A $3000 GERMAN COACH STALLION
Nothing Too Good For Brazos County.

Only the best will suit the horse raisers of this county. Realizing this fact, the Bryan Horse Co., G. D. Tucker, manager, has bought the imported Oldenberg German Coach Stallion, Etto 3381 from J. Crouch and Son, Lafayette, Ind. This stallion is of outstanding merit and was good enough to win first premium in his class at the Fort Worth stock show. Without any doubt Etto is the best German coach Stallion in Texas and Brazos county is to be congratulated in getting a horse of this type and quality located here.

The Eagle hopes to see the day that Bryan will have statewide reputation as a horse market and the people coming from all parts of Texas to buy good horses. The only way to start is to breed to sires of outstanding merit. Raise plenty of feed stuff, rich in porlin such as peanuts and peas. Good stock is the best index to the prosperity of a community and is the beginning of diversification.

RAILWAY CONDUCTORS IN SESSION.

Special to the Eagle.
Boston, Mass., May 11.—Nearly 10,000 delegates and their friends are in Boston for the Thirty-second biennial convention of the Order of Railway Conductors of the United States, Canada and Mexico. Today was devoted chiefly to welcoming the visitors. Tomorrow morning the business sessions will begin, with Grand Chief Conductor A. D. Garretson presiding. The convention will remain in session an entire week, as much business of importance awaits attention. The old proposition of removing the headquarters of the organization from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, has been revived. Indianapolis has put in a strong bid for the headquarters in case it is decided to change.

TEXAS FIREMEN'S CONVENTION.

Special to the Eagle.
Gainesville, Texas, May 12.—Today ushered in one of the biggest conventions and tournaments ever held by the Texas Firemen's association, and if the weather continues good during the remainder of the week there is no doubt but that there will be a record breaking attendance of visitors from all over the state. The city is handsomely decorated for the occasion, and the program of entertainment is one of unusual excellence.

EXCERPTS FROM EXCHANGES.

The man without conviction is the man without influence.—Palestine Herald.

The putty-faced men or women who are always complaining of being overlooked sooner or later fall out of sight entirely.—San Antonio Republic.

Bexar county has not had much trouble over government by injunction, but there is a present menace of government by the governor.—San Antonio Express.

As certain prominent gentlemen seem to view the matter, whether a man hanging around the capital at Austin is a lobbyist or not depends altogether on whether he is "fer or fer-nist" them.—Beville Times.

The "motion as if to draw a weapon" is used as an excuse for killing at too frequent intervals in Texas and the victim is always unarmed.—Galveston Tribune.

If as much corn was shipped out of Navasota as is shipped in each year there would be considerably more cash in circulation and the general farming element would be materially better off.—Navasota Examiner.

The Architect of the Universe seem to have a working plan too big to be sensed by the finite mind. After all the talk about who will be saved, may it not be that only such will survive oblivion as may be useful in promotion of the universal plan I can see how he might need an Edison, a Burbank, Bryan or a Roosevelt, but blessed if I can see what use he could possibly have, here or hereafter, for a bunch, roped at random in the state senate of Texas.—Southwestern Farmer.

It costs the state of Texas $55,000 a year to maintain the State Medical College at Galveston, or about one-half the amount the state spends on the Agricultural and Mechanical College. Half as much to make doctors, of which there is now an oversupply, as is spent to educate farmers and mechanical arts students, of whom there is not a hundredth part enough.—Brownwood Bulletin.

Houston may crow as much as she pleases over the coming of President Taft, but El Paso will have him first. Having partaken of our enchiladas con huevos, our frijoles, our aguacate salad, our chili con carne and sipped a choice brand of tequila, he will turn up his nose at Houston grub and bayou water. Alligator steak and devilled mosquitoes will not be in it.—El Paso Times.

Queen Spuds vs. King Cotton. The potato men are refusing $80.00 per acre for the spring crop of potatoes on land that has seldom brought $5.00 cash rent per annum in cotton, still there is time for a corn crop and still a fall crop of potatoes. King Cotton has certainly taken off his sky piece to Queen Spuds. Live long Queen Spuds.—Wharton Pilot.
