BILL

By 1st Sergt WILLIAM H. SMITH, Company L, 20th Infantry, U. S. A.

Bill was the dullest feller. 'At we ever had in the company. He clum' clear up to the top...

How much type he could set. And if he'd handled printer's ink. But the cap'n didn't want him to go...

But they didn't, and I'll be darned. If it didn't beat the lead. While I was on furlough back east...

Bill could hike more and longer. Almost than any of us fellows could. 'At was older and had gray hair...

The old top cutter, most always cross. Would come around and say. 'At Bill, now a top sargent, like himself...

Not a drop to drink! Huerta was wise to choose a German warship to go to Europe on...

The cavalry has disbanded white horses because they show too plainly against their surroundings...

Apparently that owl who visited the senate chamber couldn't find anything to hoot at in his native village...
