A reception and dance will be given at the opera house Friday evening by a number of young ladies, who will invite the gentlemen to be their guests for the evening. Nearly all of the ladies in town are assisting the young ladies who have the project in charge, and the event will doubtless be a social success. The ladies deserve credit for attempting to vary the monotony which has depressed social circles here lately.

The resignation of Rev. W. H. Petty as pastor of the Baptist church of Brownsville which was tendered recently is regretted very much by the members of that church, as well as by many other persons in our city, who feel that Mr. Petty has done a good work here. He does not expect to leave Brownsville, however, as he will still continue to do mission work in this section, being under the direction of the Baptist Mission board, his field including the country between Point Isabel and Rio Grande. Mr. Petty has made many friends in Brownsville among all denominations, winning the respect and liking of all by his up-right, manly character, and it is welcome news that he and his family will still made their home here.

PERSONALS.

J. P. Herzog of Galveston left this morning.

J. B. Armstrong left today for San Antonio, with his children, Misses Jennie and Sylvia and Master Frank, to spend several days seeing the fair.

O. L. Moore and J. C. DeBruin, contractors on the canal work at Lonsboro, spent yesterday here on business and returned to Lonsboro today.

John Box and E. D. Box were arrivals on the Point train yesterday afternoon. Messrs Box have just sold a lot of sheep to a buyer from Uvalde, and came up to see about their delivery.

J. P. Withers arrived here last night on his return from his northern trip, and left today for his headquarters at Llano Grande. Mr. Withers is expecting Mrs. Withers to join him at Llano Grande in the near future, to spend the winter, enjoying our unexcelled climate.

Manuel M. de Chavero, a business man of the City of Mexico, accompanied by his wife and two daughters, arrived in town last night on his way home from a visit to New York, Washington and other northern cities. Mr. Chavero is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Annie Putegnat, Inspector of customs, and will remain here for a few days visiting her.

Joe Champion of Roswell, New Mexico, is here on a visit to his boyhood home after an absence of twenty-six years, being the guest of his brother Frank Champion. Quite a number of improvements are noted in Brownsville by Mr. Champion, who was quite young when he left here. He has numerous relatives and old friends here who are pleased to meet him again. He will spend a month here, renewing old friendships and getting acquainted with the new Brownsville.

The Elections.

Owing to the new law having cut down the number of judges and clerks of elections, the work of counting the ballots cast in today's election could not be begun until after the closing of the polls which will be at seven this evening. Therefore no report of the results could be obtained for today's HERALD.

The voting has been light throughout the day, however, and it is probable that not over three hundred votes have been cast in Brownsville. Of these it is perhaps safe to say that about two hundred and fifty were for the democratic ticket.

To Receive Election Returns

A number of citizens have subscribed for the purpose of securing telegraphic reports of today's elections in the various states. The returns will be posted at the Texas Confectionery as received tonight.

Our Watershed

Coats are watershed in fact as well as in name. Rain has no more effect on them than water on a duck's back, because the material of which they are made is of the best and properly waterproofed.

You couldn't possibly buy a more useful, stylish garment than a Watershed. Truly an any-day coat. On clear, cool days it's a light weight overcoat. Only in wet weather do you know it to be a Kuppenheimer Watershed.
