WITNESS DENIES CHARGES OF DRUNKENNESS AT VOTING PLACE

Chance to Refute Charges. Falvey said: "I will offer no testimony except those papers which have been accused of things, may want to say something. That will be all the testimony that will be offered for me." While they were waiting for the witnesses for the contest Manuel Flores was sworn and testified that he went to precinct No. 7 to vote, and was refused. Joe Boone, he said, told him he was a Republican.

On cross-examination the witness said he was a Republican and was a Democratic primary.

Thurmond—"In which all the negroes voted."

Witness—"Joe Dunne handed me a ticket and told me to read the pledge. I told him I was willing to pledge myself to support the candidates on the ticket I would vote for."

The witness said that he was a Republican and knew that the heading of the pledge was "I am a Democrat." He said that he would not agree to that.

Ballard Caldwell Testifies. Ballard Caldwell testified: "I was supervisor at precinct 6. A negro man came in. He came up and was talking to Mr. Pence and said he wanted to vote the county ring ticket. I noticed that Pence had scratched every ring ticket and told me to read the pledge. Pence gave him another ticket and he said to me: 'You fix it then.' Pence had made out the ticket directly opposite to the way the man said he wanted it."

"My recollection is I only made out three tickets. I only made out three or four more. On the outside I could not have scratched more than eight tickets. The negroes who scratched were more than ring tickets."

"I did not take any one into the back room. There was a table there back of the fire wagon and there were voters back there. I went back there as supervisor. When I was marking the tickets, I remember two men in the room. Mr. Boone was standing near. I would call out the names. Mr. Boone would say when I called out an anti ring name: 'Vote for him. He is a good man.'

Says Opening Was Delayed. The witness said that when he arrived at the polls the judges were not doing anything. He stated that there seemed to be an inclination to delay the election as much as possible. He said the polls were opened about 8:30 o'clock.

The witness stated that a man came to the polls who had been transferred. His name was written in ink on one of the transfers. The name, he said, was written on the sheets before it was delivered to the poll. He did not make any protest to him during the election day. The witness stated that the protest appeared to occur after the contest started. If he made any suggestion, the witness said, it was done only to facilitate the election. Pence, he said, was very slow and could not keep up the ballot. He testified that the election was not going as fast as it should.

"I never heard of Medina being an interpreter," the witness said. "I told Medina that Pence had no authority to discharge him. I never said a word to Mr. Pence. As to 'rough house.' I don't use that sort of language, only occasionally. What Pence heard was what I said to Medina. I protested against Hughes being sworn in because I had all I could do to watch."

A negro from the G. H. shops, the times—maybe five. They came in to get a drink of water. People were voting. Mr. Boone came in there. I sent for him to find out the law. He stayed there three or four minutes. I don't recall how long he stayed. The negroes were voting. A crowd many negroes voted there. I did not ask them whether they were Republicans or Democrats. That I thought the president's name ought to be. I don't think he did. I do not make any inquiry as to that. I got $100 for a month's work to help Dr. Yard as campaign manager.

"I was employed at the headquarters of the anti-ring ticket."

Says One Man Was Impaired. John Saunders stated: "I was presiding judge of precinct 2. I was at the polls on the morning of the election at 6:30. If there was any whisky in the room, I don't know. I was there by Albert Gonzalez. There was only one man there that I could say was impaired from performing his duties and that was Albert Gonzalez."

On cross-examination he testified: "I did not drink a drop. I saw Fred Delgado. I don't know how many times he came in. I don't remember whether he was in there or not. I remember he asked me how the voting was going. That might have been three times. He asked me that. That was on election day. I might have been making out tickets. I don't know. Delgado came to the window and asked me through the window. I don't know how many of the votes of the illiterate people, and I was so busy I could not tell you just who came in."

Did Not Question Politics. "I never asked a man his politics. The way it was, he was either voting for either he wanted to vote for Alderete and his companions, or Escalada. A negro would say 'I want the straight anti ring ticket.' A negro came in and said he wanted to vote the ring ticket and he asked me to give him one. I struck out Alderete's and Escalada's names. To correct that I wrote on the margin like Alderete and Escalada. That is the only instance I remember. I never mismarked anybody's ticket intention."

"I did not call off the name of any candidate to the voter."

"There has been here there a half dozen times. He was there one time. He was never in the building, not one time. I saw him in the building. I never saw him. I saw him on the streets. Mr. Kelly never told me to mark the tickets."

Gonzalez said to me that as I was presiding judge I ought to designate some one to mark the tickets for the illiterate voters. I said if my interpretation of the law was right I would designate myself.

"When I asked whether Delgado voted there or not. I did not try to keep any cases on Delgado. I was a busy man. Delgado had been in the building. I saw all the voters less than that. I saw Ed Bryant rubbing around like water. He might have been across the street or up in the window. I never saw him at the window."

