NO COMPROMISES.

If the Democrats of Missouri will study a few chapters in the history of Texas politics they will turn a deaf ear to the appeals of the gold standard advocates for a division of the delegates to the Democratic national convention.

They will choose a solid free coinage delegation from the state at large, give it free coinage instructions, and climb the action with a straight free coinage platform.

Texas Democrats have tested the "harmony" of monometallism and know what it means.

They remember the useful appeals in the last state convention for a platform on which "everybody could stand," and they remember the shout of victory that went up by telegraph from gold men all over the land because a free coinage convention had permitted itself to be duped.

They have been taught by sad experience that every free branch of this sort contains a dagger, and they will not expose themselves further to the unexpected assaults of hidden weapons.

It behooves the binmetalists of Missouri, Texas and all other states to make a straight, open, resolute fight.

If they win they should take all the fruits of victory. They may be sure that wherever they are in a minority they will receive no consideration whatever.

In the caucus of this congressional district a resolution was adopted by a vote of six to one at the Lamplugh convention in 1892 instructing the delegates from this district to vote for no man not in favor of free coinage of silver at 16 to 1. It was by the frank avowal of its author, the editor of this paper, aimed at Mr. Cleveland.

Other congressional caucuses adopted resolutions of similar import. The objection was made, however, in the interest of Cleveland and sustained that only the state convention could instruct, and because of this holding the votes of districts unalterably opposed to the re-nomination of Cleveland were manipulated as being about that calamity to the party and to the country.

The politicians who played that game in 1892 will find their precedents confrontation time in 1896.

A recent editor of Cleveland says, and says truly, that he took the presidency for the second time with the principal object in mind to destroy the greenbacks, stop the increase of silver money and "reform" the currency.

This revolutionary program was foisted upon the party and the country without warning. To sustain and perpetuate it methods as reprehensible as those which were adopted four years ago will be employed.

Under these circumstances there can be no compromise in the selection of delegates to the national convention without endangering the integrity and perpetuity of the Democratic party.

THINK ON IT, HARDY.

With apologies to Chairman Hardy, the Gazette craves permission to remark that it knows a man who would make a fit candidate in every respect to lead the "sound money" forces in the coming campaign.

He has been an outspoken and consistent "Cleveland man" from the beginning of the national career of the president, and he was engaged in the fight for the gold standard before Commissioner Baker had ever laid serious commination upon his own heart on the silver issue. He has seen three changes with annual unanimity by his own people to discharge an important public trust, and his services in this behalf have been so useful and important as to become a part of the current history of the state. He bears a resonant and eponymous name, one that stands for straight issues and bit-from-the-shoulder politics, and one that will do to confound with. To whom else should we refer than our own honored fellow-citizen, "the father of Fort Worth," John Peter Smith?

For reasons, not necessary to explain, the Gazette is not in the habit of furnishing candidates for Judge Hardy's cohorts, but if it had the right to believe it could beat Judge Hardy and give him points in the game.

The St. Louis Republic continues to shout for the Morrison boom after it has renounced the ludicrous slogan at this moment the Democrats of the country are not in any humor to appreciate horse play of this sort. If Mr. Morrison must have a Federal office forever, no doubt both parties will agree to keep him where he is or provide him with something better after the change of national administration.

The American ideas of Ballington Booth have won him immense popularity in the ranks of the Salvation Army in this country, and the assurance of support in organizing an independent army indicates that 1896 is to witness another declaration of independence from England.

The costs of war are of minor importance in comparison with the sums paid for pensions in this country. The last gun of the civil war was fired thirty years ago, but the government is now paying over $1,000,000 per week in interest and principal on the cost of that struggle.

With discretion and to her value Spain seems to be disposed to limit her anger against the United States to making faces at us and boasting about her ability to wipe Uncle Sam from the earth. That case, however, is highly dilatory and doesn't hurt anybody else.

Fort Worth will have the Centennial convention and the state Democratic convention, two assemblies which will be held in the city. Another very desirable meeting, the state Democratic convention of the Texas volunteer guard, could be brought here by a little effort.

Manderson gives it out that he is running for congress in his own interest. That is certainly at least with his record in the United States senate where he voted for himself a pension of large dimensions.

