

TOUHY NOW IS MOST HUNTED MAN IN U. S.

CHICAGO, Dec. 18. (AP)—Report that investigators had uncovered new secrets of the underworld Tuesday sent manhunters on a new public enemy drive which made "Terrible Tommy" Touhy the most widely hunted man in America.

Backtracking the trail of the late John Dillinger and his henchmen, the investigators disclosed that they were hunting Touhy as a suspect in the $427,000 Brooklyn armored car robbery of last August and that they believe he is now leader of the combined forces of the remnants of the Dillinger and Touhy gangs.

At the same time the investigators disclosed that they had information that it was Touhy and not Dillinger who engineered the Michigan City, Indiana, state prison break that unleashed 10 Dillinger mobsters on the middle west in September of 1933.

The information that Touhy was behind the prison break came, the investigators said from a confession of a civil employee of the Michigan City prison, which is now in the possession of J. Edward Barce, deputy attorney general at Indiana. Barce is reported to have helped bring about the arrest of Joseph Burns, wanted for the Brooklyn robbery, by posing as a gangster to uncover underworld secrets.

Touhy, the investigators said, had frequently visited Burns at the apartment where Burns was arrested last Sunday. He is a brother of Roger Touhy, who with three henchmen is serving a 99 year sentence in the Illinois state prison at Joliet for kidnaping John Factor, of Chicago, the international speculator.

Meanwhile Burns, who was among the ten who fled the Indiana state prison, was questioned in an attempt to link him with a dozen or more crimes, in addition to the Brooklyn robbery. One rumor connected him with the recent theft of $63,000 in money and jewelry from the Indiana Dunes cottage of Thomas Molay, Chicago head of the moving picture operators' union.

This Is The ENJOYABLE LAXATIVE

Feen-a-mint, the delicious mint chewing gum laxative, gives you no harsh, upsetting action, no strain, no after-effect discomfort. It tastes just like your favorite gum. The pleasant, easy action of Feen-a-mint is due to the fact that you CHEW it. Saliva juices mix with it like they do with your food, and so it goes into the system gradually. Thus, no laxative mass hits your system suddenly to upset its delicate balance. Feen-a-mint is ideal for children, but thoroughly positive for adults. Doctors prescribe the laxative in Feen-a-mint. It is for pleasant correction without upset to diet or appetite. Delay is dangerous. Today, get back on schedule and try there with delicious Feen-a-mint. At drug stores, 25¢ and 50¢.

Affidavit Tells How Lawyer Got Portion Of Urschel Ransom

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 18. (AP)—An affidavit, outlining the manner in which Ben Laska, veteran Denver attorney allegedly received part of the Charles P. Urschel ransom money was disclosed Tuesday by government prosecutors.

The sworn narrative, from the stepson of one of the kidnapers, was disclosed in connection with the filing of complicity charges against the attorney.

Laska, gray-haired pleader for the defense in half a hundred "hopeless" causes, represented Albert L. Bates, one of 16 persons convicted in the $200,000 kidnaping of the Oklahoma City millionaire. Now Laska is in custody—temporarily at least—fighting an indictment against him and James C. Mathers of Oklahoma City for splitting the spoils of the crime.

Woven around an affidavit from Edward G. Feldman, stepson of Bates, is this outline of the government's case:

Bates told Feldman and Clara Feldman, Bates' wife, where to find his share of the ransom. Laska assertedly directed the woman and young man to cache of $75,000 in Wyoming and received a map of where the treasure was buried. Then, the affidavit related, Laska was given $10,000 for "expenses" in a transaction boldly executed in the bedroom of the attorney's home. Four hundred 20 bills were handed over in the bedroom, the affidavit stated. $2,000 went to the lawyer in Oklahoma City, and $1,000 was described as being placed under a hotel carpet there for Mathers.

The $2,000 payment was reluctantly received, said Feldman, for he was unsuccessful in following Laska's instructions to have ransom bills exchanged in busy eastern department stores.

