NOTICE TO PUBLIC. The Enterprise Publishing Company is not responsible for any debts contracted by its employees...

A HINT TO THE LADIES.

It will perhaps bring down the wrath of many a fair one to say it, but the ladies are growing painfully careless of the comforts of the opposite sex...

The shocking catastrophe at Port Arthur, Texas, whereby death was dealt out unceremoniously and with out an instant's warning...

The husky little Japs were not content to have us look through our field glasses to hit one point in the east at the time, but are now keeping us busy tracing Kumpachi around Midway...

A book at The Enterprise circulation books would reveal such a healthy condition that many papers in Texas would doubtless exclaim "How is it?"

Just when it appears that the oil supply is going to be entirely inadequate within another six months, new fields blossom out...

Once upon a time Governor Landrum was criticized by a few of the middle-classes of the newspapers. The governor must certainly still be being abused...

Justice Parker's letter of caution about attacks upon Roosevelt's character is taking with almost as much enthusiasm as his historicity has been measured to the convention.

The county judge not only didn't defend himself, but he also defended his fellow officials.

TEXAS NOTES.

A severance was granted in the Burton Stafford case and Pickens will be tried first.

The barn and contents belonging to Mrs. F. Marquet, living near Nechesha, were destroyed by fire Sunday night.

Tom Lee, yeoman, and John Moten, second cook at a hotel in Waco, fought over a trivial matter, the former using a carving knife and the latter a metal bar.

At a meeting of the Houston Labor Council Tuesday night that organization, by almost a unanimous vote, decided to withdraw its support from the striking street railway men.

A letter has been received at San Antonio from T. L. Kleinman, a Preisdio, Tex., merchant, calling for aid for the foodless needy of that town.

The Trinity County Lumber Company has resumed construction work at Grovton and will replace the sawmill lost by fire as speedily as possible.

Nearly twenty men have reported for work on the University of Texas football squad.

The school year is not yet complete, but the two principal contests have been decided upon, namely, the game with the University of Chicago in Chicago on Nov. 5.

The heavy manner in which the reply of Judge Wheat to Candidate Petty was received will probably serve as a rather heavy charge of knock-out drops to the Republicans who hope to cluster enough disappointed log-pullers about them to win some office.

It is now up to the latecomer Port Arthur Herald to again exclaim that Judge Wheat's reply to the unwarranted charges was puny.

Thomas W. Lawson, in the October installment of "Frenzied Finance" in Everybody's Magazine, tells the story: "One episode that occurred about the time that Addicks was trying to get control of the Boston ice companies..."

LOUISIANA NOTES.

The 6 year old son of Tom Jones, a tenant of the Ogden plantation near Jonesville, shot and instantly killed his little sister with a shotgun in the yard.

George Carter, an estimable young son of Hornbeck, while saving logs on the mill farm, was struck by a falling tree and mortally injured.

The Hornbeck Drug Company has been closed yesterday evening under an attachment. The creditors are: Kelvin Ligon and Grocery Company and Seltzer's & Co., both in Shreveport, La.

Miss Louise Colvanch, who came to Abbeville seventy days ago, and has been staying with her sister, Mrs. Louis Vallee, sustained fatal injuries in a runaway accident yesterday.

John Calentine, the negro, arrested in connection with the legal assault on a white man at the residence of President Buchanan, has confessed his guilt.

Charles Allen Boyd, of the 8th precinct, Abbeville, New Orleans, called on the Sheriff of Calcasieu Parish and presented a check for $100.

STARTED SOMETHING

BEAUMONT'S RICE MILLERS DID IT.

GREATER REDUCTION WAS MADE

At Crowley-The Rice Farmers Will Gain by The Transaction-The Signal.

It seems that the Beaumont rice millers men started something when they reduced the milling tolls here.

Thirteen rice mills of Southwest Louisiana have today announced that they have cut the cost of toll milling from forty cents per barrel to thirty cents per barrel, a net reduction of twenty-five per cent.

The mills making this announcement are the following, which market their product through the American Rice Brokers Company, Limited: Star "A," Star "B," Hunter, Crowley, Eagle, American, Union, of Crowley; Midland, of Midland; White Swan, of Morser; Louisiana of Jennings; Roanoke, of Roanoke; Ryan, of Ryan; Iota, of Iota.

