$1,000 FOR ONE BOOK

State of Texas Pays This Amount to Lady Who Possessed Field Notes Syndicate Land Survey

Austin, Tex., April 18.—Under instructions of the Governor, the Comptroller's Department today issued a warrant for $1,000 in favor of Mrs.
Alice Bulloch, of Waco, in payment for the journal containing the field notes of the survey made of the Capitol Syndicate lands of Texas. These field notes were compiled by H. A.
Wiley, who at the time the field notes were taken was the husband of Mrs. Bulloch. The field notes are to be used in the investigation now in progress for a re-survey of the Capitol Syndicate lands, authorized by the last legislature, to determine whether or not this syndicate obtained over 3,000,000 acres which it was intended to give it for the construction of the state capitol.

Still here, ready for service all the time.—Phone 28, Simpson's Transfer.

Mrs. L. Z. Tidworth and baby are visiting Mrs. Tidworth's parents at Trent this week, leaving on the afternoon train for that point.

H. B. Murray, candidate for representative, and editor of the Post City Post, was here Saturday for a short visit.

CROWS DESTROY CROPS IN OKLA.

Crows Destroy Seed as Fast as Crops Are Planted in Okla.—Governor Appealed to for Aid

Guthrie, Okla., April 15.—Crows are causing tremendous losses in stacked grain as well as to growing crops in many sections of Oklahoma.

A few counties in Northwestern Oklahoma are without the visitation of crows, such as has never been seen any previous year. In some sections, they have had winter roosts for 10 or 12 years, but the damage heretofore has been slight.

Probably the biggest roost in the state is on Gar creek, a spring-fed stream that empties into the Cimarron river, seven miles west of Guthrie.
It extends along the river for three miles. The crows have consumed all the grain in stacks and have been foraging on the green wheat, eating out the hearts of the plants and destroying the seed germs. They feed for many miles over the surrounding country.

Immediately north of a farm owned by Judge John Cotteral, of the United States District Court, is a dense growth of black-jack trees, covering four blocks of ground. At night every tree is filled to its maximum capacity with clamorous crows.
There are thousands of them. West of the farm of Chas. Boise, is a forest covering 25 or 30 acres, in which the crows are no less numerous.

"It has been impossible," say Boise, "to lessen the number perceptibly by shooting or poisoning. If all of the farmers of Logan county assembled with shotguns, the cost of the ammunition necessary to exterminate the crows would be prohibitive. I have shot $10 worth of shells in the last week, and I can't notice any difference in the number of birds.

"Unless the crows begin pairing and migrate soon, there is little likelihood of my being able to plant any corn. I planted 15 or 20 acres of oats last week, and as fast as the seed were sown and covered, they were dug up by the crows. Hundreds of them followed 30 to 50 feet behind my seeder, scratching it out as fast as I could sow it."

A visitor to Gar creek tells how the crows came in the evening that he was there. Half an hour before sunset, there was not a crow in sight. Ten minutes later a single crow was heard cawing; then a speck on the sky heralded their coming; there were thousands of them, and the roar of their wings had the sound of beating surf.

Town and country hunters have been attacking the crows with guns for the last 10 days; they are in constant commotion when on the roost, cawing and jostling. The hunters surround the roost on all sides, and fire into the mass as it moves.

Gov. Lee Cruise has been asked to proclaim a day for killing crows.
This request has brought on a controversy. Many contending that the crow is a pest highly destructive to crops, pigs and lambs, and a robber of useful birds and that it spreads hog cholera; while others claim that their wholesale destruction would be injurious to farmers at large.

Rev. R. Y. Dickinson and wife spent Saturday and Sunday in the Shalwater community, and Mr. Dickinson preached at that place Sunday morning.

Roscoe Wilson made a business trip to Parwell Monday, returning on last Wednesday morning.

H. Ratliff and Frank Irby, of Rodgers, were here the latter part of last week.

BALL WILL WIN IN CAMERON

Though Strong Anti County, Judge Gates Believes Ball Will Carry
The County

The Austin Tribune is authority for the following statement:
"Judge H. L. Gates, County Judge of Cameron county, is here from Brownsville on business, and is accompanied by his wife, this being her first visit to the capital.

"Judge Gates is an old Varsity boy, and seemed glad to get back to the scenes of his younger manhood. He was of the class of '08.

"Asked about politics, Judge Gates smiled and said:

"Everybody in the Brownsville country is expecting Ball to be elected, and that in itself means a good deal of strength. Then, Judge Wells is for him, and he never fails to get a big majority in Cameron county for the man he backs. It is a safe prediction that he will not fall this time, so you might easily count Cameron county in the Ball column.

"Outside of the gubernatorial race there isn't much talk as yet, but as the campaign warms up there will be more interest shown. Our people are anti-prohibition, but now that they are convinced that the prohibition question is one of constitutional amendment, prohibition will not cut so much figure in the election of state officials."

"The Judge and his wife will remain in town until tomorrow or Tuesday.

Says Dallas is For Ball

Thurmond Barrett, an attorney of Dallas, who is here on business, predicts that Ball will carry Dallas county in the July primaries. He is secretary of the Tom Ball club of Dallas county."