CUBAN REVOLT RUMOR CURBED

(Copy't. 1934, by the A. P.)
HAVANA, Dec. 18. — Except for discussions concerning 40 bombings which took place in the Cuban capital Thursday night, the city had returned to normal this morning.

Talk of revolution which had swept through the city had died down, largely because most of the political leaders were sleeping after the exciting night.

Terror spread throughout the city shortly before midnight when more than 40 bombs were exploded. Three women and two men were injured by the blasts, which were set off in every section of the capital.

Soldiers spent the early morning hours searching pedestrians, motorists, buses and street cars for bombs. Fourteen persons were arrested on charges of placing the explosives or having them in their possession.

The city became excited over the possibility of a revolutionary outbreak after police seized a supply of dynamite and arrested 90 passengers in buses where the explosives were found.

Extra precautions were taken by the army when an officer reported he detained three members of the ABC political society, opposed to the government of President Carlos Mendicta and his "strong man", Colonel Fulgencio Batista, commander-in-chief of the army.

Sailors and police also were ordered held in readiness.

The army officer said he had seen many other men, presumably ABC members, leaving the city in groups.

Tension has been high since a band of armed men, allegedly secret police, last week raided the plant of the newspaper Accion, an ABC organ, and forced nine editorial workers to take oaths.

ABC leaders denounced the raid as equivalent "to a declaration of war." Negotiations were begun by them for an affiliation with the Autentico party, their former enemies, for a concerted anti-government campaign.

Leaders of the ABC and other opposition groups, it was known, have refrained with difficulty "hot-head" members from violence since the raid, but their spokesman said Tuesday they had no knowledge of plans for a concerted outbreak.

Susceptibility to infantile paralysis runs in families, results of a recent study show.

Former Governor To Address Men's Class

Ed Jackson, former governor of Indiana, will be the speaker at the Dr. Bell's Men's club at the First Presbyterian church Tuesday night. Mr. Jackson is an active churchman in his home state, and is a popular speaker for men's clubs throughout the central west. He is a friend of the Brownsville pastor, Rev. E. P. Day, and addressed the men of the Delphi Presbyterian church while Rev. Day was pastor there.

JAPAN WANTS MORE PARLEYS

TOKYO, Dec. 18. —(AP)—Japan's desire for a definite date for the resumption of the present preliminary naval treaty conversations in London will be presented to the British government Wednesday in accordance with instructions from the Japanese government to its London envoy.

Foreign Minister Hirota cabled Ambassador Tsuruoka Matsudaira Tuesday night to order that the Japanese hope for resumption of the parleys be included in the communique in which the London conference will announce its adjournment.

It was officially explained that the Japanese desire to fix a date for resumption of the conference, probably in March, is to permit the Tokyo government to prepare adequately for further talks and possibly give Admiral Yamamoto a chance to return to Tokyo, report, and receive further instructions before he goes back to London again.

However, it is known that the Japanese government is anxious to have the United States and Great Britain committed to writing on such resumption prior to the Japanese government's abrogation of the Washington naval treaty of 1922, believing that such action would prevent the United States from charging that the abrogation destroyed the preliminary naval talks as well as the prospects for a 1935 naval conference.

Although Premier Weisuke Okada, Admiral Mineo Osumi, minister of the navy and Hirota conferred lengthily Monday and Tuesday concerning the so-called Chatfield-Yamamoto compromise suggestions made at London, a source close to the government said an agreement had not been reached and further consultations were necessary before the delegates were instructed concerning future action.

Great Britain agreed at London about a month ago to a compromise by which she would recognize Japan's demands for naval equality "in principle"—although not in fact. The United States' delegation indicated it agreed to nothing which would invalidate the Washington treaty by which Japan was on the short end of the 5-5-3 ratio.

However, it is known that the Japanese are eager to continue the talks with Great Britain on any basis regardless of whether the Americans remain in London, hoping thereby to prevent the development to any degree of a common Anglo-American front.

Therefore, Tokyo is likely to make conciliatory gestures to Great Britain although experts said she could not be expected to offer a concession which could be interpreted as an abandonment of demands for maritime fighting strength.
