide world, then will such extravagance cease, and God's poor will be thought of. "The poor ye have always with you" is for a purpose. God has not given all the same talents. The rich are abused and often, but it is better to give alms a few times than to let human beings suffer. Ten to fifty dollars a seat! Ten dollars can keep a little family many days. The pity of it is that it goes on, and the revelers never think of but one side of it. Read the following:

Eight bells tapped the quartermaster of the flagship; eight bells sounded every other battleship of the Atlantic squadron, and, as the mingled voices of the bells, softened by the water, floated to shore, they blended with the reminiscent chimes of Old Trinity, of Grace church and of St. Patrick's cathedral. It was the end of a watch, the end of a day, the end of a year. As the last stroke vibrated into silence, every light went out, and every whistle afloat and ashore shrilled and roared its greetings to the new year. Down-town, the new year rode in on waves of champagne. Since 10 o'clock "nothing but champagne" had been the rule at all the better known restaurants along Fifth avenue and Broadway, where more than 100,000 guests had paid from $10 to $50 a seat for their reservations. It is estimated that this great crowd of merry-makers left $1,500,000 behind them with restaurateurs and hotel keepers. At one hotel alone 4,000 reservations had been made a month in advance. At another, the guests wore silk masks and were permitted to pass from table to table without identification. On the streets, there was the same old deafening riot of cow bells, tom toms and horns.

How would you like to see New York bid farewell to the old year and greet the new year? All very great. A great pity some of this vast wealth cannot be given to the thousands that are starving within their gates, and at their very doors. The poor in New York are the poorest I have ever seen. With best wishes for a bright and happy New Year.

A Friend.

Miss Orlene Evans has returned from Longview, where she has had a delightful visit.

The young men of our city will compliment their friends with a break-in German this afternoon at the city hall.

BRIGHT LITTLE FELLOWS

Little Tots in Second Grade Do Difficult Sums in Mathematics. Show Good Training.

By invitation a Herald man dropped in at the Central school building yesterday afternoon. Prof. King, the superintendent, had invited some of the teachers and a Herald man to witness exercises in mathematics, or more correctly, in arithmetic, given by Miss Parish, the low second and the high second.

Numerous examples were worked out in addition, multiplication, subtraction and division, and the brightness and aptitude of the little fellows was little short of marvelous. Prof. King stated that they had not been coached specially for the visitors, but that the sums given were just such as they were drilled in from day to day. Even in handling fractions the little fellows showed remarkable brightness. One test that but few grown-ups can do without stopping to think it out, and then perhaps not, was counting from 1 to 100 in Roman numerals. "One I one," was begun at one side of the room, and successively each child called out the next number until "C" for 100 was reached. The tests covered a period of nearly an hour, and the children distinguished themselves.

TERRIBLE STRAIN RESULTED NOT AMISS

A Lenoir Lady, After Two Weeks Grinding Labor, Feels Better Than Ever.

Lenoir, N. C.—"I am not tired at all, and am stouter than I have ever been," writes Mrs. Kate Waters, of Lenoir, N. C., "although I have just finished a two weeks' wash. I lay my strength to Cardui, the woman's tonic. I have taken a lot of it and I can never praise it enough for what it has done for me. I can never thank you enough for the advice you gave me, to take Cardui, for since taking it I look so well and am stout as a mule."

You are urged to take Cardui, that gentle, vegetable tonic, for weak women. Its use will strengthen and build up your system, relieve or prevent headache, backache and the ailments of weak women.

It will surely help you, as it has helped thousands of others, in the past 50 years.

PACKED HOUSE

Greeted Burnison and Taylor at the Lyric Last Night.

The management says: Burnison and Taylor played to a packed house at the New Lyric Theatre last night and the comedy "Silly Kids," won universal favor. The feature of the act, however, was the singing of Miss Taylor, who appeared at the opening of the sketch dressed in a handsome gown of colonial days. She looked very pretty, and her songs were most charming.

"The Royal Outcast," a late Edison high art film shown last night, is one of the best subjects in motion pictures seen here for a long time.

Tonight, by special request, Burnison and Taylor will repeat "Graham's Valet," the sketch that made such a big hit on Thursday night.

Every lady visiting the Lyric tonight will be presented with a can of Everybody's Syrup, compliments of the Moore Grocery Co. of this city.

Officers Elected.

At a meeting of the ladies of Grace Methodist church last Tuesday the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Mrs. J. T. West.
First Vice President—Mrs. Adkins.
Recording Secretary—Mrs. H. H. Davis.
Treasurer—Miss Ada Cuson.
The other offices were left open until a later date. The society is to meet again next Tuesday in the church. They are planning large things for this year. All ladies are invited to their meetings.

Weather Conditions.

The New England low pressure area has passed out to sea. The barometer is relatively low over Oklahoma, and there appears to be a slight depression entering Montana. The barometer is high over the remainder of the country, with centers of high pressure over the Middle Atlantic states and Wyoming, respectively. Precipitation has occurred over scattered areas in the lake region, the upper Missouri valley, the northern Rocky mountain region and the north Pacific states. Fair and somewhat warmer weather prevails over Texas.