From the way those ocean greyhounds continue to strike the continent in the vicinity of New York it seems that the metropolis is already propped with a very effective system of coast defenses.

Mr. Carter is determined not to give up the chair of the Republican committee, but the impression grows that he may find it only a waiting opportunity to look it from under him.

Ex-Governor Flower says Wall street is a philanthropic and benevolent institution. For corroboration of his statement he can confidently appeal to Secretary Carlisle.

Land Commissioner Baker has nothing to say on the subject of his nomination for governor by Chairman Hardy's favor. He is just keeping his eye on the seat.

Weyler was probably too busily engaged dictating Spanish victories to his secretary to observe Major Kingpin's army again before the gates of the capital.

Some New York clericalness are advocating the abolition of the burial services at the grave. Would they put the dead away without "the last and rite"?

The Republican split in the South has extended to Mississippi. They will soon be nothing but a collar buttoned together but a collar button.

Prime Minister Crisp will resign. His press censor was not vigilant enough to prevent the news of the Italian defeat being made public.

Republican conventions in Iowa have all declared for Allison without a second choice. There are no strings on Clarkson's trading operations.

There is a rumor that England will abandon Egypt. If she does gold diggers may be sure that it would be useless for them to go there.

Carlisle was once the favorite son of Kentucky, but he has now transferred his family allegiance to the New York chamber of commerce.

If these Cuban resolutions are not delayed in the White House, Weyler's afternoon paper will be likely to get a discount.

It is possible that the residence of Johnnie Crapaud in Arizona has had some influence on the shows method of warfare.

Uncle Sam is not looking for a war with Spain, but the don must not try to knock any chips off his shoulder.

Adams has been able to see through both iron and metal, but the New York fog bank seems to resist all efforts.

Reice of Ohio has presidential aspirations. So had Mrs. Betva Lockwood before her path began to sag.

Ballington Booth's adherents have quit selling War Cries and are ready to cry war.

PEPPER IN TOPEKA.

Thinks That Both Democratic and Republican Parties Are Doomed.

Topeka, Kan., March 5.—United States Senator William A. Peffer has arrived from Washington and will spend a few days looking after personal affairs here.

In an interview Senator Peffer expressed the belief that the trial of the late old parties, as constituted, is at an end. He thinks that they will split on silver in their national conventions this year, and that about the gold standard. He thinks the Democratic party may preserve the party existence by nominating candidates. It will cut little figure in the November elections and will not carry a single state north or south.

He looks for the gold standard element to capture the national Republican convention. Whether or not it will elect the ticket will depend, he says, upon the action of the silver Republicans and Democrats. If they drop out of sight and remain passive, he will not carry a single state north or south. He looks for the gold standard element to capture the national Republican convention. Whether or not it will elect the ticket will depend, he says, upon the action of the silver Republicans and Democrats. If they drop out of sight and remain passive, he will not carry a single state north or south.

The Populists, he says, will be willing to accept the name and their name and otherwise change the nomenclature of the Omaha platform so as to make appeal to all who are opposed to the gold standard.

REY, SAM JONES. The Cause of Discead in the Ministers' Association.

Atlanta, Ga., March 5.—Rev. Sam Jones, pastor of the First Baptist church, has been elected president of the Ministers' association today, and he addressed the Atlanta preachers in these words: "I have seen many of them. He has just begun one of his characteristic revivals here, and some of the ministers rebel him to the meeting. He says, 'I don't know if it could give him formal instructions. But there was opposition and very heated opposition to informing him. He got the job done, and he got it done in a very short time. I don't know if it would have been necessary if I could have said a word at the right time. I never said a word of encouragement and do not believe myself.'"

Several hours waiting for the doors to open, but they went home disappointed. At home a committee from Dallas came to the office of the sheriff and they represented the working people and wanted a time set for a conference over the sheriff's actions. They were told to come back tomorrow.

During the numbers were driven out of Denver a couple of months ago they have been reaping a rich harvest from Denver players over in the little suburb across the Larimer street viaduct.

GUARDS POSTED For the Protection of the American Consulate at Cardiff.

