ST. LOUIS, Nov. 25.—A letter declaring that the "bullets are ready" for the visit to St. Louis December 5 of Georges Clemenceau, former premier of France was received at the mayor's office here today. Following receipt of the letter, which was signed with a lead pencil serial, "American war veterans," and was written in a crude hand on ledger paper, police officials announced that added precautions will be taken to protect "the Tiger" when he is here, although it was thought the letter probably was written by a crank. The letter bore a local postmark dated yesterday, and read as follows: "The visit of the Tiger to America is

WOMAN DIES WITHIN HOUR AFTER EATING POISONED BAR OF CANDY, LEAVES 8 CHILDREN

CHILTON, Wis., Nov. 25.—Authorities of Calumet County are confronted with a mystery today in the sudden death of Mrs. Frank Schneider, wife of a farmer near Chilton, which occurred within an hour after she had eaten a poisoned chocolate bar attached to a box of candy which arrived at her home by mail. Although she died Tuesday, postal investigators have kept the affair secret until today. Eight children were left motherless by the death of Mrs. Schneider. No clue has been found, authorities said today as to whether the mysterious candy was mailed or as to who sent it. The parcel, according to members of the family, was found in the mail box at the Schneider farm. With the box of candy was a letter addressed to Mrs. Schneider in which it was explained that the chocolate bar which was tied outside the box of candy had been crushed by handling but that it was very good and intended for her. The letter was signed by a close relative of Mrs. Schneider. The woman, according to a statement secured from the Schneider home, denies she ever mailed the box of candy or sent any letter to Mrs. Schneider. Mrs. Schneider gave birth to a child five days before her death. She was visited twice after the child was born by Dr. J. W. Goggins of Chilton. Dr. Goggins said she was in excellent condition before eating the candy. He sent the contents of the woman's stomach to Milwaukee for examination.

FIRST PANHANDLE DOCTOR INQUIRES ABOUT PIONEERS

Dr. Henry F. Hoyt of Long Beach, Calif., has written a letter to Sam F. Dunn, asking for information about Will Thompson, now of Lubbock, and one of the Panhandle pioneers. Dr. Hoyt said that he was the first physician of the Panhandle and went to Tascosa in the fall of 1877. Following is part of his letter to Mr. Dunn: "Having secured your address through the courtesy of a mutual friend, Jack Hyatt, I am writing you for the purpose of getting the present address of a Mr. Thompson, who married a Miss Piedad Romero, formerly of Tascosa, Texas, and who have resided at Amarillo, Texas, for some years. "Jack thinks they have moved from there and thinks you can give me their present address, including his initials. He also tells me that you are one of the Panhandle old timers and if so you may be interested in a story that was printed here recently and I am sending you a copy under separate cover. "I struck that part of the world in the fall of 1877, am the first physician to practice my profession in the Panhandle, and I have killed buffalo right where Amarillo is now built. So you are

I have some claims to being an "old timer" myself. During my sojourn in that section of about a year I was bought a good many of the tracks of the cowboy game by Jack, Charley String, Laddie Jim and many others, and I haven't forgotten how to throw a rope yet. "Senorita Piedad was my first patient and as she had a very severe type of smallpox and is still living it might be said that I knew something of my own name also, although I was compelled to improve more or less in my treatments as there was no drug store within 200 miles and I brought in a very meager supply of necessities in that line. "For example, the Senorita's case was in the stage where there is the most terrific itching of the skin where eruption occurs and as hers was over the entire body it can be imagined how much torture she was under, as unrelieved, continued itching is much more severe to endure than pain. "I tried several simple remedies without results and knowing the composition
