The quarrel among the democrats should cease. "Let us have peace."

The United States have again captured Cuba and this time for good.

If Mr. Crane entered into the joint debate with Senator Bailey to gratify his personal ambition, he has no doubt been fully gratified.

How would you liked to have been a member of the Harris county good government club and been present at the Bailey-Crane debate when Bailey had the floor.

All friends of education will be pained to learn of the sudden death of Prof. J. S. Kendall, superintendent of the North Texas State Normal at Denton, which occurred Oct. 1. He was one of the finest educators in Texas and we could ill afford to lose him.

The friends of both Bailey and Crane seem to be satisfied with the result of the joint debate. Neither side seemed to have much the advantage of the other. The principal sufferers seems to be the Harris County Good Government Club. Mr. Bailey roasted them to a finish.

The city of Pensacola, Fla., is almost destroyed by the hurricane from the gulf. Big iron ships were forced high up in the city by wind and wave.

Exchange Gossip.

J. W. Bailey in his speech at Houston last Saturday night in the debate with M. M. Crane said: "I believe—and I believe it as firmly as my Christian wife believes in her religion—that the two great dangers threatening this republic today are the monopolies on this hand and socialism on that. Between these two monstrous and warring forces I have stood as the great democratic party has stood resisting both with equal courage and equal resolution."

Congressman George Burgess says a republican looks better to him than a socialist. How does State ownership of railroads as a simon-pure article of democratic faith strike the gentleman?—Dallas Times Herald.

The issue died a bornin' before it got to Congressman Burgess' district.—Houston Post.

Mr. Burgess' head is level on this question as it is on most others.

Let us keep cool and let us be fair. There is no need to charge Senator Bailey with dishonesty and no reason why his friends should call his opponents liars and villains. The main question at issue is whether a United States senator shall accept employment from corporations?—Galveston Tribune.
In the humble opinion of the editor of this paper he should not.

General M. M. Crane who has been honored by the democracy of Texas on many occasions has placed himself in the attitude of fighting a nominee of the democratic party. This comes in bad taste from a man who got his start at the hands of the democracy.—Sbertman Register.
Certain things which are transpiring now will not soon be forgotten and will return to plague certain people.—Houston Post.
The same may be said of certain democrats who are now fighting the democratic party in Lavaca county.