New York, March 5.—A special to the Herald from Cardiff, Wales, both here and west took up positions facing the American consulate and occupied the principal streets leading to the consulate in order to prevent any concentration on the part of those conducting the proceedings. Later on the guards were withdrawn from the streets and some were posted inside the consulate.

The government is determined to stop every demonstration. The United States consul has been received everywhere with marked attention and he has expressed his extreme gratification at the measures taken by the authorities.

MAYOR SUTRO FURIOUS. And Complainant of the Action of Post-Office Officials.

San Francisco, Cal., March 5.—Mayor Dutton was furious when he heard of the seizure by the postoffice authorities of his communication to senators and congressmen at Washington warning them of the schemes of Huntington to secure the passage of a funding bill. He considered holding the matter in the light of the fact that the funding bill, and he should have been told by the department that they considered the envelopes objectionable, so that he might have devised other means of placing them in the hands of members of congress. The envelopes bore the inscription, "Huntington Would Not Steal a Red-Hot Stove!"

SEVENTY DEAD BODIES Have Been Recovered from the Fatal Cholera Epidemic.

Berlin, March 5.—Up to this morning seventy-one bodies, victims of the cholera epidemic, were lying at Kottbuscher Platz, having been brought to the surface during the night. The bodies of four children who were engaged in the work of mending and who were over-crowded by heat. Fifty miners are still unaccounted for.

WEDDING AT BERKMAN. Robert L. Coker and Miss Mauda Cole are United.

Berlin, Tex., March 5.—(Special.)—Robert L. Coker of Laramie, traveling representative of the Hilliard Bros. Grocery company, was married at 2 o'clock this afternoon to Miss Mauda Cole of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cole, South Travis street.

Rev. J. M. Hinkley, presiding elder of the Methodist church of this city, united the young couple in marriage. Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom took the train for Dallas for their honeymoon. They will reside at Denison on their return to Texas.

DIED IN HIS OFFICE. Sudden Death of Dr. Williams at Sherman.

Sherman, Tex., March 5.—(Special.)—Dr. S. P. Williams of the firm of Williams & Cabana, physicians and surgeons, died yesterday of a heart disease while in his office on the north side of the square. He was 47 years of age and was a prominent citizen.

HELD UP BY ROBBERS. A CITIZEN OF GREENVILLE RELIEVED OF HIS CHANGE.

Greenville, Tex., March 5.—(Special.)—Between 9 and 10 o'clock last night, an old Golden was on his way home after closing up his place of business on Lee street. He was held up by two men and relieved of $15 in cash, all the money he happened to have in his pocket at the time.

Taken altogether by surprise, and urged on by the threatening demonstrations of the robbers, he quickly handed over $15 in silver. The robbers began to curse him for not having more, when he broke away and ran, yelling as he went.

As soon afterwards as possible he reported the occurrence to the sheriff and police department, to whom he stated that he positively identified the robbers as John Bray and Jim Andrews, two well-known boys about the city.

On the strength of this information the boys named were arrested shortly afterwards, and lodged in the county jail.

The matter was kept very quiet and but few knew anything of the occurrence last night. The officers inclined to the opinion that if the parties arrested were guilty, there were still others connected with it, although Mr. Golden saw only two.

ELECTION LAW AMENDED. Judges Will Now Prepare Ballots for Bivalent Voters.

Richmond, Va., March 5.—The persistent agitation which has been going on in this state for the past year over a demand for a fairer election law, resulted in the amending by the legislature tonight of the present system. The change abolishes the old plan of having the judges prepare the ballots, and imposes that duty on the clerk of election. This concession is made in accordance with the demands of the white section of Virginia. The new law is bitterly opposed by the Republicans. It goes into operation for the first time in the coming presidential election.

BANKHEAD'S ASPIRATION. Birmingham, Ala., March 5.—Senator Pugh of Alabama will have a free fight for the seat in the United States senate when the election comes around next year. It is stated that Congressman John H. Bankhead will be a candidate on the free silver platform.

Mr. Bankhead came to Alabama Saturday from Washington, and is now touring the state as a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination at the hands of the Democratic party. Bankhead, it is

The crowd quickly assembled in front of the Herald-Examiner building. There was some difficulty in securing a flag, but finally one was discovered and the crowd quickly formed a knot around it.
