A FALL CARNIVAL.

The editorial punch of the Enterprise on the Rice Carnival seems to have been very timely judging by the expressions received yesterday, and there seems to be a unanimous opinion that Beaumont should have a carnival and that it should be managed by the mercantile interests for the general benefit of the city. That Beaumont ought to have a Rice Carnival cannot be argued against and it cannot be denied that it is high time to begin work along that line. There are many things to be considered and an effort should be put forth to get the rice farmers interested in a display of rice and the Rice Association of America would no doubt find it convenient to assist in making the carnival as practical as possible. It must be plain to every one that such a carnival cannot only be made of great benefit to the city but it can be of vast influence in the raising, milling and marketing of rice. Let our business men get busy at once and set a date and then let a committee wait on the different railroads and get them interested in advertising it in their literature and through their agencies in the north and it will be the means of attracting many people to Beaumont at that time.

LABOR'S PROBLEM.

A general summing up of Labor Day does not indicate that organized labor has made any progress in the past year. Their organization has been met by the organization of employers who have shown that when it came to surrendering to further demands of organized labor, they would prefer to shut down their factories rather than grant new demands which in many instances have meant the surrendering of the right to manage their own business. The result is that millions have been lost to the working man who is in no position to stand the loss. It indicates that the unions must change the policy in many respects if they wish to benefit their members. That men have a right to organize and that it is better for the country that they do so is admitted by all right thinking men. That they have a right to quit work in order to enforce reasonable demands is conceded by every one. When, however, the unions attempt to regulate the business of their employers they are going beyond their rights and it is the abuse of their power in this direction that is causing all their trouble. Statistics tell us that less new industrial enterprises have been started in the past year than have been started for many years. The cause of this is found in the walking delegate and the labor leaders like Donneley who are reckless in the use of their power. Men of capital are not willing to start factories when they realize that they will not get them in operation until organized labor will dictate as to how they shall be conducted. These conditions are paralyzing to the South and it is useless for any city to expect manufacturing enterprises where organized labo dictates conditions. There is a grand work for the unions but it must be along different lines. Unionism must be made a factor of efficiency and the union card a certificate that the bearer can do his work well. Men have been taken into unions for numerical strength rather than because they are capable of earning the wage they ask, as for instance the carpenter who can only do rough work is put on the same level with the cabinet maker and the bricklayer is brought to the level of the lowest rather than offer an incentive for the lower to work himself up to the higher position. This is due to the fact that there is only one grade and as the poor are the same as the best why should a man work to know any more since he is not paid for it.

TEXAS NOTES.

The macinists' strike on the lines of the International and Great Northern railroad, which has been on for a long time, has been declared off by the executive board of the International Association of Machinists.

T. J. Smith, a leading grocer of Nacogdoches, carrying a stock of several thousand dollars, closed his doors, having filed papers of insolvency in Lufkin. No information is given out as to liabilities.

The two men shot at Elmendorf Sunday night while Deputy Sheriff Martinez sought to make an arrest died at an early hour Monday morning. They were bystanders. The one, Jesus Canto, was shot in the groin; the other, Juan Morales, through the bowles. The deputy sheriff was placed in jail.

Dr. G. C. Rankin, editor of the Texas Christian Advocate, at Dallas, was painfully but not dangerously injured by a fall down the steps leading to his office at Ervay and Jackson streets Saturday, and it is reported that he is still confined to his bed as a result of the fall. Inquiries at the residence of Dr. Rankin failed to secure any further information than that he was unable to leave his bed.

Frank Vogle, a switchman in the Santa Fe yards at Somerville while making a coupling was caught between the engine, his right arm being broken and he was hurt internally. While he is not fatally hurt the bruises are of a serious nature. He was transferred to the company's hospital at Temple on No. 81 last night.

A party of Japanese composed of Rev. J. D. Yoshimura, J. and Y. Tamuria, Y. Kasahara and S. Matsumorto spent Saturday and Sunday in Bay City on a tour of inspection of the rice fields and the adacent territory that is available for rice. They expressed themselves as well pleased with what they saw and stated they would locate a colony between now and next year in this section of the state for the cultivation of rice and truck. Rev. Yoshimura is an Episcopal clergyman of Japan and speaks good English. He will locate with the new colony. The party left on the afternoon train for Palacios.

Samuel M. Bain, professor of botany in the University of Tennessee, who has been commissioned by the Department of Agriculture to cooperate in the plant breeding branch of boll weevil investigations, is in Texas on business connected with the department. He has been assigned to the Western Tennessee and Arkansas districts. It is his plan to work to the end of securing a variety of cotton which will mature in those districts so early that it will escape the ravages of the boll weevil. He is in Texas for the purpose of getting all the preliminary knowledge available. Prof. Bain is making his headquarters temporarily at Terrell.

