

Blinn Memorial College.

Brenham, Texas, June 25—Since school has closed, College Hill is quite a lonesome place. No more rah rabs and college yells are heard from the jolly Blinn sports.

It is gratifying to note the ambition of the graduates of the class of 1919. Even with a diploma from Blinn, they remain unsatisfied. They realize that to cope successfully with the problems of life, they must needs have a thorough training. That end in view, the majority will continue their studies in some higher institution of learning.

H. R. Schulz of Brenham is temporarily with the First National Bank, holding down the position of S. Norwood, who through bad health, is forced to take a rest. Mr. Schulz received his training in Blinn college, having been with us the past two seasons.

Well, as all of us B. M. C. students will not return for the next session, so let those of us who left school this year without the intention of returning, ever remember the girls and boys of B. M. C., and let those of us who will return, give three cheers for the graduates and ex-students of 1919.

B. M. C. EX-GRADIENT.

Notable Items.

June 25—The crops will soon reach the stand-point, if Mr. Boll Woeril will not come to dwell in this community.

A jolly crowd spent the day at the home of F. J. Huebner Sunday before last.

John Marek is the proud possessor of a new bicycle since the 18th ultimo. Now, watch Johnny sport.

Frank Huebner and wife visited the home of Joe Schreier near Shiner.

H. W. of Green School, was glad to note that your school district is in favor Mr. Ellers, candidate for county school superintendent, because he, too, is our favorite candidate for said office. Eldo of Komensky is another Ellers man. He knows who he's talking about. So let everybody vote for his favorite candidate and we will see after July 23 that Mr. Ellers has received a majority of the votes.

Mr. Gloor and wife attended the Moulton Agricultural Fair on June 23.

Well, as I am tired and lazy, will ring off for today. T. B.

Witting Letter.

June 23—Crops still look fine, so far. The corn crop will be very short this year on account of the drought.

A good shower fell here, Monday evening, which was much appreciated by the farmers.

On Sunday evening a jolly crowd assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Korjok. Delicious refreshments were served and heartily enjoyed by those present.

Miss Sophia Amaker visited friends around here last Sunday. She has left for Kereville to attend the normal and will visit relatives at San Antonio.

Did you exhibit something at the Moulton fair?

Will make this the end and write more next time. NEW BROOKMAN.

Dryer Valley Notes.

June 26—It is still very dry. Corn is suffering for rain, grass is all burnt up, and stock water is getting scarce. A good rain would be appreciated by one and all.

Eva and Ida Turk visited Mary Dreyer this week and took an automobile ride, which was enjoyed very much.

Grace Turk is visiting Edna Dreyer today.

There was a dance at the home of Anton Schlab last night.

Well, Tuesday is the day for the barbecue at Dryer. Hope the day will be nice and cool, so we all can have a good time. They have been making big preparations for it, as they expect a large crowd. Mr. Bagby of Halletteville will deliver an address. He is a fine orator.

B. C. Neightors was in our midst last Thursday on business.

Kurt Franke of Runge is visiting at the home of John Hillens this week.

Herman Dreyer and family leave in a few days for Floresville to visit Mrs. Dreyer's mother, Mrs. Meyer. We wish them a pleasant trip and a safe return.

Mrs. Louis Turk was visiting at John Hillens' last Sunday.

Health in our community is good at present. A FRIEND.

Lone Tree Cullings.

June 26.—News is scarce in this section at present, but will write anyhow and tell you all about mine and my sister Hellen's trip to Westhoff last Monday. We left home at 7 o'clock a. m. and arrived at Westhoff at 2 p. m., where our sister, Mrs. Jim Juraob, was waiting for us with a nice lunch. The next morning we all left home and went to a barbecue about a quarter of a mile northwest from Westhoff. After a good dinner Hon. W. T. Bagby spoke in the interest of O. B. Colquitt. At night a large platform was overcrowded with the jolly dancers. Music was furnished by the Vlastenee band of this place. On Thursday we had to depart for our old home again.

The commission in the Poth Catholic church this evening was attended by a large crowd.

Born to W. Meinke Jr. a baby girl June 21.

Julius Horky and wife went to Wied last Saturday, returning home today. John Hrehok and daughter, Rosa, were visiting the home of John Krum at Hochheim today.

Red Wing, how was everything at Vlastenee hall last night? Fine I suppose.

Say, H. W., rather W. H. of Green school, I know why you didn't get to go to the dance at Taener hall. Pretty bad, wasn't it?

Why, dear friend of Dryer, you know I have not quit writing to the Gazette, as perhaps you know that I am a great lover of writing to some one, especially to our old editor.

K. A. of Dryer, who are you? Making lax is the order of the day now, and what will be next, cutting fudder I guess.

R. E. Sarehot of near Yonkum was here today on some business.

Those that attended the parading of the Bohemian theater were: Misses MoUe Kumetka, Fannie Hrehok, Louisa and Jennie Marek, Messrs. Louis Kunetka, Ed Marek, Louis, Joe and Victor Sarehot at the National hall this evening.

There will be a dance at the National hall June 29 and a picnic July 5.

As it is getting late I will close for this time. Good night to all. I am as ever, GIRLIN.

BRING YOUR BILL TO US.

But hold on! We don't care anything about your Bill Goat. What we are trying to snare are your house, barn, granary, corn crib, hen house, pig pen, roofing, and all such bills. As Mrs. Partington says, "Them's what we want."

And just to show you that we're willing to "tote" fair in the matter, we'll split our profits with you—provided you get a merry hustle on yourself and do business within the next week or so.

We've got as slick a stock of nice dry lumber and all kinds of building material here as you ever clapped eyes on, which we want to swap for coin of the realm. And we want the coin just bad enough right now to make it interesting for you.
