SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1908.

The adoption of the constitutional amendment allowing the legislature to pension Confederate veterans shows that Texas is disposed to be generous to these old soldiers so far as she can be. Had the people known definitely that the veterans generally desired this change the majority for the amendment would have been larger.—Houston Post.

...My Favorite Preparation

Is my EGG EMULSION of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites Lime and Soda. It is having a reputation with all who have used it.

I am proud of this fact, as well as of the preparation. It is superior to any Cod Liver Oil emulsion I have seen, and is almost as palatable as an Egg Punch.

Contains 42 per cent Pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil.

Emulsified with Eggs, and flavored with Brandy. It is therefore ALL FOOD and readily assimilated.

It is indicated in all Pulmonary and wasting Diseases, Colds and Chronic Coughs, is an excellent general Tonic and Tissue builder.

I will buy back every bottle that does not give perfect satisfaction.

Price, 40c and 80c, Per Bottle.

A GREAT HIT.

Frederic Bryton and His Company Will Give Two More Performances.

"Forgiven," as presented at the opera house last night by Mr. Frederic Bryton, supported by Mr. Edwin Forsberg and an excellent company made a great hit. It is a strong melo-drama and Mr. Bryton has full scope for his great ability as a romantic actor. Mr. Forsberg is exceedingly original and clever, and Mr. Francis Grandon makes a splendid villain. The other parts were presented well, rounding out the performance in a most highly satisfactory manner. Baby Lottie Morse was welcomed with repeated storms of applause on her rendition of negro songs.

Bryton and College people were well represented at the performance, and Mr. Bryton's announcement that the company will remain in Bryan for two more performances was received with most hearty approval.

For matinee this afternoon at 2:30 the company will present "The Ticket-of-Leave Man," at 25 and 50 cents.

Tonight, "The Streets of New York," at regular prices.

EDGE NOTES.

People are rushing things to the front trying to get the last of their cotton on the market.

Health is good at this writing. The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Moore was made happy last Friday morning by the arrival of a fine girl baby.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Elliott, a fine boy Friday night.

There was a musical entertainment Saturday night at Mr. McMichael's. All seemed to enjoy themselves very much.

The pound supper at Mr. Will Skain's last night was grand. All the girls were there except Miss Rosa Elliott.

Misses Larkie Moore and Tillie Murphy were in Edge yesterday.

Prof. Pounds started his school Monday.

The Concord school will start next Monday.

SETTLED THE BORE.

An Abrupt Termination to a Restaurant Conversation.

Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, when on his first visit to this country several years ago, was taking a chop and a glass of ale in a Washington restaurant one afternoon, and a man around town who is somewhat noted for his forwardness, not to say his freshness, was dining in the same room, and he recognized the English parliamentarian. He walked over to Chamberlain's table, and, quite uninvited, took the opposite seat. Within the space of five minutes he was telling Chamberlain what a third rate outfit he considered England to be. The man's talk, needless to say, was in very rank taste. Chamberlain adjusted his monocle firmly and looked at the obtrusive chap amusedly.

"Now, we'll take England in the matter of great men," said Chamberlain's uninvited table mate. "Where does England cut in in the matter of great men nowadays, anyhow? England has got Gladstone, of course, but he was born about 110 years ago, and he's a back number. I'll just ask you, Mr. Chamberlain, a fair question. What really great man, what noted character, has England produced, say, within the past 50 years? Answer me that, sir!"

"With pleasure," said Chamberlain, permitting his monocle to fall into his lap and taking his hat and cane from the rack. "Great man, no. Noted character, Jack the Ripper. I bid you good afternoon."—Washington Post.

Domestic Repartee.

She had put on her hat and gloves and was moving toward the door, when he looked up from his newspaper and asked:

"Where are you going?"

"A husband with good sense never asks his wife where she is going."

"But I suppose a woman with good sense has the right to ask her husband where he is going?"

"A woman with good sense never does anything of the kind, because if she has good sense she never marries, so she has no husband. Ta, ta!"

And it never dawned on her that she had called herself an idiot.—Pearson's Weekly.

His Envious Lot.

Mr. Pitt—Since your friend Blinkins married Miss Bonds he has been leading the life of a dog.

Mr. Penn—I'm sorry for him.

"I'm not."

"Don't you sympathize with him?"

"Not at all. He has nothing to do but eat, sleep and amuse himself. It's the life of a pet pug dog he leads."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.