An important real estate transfer was filed in the office of the county clerk at Galveston, by which J. I. Campbell sells to the J. I. Campbell company all of his city lots, town lots, merchandise, saw mills, logging outfits, lumber, office furniture and personal property, etc., in Lampasas, Mills, McCullough, Llano, DeWitt, Lavaca, Bell, McLennan, Limestone, Galveston Tyler, Polk, Bee, Montgomery and Harris counties, except his homestead at Houston. The consideration named is $500,000 and the assumption of all indebtedness now due and to become due. The instrument is dated February 20, 1904. Mr. Campbell resides in Houston.

Midlothian Lodge No. 50, Knights of Pythias, at Temple, which enjoys the distinction of being the largest lodge of that order in Texas is laying plans to capture the Pythian Widows and Orphans' Home and Industrial School, which will be located by a special committee which will start its labors Oct. 1. At the last session of the grand lodge at Houston in April a determined effort was made by some lodges to determine the location of the home at that session, but by the earnest efforts of representatives from West, Central and North Texas the matter was delayed and a special committee appointed to visit all the cities making application to consider the various propositions and report to the grand lodge at its next meeting, he committee was instructed to do no work until after Oct. 1 but a communication received from its chairman, W. Alex Abey, of Fort Worth, invites all cities to lay their propositions before the committee at once, and the task of paying official visits in that connection will will soon commence. The Temple and Belton lodges, joined by all the other lodges of Bell county, have been hard at work all summer and have a number one proposition to make the grand lodge in return for the location of the home midway between Temple and Belton on the new interurban electric traction line. The exact terms of the proposition will not be made public until the proper time, and it may be said that these lodges are thoroughly in earnest and expect to succeed in their purpose.

LOUISIANA NOTES

Sheriff Lacoste of Lafayette arrested Henry Farringer, a young German accused of several serious charges at Bronson, Texas. One hundred dollars reward has been offered for him but the prisoner refuses to return without requisition papers. The sheriff also arrested J. G. Styland, white, of Algiers, on a charge of criminal assault on two little white girls in Lafayette a week ago.

Wm. McDonald of Liberty and First streets, New Orleans, was assaulted and stabbed on Claiborne and Conti streets. He was passing the corner when some unknown white man stopped him and asked him for a cigarette. On being told by McDonald that he had none, the fellow demanded to know why McDonald had drawn his knife. He stabbed McDonald in the chest making a slight wound.

Lizzie Buckham, a negress who lived about two miles west of Pontchatoula, was murdered and robbed by two strangers, going under the names of Johnson and Smith, and supposed to be from Independence, La. The murderers obtained some money and other effects, which were in a pocket book. After taking the money they threw the pocket book away, but it was later found near the house by the jury. The verdict of the jury, convened, was to the effect that the negress came to her death by three pistol shot wounds at the hands of the two strangers above named. The principal evidence before the jury was the testimony of Frank Wilson, who was present when the crime was committed. Efforts are now being made to capture the two criminals, who have escaped.

Sidney Therien was placed in the parish jail at Lake Charles on a United States charge of rifling the mails. The alleged offense was committed it Vinton on December 29. Therien is charged with taking from the mails at that place, destroying the package and appropriating to his own use a gold watch valued at $25 which was addressed to Miss Theresa Vincent of that place. The complaint wis sworn out by S. C. Kile, postoffice inspector for the western district of Louisiana who made the arrest. The arrested man was taken to Lake Charles and turned over to Deputy Sheriff C. H. Huskey, who placed him in jail.

The Peacock School Opens.

San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 6. (Special.) The Peacock Military school opened today with the usual large attendance of cadets from every part of the state, and several from other states attracted by the climate and the military discipline. Lieut. C. C. Todd, the newly appointed U. S. Army officer, took charge of the department of military science and tactics, in no way interfering with the duties of Coy. Hart, who for two years has already been commandant of cadets. Major Koopman of Ohio is the new instructor in track athletics, and is also teacher of the commercial course. Major Hoge of the Virginia Military Institute, who has been commandant of a military school in the north, will teach German and coach the foot ball team. Prof. Coltrane remains as head master. Prof. Peacock announces that the school has a faculty of six men, all university graduates, four of whom are at the same time thorough military instructors. New students will arrive during the week.

Beaumont Endorsement Is What Counts With the Beaumont Public.

You can't fool the public all the time.
They will find you out at last.
Every time a man is fooled,
Another skeptic is made.
Many the remedies that make the skeptics
Because it fails to keep its promises.
Doan's Kidney Pills bring renewed rewards.
They cure the skeptic.
Plenty of proof of this at home.
Beaumont proof for Beaumont people.

Here's a case of it.

Mrs. J. C. Hickey, wife of J. C. Hickey, retired, residing at 357 Wall street, says, "Reading one evening in a newspaper an advertisement about Doan's Kidney Pills, it occurred to me that they might help me. I had marked symptoms of kidney trouble for three or four years, and suffering a great deal from it in spite of using a great deal of medicine and doctoring. My back ached almost constantly, with a dull heavy bearing down pain over my kidneys which made me life almost a burden. I commenced to use Doan's Kidney Pills and had taken them only a few days before I felt better. Their use did me more good than anything else I ever used."