The reduction will take effect on the 1907 crop. Two mills of the Jennings Rice Milling company, and of the Gulf Coast Rice Milling Co., have also announced a similar reduction in the cost of toll milling, making a total of sixteen Louisiana mills that have reduced the toll from forty to thirty cents.

The rice mills of Beaumont have announced a cut from forty to thirty-five.

The announcement of the thirteen rice mills marketing their product through the American Rice Brokers Company, Ltd., of a cut in the cost of toll milling probably marks a new era in the history of the rice industry of the Gulf Coast.

Sixteen rice mills of Southwest Louisiana have reduced their charges of toll milling from forty to thirty cents per barrel, a net reduction of twenty-five per cent.

This move will unquestionably meet with the general approval of the rice growers of the Gulf Coast. It has been believed that the charges of forty cents per barrel was excessive, but not until within the past few days the complaint became general, on account of the low price of rice.

The movement seems destined to result eventually in a readjustment of the method of marketing the rice, which will be more generally satisfactory to the farmer.

THE OIL WORLD

Interest in Southeast Texas for the past few days seems to have been concentrated in the vicinity of Sargent.

The bringing in of a boom of well water by the Getty people has shown conclusively that the field is a valuable one even though the oil is not as rich as that of the Gulf.

The accident occurred at about 8 o'clock yesterday morning. The 4000-ton vessel, together with a number of others were at work on a 7,500-barrel steel oil tank belonging to the Texas company, and containing 25,000 barrels of oil.

All of the men with the company's Texas vessel were had come down off the tank for some reason, and while these were being removed, an accident of catastrophic nature occurred.

The back of Robert Cooper was struck by the vessel and William Williams was also struck by a steel member of the vessel. An investigation of the accident is being conducted by the state.

The accident at Port Arthur yesterday morning was a serious one and it is believed that the vessel was not properly secured.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF THE ROCK ISLAND DEAL.

The T. & N. O. Will Become The North Texas Feeder To The Dallas Branch-The Reasons.

The old Rock Island Central story is again becoming a prominent subject for discussion among the railway people.

At a meeting of the Houston Labor Council Tuesday night that organization, by almost a unanimous vote, decided to withdraw its support from the striking street railway men.

A letter has been received at San Antonio from T. L. Kleinman, a Preisdio, Tex., merchant, calling for aid for the foodless needy of that town.

A COMMUNICATION.

I hope that the interview you lately reported with the Hon. Emory J. Smith may be read by our board of aldermen, and that the unsatisfactory condition of the streets which much attracted the gentleman's notice will not go unheeded by our city fathers.

Justice Parker's letter of caution about attacks upon Roosevelt's character is taking with almost as much enthusiasm as his historicity has been measured to the convention.

The county judge not only didn't defend himself, but he also defended his fellow officials.

It was expected that the meeting of the company would have something of a damper upon business generally, but The Enterprise and Beaumont have certainly been remarkable exceptions to the rule.

The big governor is swayed largely in his public utterances by his private gain. He is bright. There is not the slightest doubt about that. He is shrewd enough to feel the ignorant voter in more than one county.

He still has some prestige scattered here and there, and so long as he has that he should be regarded as a rather dangerous man to the public community.

So far as southeast Texas is concerned, the big fellow's administration will long be remembered. The people in Jasper, Newton, Sabine, San Augustine and Shelby counties are forgetful, and will for a long time think of the Kansas City Southern railway having been forced to build down the Louisiana side by reason of the big governor's odious administration.

Texas must invite capital for some time to come—not repeat it. The very name of Hogg would set us back another ten years, for he has already blocked us in the past. The Ennis News gives an inkling of what may be expected when it says:

Politicians in this age are not brought forward by issues. The issues are products of prolonged thinking and consultation. For at least two years there have been politicians in Texas studying diligently for some pretext on which to base an issue.

Chapin, local manager of the Kirby company requesting that he notify the wife of the deceased, Mr. Charles J. McDonald, father and she went to Port Arthur at once.

After the lightning struck the tank, the fire started with startling fury. Two streams were continuously on the flames while other means of stopping the fire were at hand. The wind was in a fortunate direction which prevented further losses.
