David, the poet, here pictures a volcano as God's eternal doom on the painter's canvas. This author does in words. You see a hill, calm and still, and for ages immovable, but the Lord out of the heavens puts His finger on the top of it and from it rise thick vapors, intershot with fire.

SEYMOUR, Oct. 26.—Seymour, the strategic point for the great railway and electric lines, is to be penetrated by the famous Panhandle country, has another progressive move to report in your columns. The city council has let a contract to Mr. O. J. Gorman & Co. of Houston to put in waterworks, an ice factory and electric lights, work to begin in ninety days. The whole system to cost the company about $115,000 in the beginning. This is an industrial enterprise on the part of the company, no subsidy being asked or stock required to be taken by citizens of Seymour. Mr. Gorman represents one of the strongest companies in the South, and did a great work for himself and coalitions in securing the contract. It is a great thing for the city with such a great future.

DENTON, Oct. 25.—Mr. W. J. Williams of Dallas was in consultation with the city officials yesterday and day before with a view to putting in waterworks and an electric light plant for the city. An agreement was arrived at and the contract will probably be started on next Wednesday for the performance of the said work. Other parties have also been figuring at the job, and it is certain that in a few days the contract will be let for furnishing this city water and lights.

TEXAS MILLS AND FACTORIES. The Polk county lumber company is building a new sawmill at Lizzetts, and R. W. Snelling & Co. will rebuild their sawmill that was recently burned at Seneca. The Summit lumber company of Summit are enlarging their mill. In the room of the board of trade, says the Waco News, is exposed a bottle of refined oil taken from the petroleum well of Col. W. L. Prather. Also a bolt of excellent eight-ounce ducking from the house of the Waco cotton mill, now in full operation. Does this mean better times ahead?

TEXAS CROPS AND WEATHER. About 15,000 bales of cotton have been marketed up to date at Belton. Cotton is turning out much better than was expected in Callahan county. The farmers are busy gathering it and sowing wheat. Crops in Hill county are away ahead of the estimates. A large amount of cotton is at hand yet.

TEXAS SCHOOLS AND CHURCHES. Work on the new Baptist church at Milford will begin at once. The material is on the ground. The Methodist church at that place was recently blown down and the society are unable to rebuild. A new church and schoolhouse are in process of erection at Grand Saline, Van Zandt county. There are 215 boarding pupils at Baylor college.

The Crosby County News says that a hotel and other necessities of a town will grace the city plot of Emma. It is probable that another bridge will be built at Belton across the Noian. Several new buildings have been built at Milford and more are going up in anticipation of the railroad. An artesian well has been bored at Emma, Crosby county. Water was obtained at a depth of 168 feet. Work on the courthouse at Conroe, Montgomery county, has been retarded, but is going on again. The town is putting in a good many improvements. The Berlin iron bridge company has received a contract to erect another iron bridge over the San Felipe creek at Del Rio, at the place where the first one was washed away by the flood there last September. Laborers are now at work on the foundation. Beeville has just commenced her first brick building. The material is the product of home industry. A great many business houses are under way, and carpenters are in great demand. The superstructure of the new custom house at Galveston is completed and ready to be turned over to the government. The building is a fine proof. El Paso, Oct. 25.—The wealth and taxation of the city of El Paso, as reported for the eleventh census to the superintendent of census, is as follows: In