Plenty more proof like this from Beaumont people. Call at the Carroll-Preston Company's drug store and ask what their customers report.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster Milburn Company, Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Love speaks through the eyes because the lips are otherwise engaged.

If a man ever thinks his wife an angel it is because her feathers come so high.

Baby talk is the kind of talk mothers use in repeating things the baby didn't say.

When a society girl marries she imagines the world is eclipsed by her honeymoon.

It is easier for the average man to shut up a 100-ton safe than a 100-pound wife.

A man's wife is apt to get him in a bad scrape if she uses his razor to sharpen a lead pencil.

The weight of a woman's first baking is usually equal to twice the weight of the ingredients.

Some women fancy they hate flattery, when all they hate is the awkwardness of the flatterer.

There are two periods in a man's life when he is unable to understand women. One is before marriage and the other after.

About the time the friends of a modest, unassuming girl begins to think she is cut out for an old maid she fools them by getting married.

WIT AND WISDOM.

Man wants but little here below, but wants it on ice at this season.

A man often thinks the fellow who does not agree with him a fool.

Some people take themselves so seriously that it is downright funny.

A man who talks loudly about himself is often like thunder—big noise, no damage.

A sudden shower and a new summer hat is responsible for many a lover's quarrel.

It would be a lovely old world if every one estimated us as we estimate ourselves.

When a man wants to lie at a girl's feet to worship her he should be sure there's no tax on the ground.

Many wives think it a moral duty to subject a husband's self conceit to a continuous ice spray treatment.

A political boom often goes up like a rocket—explodes, there's a little whiff of powder, and really there's no stick to it.

It is a blessing for the happy home that husbands and wives do not always know exactly what each think of the other.

DAILY THOUGHTS.

Monday—Every noble life leaves the fiber of it interwoven forever in the works of the world.

Tuesday—We can only be valued as we make ourselves valuable.

Wednesday—To turn into ridicule what is not ridiculous is, in some sort, to turn good into evil.

Thursday—In character, in manners, in style, in all things, the supreme excellence is simplicity.

Friday—Stretching his hands out to catch the stars, man forgets the flowers at his feet.

Saturday—

Go, wondrous creature! * * *
Instruct the planets in what orb to run,
Correct old Time, and regulate the sun.
Go, teach Eternal Wisdom how to rule—
Then drop into thyself, and be a fool!

Sunday—The despondent mind is ingratitude to heaven.

SUNFLOWER PHILOSOPHY.

Not very long after marriage people begin to look very homesick to be engaged again.

No one takes a man's cussing very seriously. Then why take so seriously a woman's weeping?

It sometimes happens that you want to speak well of a man, and all you can say is that he is "willing."

Usually when the mother goes away on a visit, the daughter has her first experience in cleaning a chicken.

When a young man calls on a girl and stays late that night everbody is not thunder; it is the old man stumbling.—Atchison (Kan.) Globe.

Rose One of the Oldest Flowers.

Rose culture's beginning goes back beyond records. The flower is mentioned in the earliest Coptic manuscripts. India's traditions take the rose to the times of the gods on earth. Egypt had roses, wild and tame, before the Roman occupation made it, in a way, Rome's commercial rose garden, yet, curiously enough, there is no reference to the flower in painting, sculpture or hieroglyphics. Japan in our time, parallels Egypt. Roses flourish there, but do not serve as a motive for artists. There is this further likeness—neither Egypt nor Japan has a rose song or a love song proper.

Monkeys Not Fond of Water.

Monkeys never wash or bathe though they love, as a rule, to go close to the sea. Possibly experience has taught them to be afraid of crocodiles, which are pretty generally distributed on monkey-haunted shores. It is said that a number of Indian soldiers watched a party of Europeans in a boat, who wanted their monkeys and leopards fresh water. Next day the monkeys were seen to come to the riverside and go through the form of washing their hands and faces.

To Keep Needles from Rusting.

To keep needles from rusting use a needle book having leaves of wash leather. Flannel looks very nice, but the sulphur with which it is often prepared causes the needles to rust.

The Departed.

The departed! the departed!
They visit us in dreams,
And they glide about our memories,
Like shadows over streams;
But where the cheerful lights of home
In constant lustre burn,
The departed, the departed,
Can never more return!

The good, the brave, the beautiful,
How dreamless is their sleep,
Where rolls the drum-like music
Of the everlasting deep!
Or where the surging night winds
Tale winter's robes have spread
Above the narrow palaces,
In the cities of the dead!

I look around, and feel the awe
Of one who walks about
Among the wrecks of former days,
In mournful ruin strewn;
I start to hear the stirring sounds
Among the cypress trees,
For the voice of the departed
Is borne upon the breeze.

That solemn voice! It mingles with
Each tree and careless strain;
I sometimes think earth's minstrelsy
Will silence my heart again.
The sighing of summer waves,
The rustling notes of birds,
Can never be so dear to me
As their remembered words.

I sometimes dream their pleasant smiles
Will on me sweetly fall,
That once more I faintly hear
Their voices call;
I think that they are happy,
Since their hopes have ripened so,
But my heart is very doubtful
When I think that they are gone.