Did Not Talk to Delgado. "I gave the instructions to the officers not to let any one come in who did not have any business there. I did not lose time to keep cases on everybody. I know that if there was any irregularity I would have called attention to it. I did not say anything to Delgado. I don't remember. I don't think I did."

I did not have time to say anything to anybody. I don't remember Ed Bryant coming in. Kelly was not in there. He got out.

Says He Was Not Intoxicated. G. S. Brooks testified: "I was supervisor and I was not intoxicated. I had on a stiff cuff. I did not drink anything on election day. I did not drink until Monday and then only three drinks. The witness said that he ate a hamburger and it made him sick, and he vomited. He stated that he had a weak stomach."

On cross-examination: "I saw some whisky on the outside. A Mexican across the street had a bottle of whisky. I have been appointed deputy constable since the election under Montoya. I made out a few tickets. There were some men who came in who were under the influence of something. I knew what they were doing. I did not see any ballots on the floor."

Policemen. The witness said he came in the polls to get water. He said he brought water out to the police and did this to keep them from coming in. He stated that it was not a part of his duty to carry the water. The witness said that the reason why he voted whenever there was a rush. He stated that he did not know it was against the law for the police to come in. The witness said that he saw Dominga Montoya across the street.

Was Asked to Help the Ring. Lorenzo Miranda testified that he voted in precinct No. 2, which was under the preparation of his ballot. He said he was asked if he could not help the ring. This he said was after the ticket had been made out. The witness said he saw the ticket, but as he did not read English he could not tell how it was made out. He stated that the ballot was prepared in favor of the ring. He said that he had requested Medina to help him. Medina, he said, told him he would vote for the ring. Miranda said, ticket, his son told him he had voted his was his son's name.

On cross-examination the witness said that he did not hear Medina tell his son that his ticket had been prepared pared for the ring. He stated that it was two hours after he had voted that his son told him Medina had made out his own ticket. The witness said that in fact he did not know how he had voted. His son, he said, had voted for the anti-ring ticket.

Says Medina Made Out Ticket. Manuel Garcia testified that he voted in precinct No. 6. He said that he read and wrote English well enough to make out his own ticket. Tomas Medina, he said, told him that he would prepare the ticket for him. The witness said he recalled that he could make out his own ticket. Medina, he said, told him to save him the ballot. Medina then, he said, prepared the ticket for the anti-ring ticket. The witness said that he scratched Medina, whose name he said was scratched. Medina, he said, started to scratch. Later, he said, the ticket, with a pencil, was handed to him and he scratched. The witness said he scratched the name of the ticket and scratched Escalada's name. The witness said he told Medina that he would scratch the anti-ring ticket. He said that when he first asked for a ballot, he stated that he would make out his own ticket. He thought it was right, and gave him the ticket.

"When Medina had the ticket folded up," said the witness, "he handed it to me. He said: 'It was a mistake. I told him how could he make out his own ticket. He said: 'Mistakes often happen.' He then told me to fix the ticket myself. He said it would be all right. He said to rub the scratches over Alderete's name, a little. When I called Medina's attention to the ticket, he said: 'Not right. A man there said I did right. He did not say anything to Medina.'"

On cross-examination the witness said he called Mr. Bull's attention to the ticket. He said that he would vote for the anti-ring ticket. The witness said that he was doing there. The witness said that he wanted to vote for the anti-ring ticket. He said that he was an American, he stated, and he asked him who he wanted to vote for when he first walked in. He said that Tomas Medina followed him. He said he saw Medina mark the ticket. Medina did not say anything to him until Medina gave him the ticket, and told him to put it in the box. Medina, he said, was standing near the table, and he called his attention to the ticket. Medina, he said, stated that he had only made a mistake in the name. He stated that he wanted to vote for the entire anti-ring ticket, and he voted that way.

R. E. Harris Testifies. R. E. Harris testified: "I voted in precinct No. 6, Ballard Caldwell's station. When I walked into the booth to mark my ticket some one walked into the booth to mark his ticket. I was blind. He said to the man in the booth: 'Don't mark those names. Those are the ring names. He seemed to be pointing out names, because he said: 'These are the ring candidates. Don't scratch those names.'"

On cross-examination the witness stated that he did not know whether or not he was the man who made the remark was an American. He said that he was a judge of election at precinct No. 6, Ballard Caldwell, he said, he thought was a anti-ring candidate.

Thurmond—"Do you know of any electioneering being done in that place by the anti-ring ticket?"

Says Medina Was Electioneering. Witness—"Yes, sir. The boy Medina, who was in the booth, he had been there three times electioneering. I warned him and finally I discharged him. I told him that was against the law. I told him to get out."

"Caldwell said the boy would stay on there until he had more of the book found for a policeman, but he could not find one."

"Several times I got after Mr. Caldwell for going into the booth when he was not asked for."

