by father and mother to their own children. For the children love stories. What kind of stories All manner of stories, but particularly those wonderful events told them by their own dear father and mother. Therefore, parents, pour out your minds and hearts to your children. Tell them, yourselves, of the hardships and perils of Your Exodus from Europe, and your entrance with the help of God into this promised land of liberty and security. Tell them personally what it means to be a Jew, how many times it was a joyful task, how sometimes it was a difficult thing to be a Jew. No matter how many compunctions you may have as to your ability, no matter how defective your knowledge, thou shalt tell thy children. What may be lacking in historical accuracy will be more than compensated by your splendid personal enthusiasm and joyous pride in Israel's life story.

When shall we tell our children? Thou shalt tell thy child! Begin in earliest childhood. "Train up the child in the way he should go, and when he is old, he will not depart from it," is still the best educational advice. Tell the child when he is still a child. Tell him by example as well as by mouth. Train him by Jewish home ceremonies, by the Seder at Passover; by the Kiddush each Sabbath eve; by the Habsolah each Saturday night; by the Grace at Meals, by family night prayer and morning prayers. All of us really learn and assimilate knowledge by doing rather than by listening. Therefore it is foolish and wicked to neglect the ceremonies of the Home.

Fathers and mothers have an inescapable obligation. Thou shalt tell thy child. The home was the first school, the parents the natural teachers. Effective education is and must always remain personal. Therefore, we must feel the story of Israel personally and transmit it personally to our children. We must say time and again, "This is because of what God did for ME when I came forth out of Egypt."

Fort Worth Correspondence.
Editor Jewish Monitor,
Fort Worth, Texas.
Dear Sir:

The attention of the trustees of the Hebrew Institute has been called to a notice appearing in the last issue of the Monitor announcing a dance to be given at the Hebrew Institute by some club. In his zeal to make this notice very "catchy" the writer names dances that are to be indulged in on that occasion, that are objectionable to the extreme, and an affront to decency.

Upon investigation, it was found that this announcement was inserted by a boy who is not old enough to know that an announcement of this kind would cast a reflection on the Hebrew Institute. Neither did we know that such dances would never be allowed in the auditorium of the Hebrew Institute.

We, the undersigned, as trustees of the Hebrew Institute, feel it our duty in order to keep the name of the Hebrew Institute clean and above reproach, to state here that no dances of the kind named in that notice will ever take place in the Hebrew Institute, neither will any club by any such name be given entrance to the Hebrew Institute. The date of that dance has been cancelled, and in line with our duty as trustees of the Hebrew Institute, we wish to correct the erroneous impression that may go forth as a result of such announcement, and wish to emphatically state that the Hebrew Institute, being the home of all Jewry of Fort Worth, has been and always shall be maintained as a place where the daughters of any Jew, be he rich or poor, big or little, in their visiting the Hebrew Institute on social occasions will never run a risk of having their sense of modesty hurt or compromised, by any act whatsoever on the part of anyone. Those who are in charge of the Hebrew Institute, feel the obligation resting upon them to see to it that any and all affairs given in the building