He was making votes in a room, 20 voters in the polling place. His attention was called to that. I got up and went back there and told him he was making out the tickets. He said he was making out the tickets on a table there. I might have been in the room. Caldwell's attention to the fact that he had butted in without being asked, and he waited until a voter asked him for help."

Ballard Caldwell would take the voters into the booth, and out of sight from the voting booths, and out of sight.

Why He Discharged Medina. "I discharged Medina because I found him trying to influence voters. He was in the booth, and he had a book. Caldwell knew that I had reprimanded Medina. He heard the conversation."

"I saw Medina electioneering for the ring ticket. I heard one voter say that he would vote for the anti-ring ticket. I saw Medina electioneering for the anti-ring ticket. I heard Medina say: 'This is the anti-ring ticket.' I saw Medina electioneering for the anti-ring ticket. I heard Medina say: 'This is the anti-ring ticket.' I saw Medina electioneering for the anti-ring ticket. I heard Medina say: 'This is the anti-ring ticket.'"

"I saw Medina electioneering for the ring ticket. I heard one voter say that he would vote for the anti-ring ticket. I saw Medina electioneering for the anti-ring ticket. I heard Medina say: 'This is the anti-ring ticket.' I saw Medina electioneering for the anti-ring ticket. I heard Medina say: 'This is the anti-ring ticket.'"

"I saw Medina electioneering for the ring ticket. I heard one voter say that he would vote for the anti-ring ticket. I saw Medina electioneering for the anti-ring ticket. I heard Medina say: 'This is the anti-ring ticket.' I saw Medina electioneering for the anti-ring ticket. I heard Medina say: 'This is the anti-ring ticket.'" ticket after he had told him it was made out wrong.

Tells How He Helped Voters. On cross-examination the witness said that when a voter came to him he would ask him how he wanted to vote. Then he said he would read the names of the candidates. The witness said he heard Pence reiterate with Caldwell about marking the tickets.

Says Man Remonstrated. J. J. Boone testified that he was clerk in precinct No. 6, Ballard Caldwell, he said, was supervisor. He stated that Caldwell assisted voters in making out their tickets. The witness said he heard Pence reiterate with Caldwell about marking the tickets.

Names in Red Ink. "There were one or eight names written in red ink on the sheets. I found out later his name was in red ink. Another name was in red ink. Caldwell went out and came back in. They took Diaz away and later brought him back. He did not have a poll receipt. I think he said he had lost it. I do not remember that his name was marked on the lists or sworn."

"They had a package of blank affidavits and ran out. Mr. Pence had to take a piece of paper. There were a good many illiterate persons who voted on the affidavits. They claimed they had lost their poll tax receipt."

"Heads or Tails to Mark Tally." "There were one or two tickets for Alderete and Escalada. They did not count. These had a little mark on both the names."

"The clerk would get ahead on the count they would throw heads or tails. I think Caldwell won the three or four times. They did not try to count the ballots."

On cross-examination the witness stated that he did not know if Diaz had been transferred to precinct No. 6. He said that they found the name on the lists.

"Caldwell said, 'Don't scratch that way, that is a ring ticket,' the witness said. 'The negro I think had the pencil. I don't know how he voted.'"

Frank Alderete Recalled. Frank Alderete was recalled and was handed a list of names.

Mr. Thurmond said that it was a list of 18 names of men who had voted in the primaries and were alleged not to be citizens of this country. The names were made a part of the record.

Witness—"I prepared some of these lists. I don't think they were qualified to vote. Some of the fellows here were not qualified. I examined the district clerk's records. There was no evidence that they were citizens. I have been convicted three times in each precinct where they had voted, and no one knew them. Some of them are men who have been convicted three served terms in the penitentiary. The majority of them are not citizens."

On cross-examination the witness stated that he had only inquired about the persons in El Paso. He said that if any persons named had taken out citizenship papers in any other county he did not know it.

Douglas, Ariz., Aug. 29.—There is much street talk of organizing a force to go to the aid of El Tigre, but there is a certain movement yet. El Tigre mines are the richest gold mines in Mexico and if held by the rebels would be sufficient to finance them indefinitely.

Oaxaca, Mex., Aug. 29.—Bringing in 50 horses and saddles, 25 mules loaded with provisions and munitions of war, and $500, all captured from the rebels, a band of 40 volunteers in the government service returned here after beating the insurgents in a series of sharp engagements that began last Saturday.

The rebel losses in the engagements were more than two scores, including four prisoners, one of whom was a woman camp follower, who was captured with a rifle in her hands.

The fight began at Baviacora. The volunteers, numbering 40, surprised a band of 60 rebels and killed 17 of them. At Huepac next day the government force came on more rebels and the fighting lasted several hours before a supporting band came to the rescue of the volunteers and flanked the insurgents, driving them to the hills.

Another battle occurred at Huepac Monday and the rebels again were beaten and all their stores captured.
