

UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME.

Notre Dame, Indiana.
We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Notre Dame University, one of the great educational institutions of the West, which appears in another column of this paper. Those of our readers who may have occasion to look up a college for their sons during the coming year would do well to correspond with the president, who will send them a catalogue free of charge, as well as all particulars regarding terms, courses of studies, etc.

There is a thorough preparatory school in connection with the university, in which students of all grades will have every opportunity of preparing themselves for higher studies. The Commercial Course, intended for young men preparing for business, may be finished in one or two years according to the ability of the student. St. Edward's Hall, for boys under thirteen, is an unique department of the institution. The higher courses are thorough in every respect, and students will find every opportunity of perfecting themselves in any line of work they may choose to select. Thoroughness in class work, exactness in the care of students, and devotion to the best interests of all, are the distinguishing characteristics of Notre Dame University.

Fifty-seven years of active work in the cause of education have made this institution famous all over the country.

One million and a half men work in the coal mines of the world. Of these Great Britain has 535,000; United States, 300,000; Germany, 285,000; Belgium, 199,000; Russia, 44,000. The world's miners of metal number 4,000,000.

MEXICAN BEEF KING

Owens Vast Lands and is Worth $100,000,000.

Millionaires are not exploited as much in Mexico as they are in the United States. Here when a man reaches the $50,000,000 mark the people regard him in the light of a semi-public character, whose doings and sayings and habits are eagerly discussed. He is known from Maine to California.

In Mexico many millionaires are not known outside the states in which they reside, and yet some of them, if they lived here, would be daily discussed in the papers. One of these little-known Mexican millionaires is Don Luis Terrazas of Chihuahua, formerly governor of that state. He owns 28,000,000 acres of land, 18,000,000 acres of which are in one ranch. On these lands he generally maintains 700,000 head of cattle, 200,000 sheep and 100,000 horses. Over 1,000,000 acres are in a good state of cultivation. The estate is valued at $100,000,000. And yet Don Luis is little known outside of Chihuahua. He lives modestly, and although he is 70 years old he still personally superintends the conduct of his vast business. He is very charitable, and every year he gives away thousands of dollars. He supports several churches and schools and is an earnest advocate of education. Democratic in his tastes, he receives the humblest beggar with the same courtesy that he bestows upon the millionaire promoter. He is a strong friend of the United States and his five children have been educated in American schools.

A LION ROUND-UP.
Grand Hunt of the Mammoth Cats in the Arizona Mountains.

A big round-up of lions is now taking place in the San Francisco mountains, about 150 miles north of Flagstaff. In that country the big cats are to be found in larger numbers than in any other locality in Arizona, and the party expects to bag several hundred of them. At one time the California lion was to be found in all parts of Arizona, but large territorial and county bounties have caused his extermination in many places. Many thousand dollars have been paid by each county for lion scalps, and at $20 per head hunters have found it profitable business, some of them, in times past, killing a score of lions in a week's time, and a total of over $10,000 has been paid in Arizona for scalps in the past ten years. Hundreds of lions though have been shot by many who have not claimed the bounties, taking as their rewards the fact that they have disposed of the cause of the slaughter of the calves, colts, and lambs.

While the lions have grown less common in the southern part of the territory, there has been no perceptible decrease in their numbers in the wilder northern regions. Sheepmen in the San Francisco mountains have complained of late that the lions are killing off all their lambs in such numbers that their raids are proving ruinous to the sheep industry. John McCarthy, territorial game warden, has organized the hunting party and the district where the lions abound will be thoroughly gone over. The animals will be driven into the center of a circle where they can easily be killed.

The California lion is a small species of the panther family. He is about the size of a Canadian lynx and possessed of a similar nature. He is cowardly and has never been known to attack a man unless cornered, but is capable of a fierce fight when driven to bay.

Mark Hanna's War Record.
The fact that Mark Hanna has become a member of a G. A. R. post in Cleveland will be news to many, for hitherto few people were aware that the maker of presidents had a war record. Hanna enlisted in the One Hundred and Fiftieth Ohio Volunteer Infantry, which was mustered in for 100 days in 1864 to guard Washington. The official record of the regiment states: "After the regiment was sworn into service, May 5, 1864, it was immediately placed on cars for Washington. On its arrival the regiment was ordered to garrison Forts Lincoln, Saratoga, Thayer, Bunker Hill, Slocum, Totten and Stevens, forming part of the chain of fortifications surrounding the national capital. The regiment remained in these forts during the whole term of service and participated in the fight before Washington, with a part of Early's rebel corps, July 10 and 11, 1864. Companies G and K were engaged, but being behind breastworks did not suffer much. One man was killed and three or four wounded. The regiment was sent home and mustered out at Cleveland on the 23 of August, 1864, having served 111 days."

The Prickly Pear in Australia.
One of the most serious difficulties in the way of land settlements in some parts of Australia is said to be an obnoxious plant called the prickly pear. As a pest to the farmers it may be fairly classed with the rabbits. It has taken possession of whole tracts of country and the settler has to fight a pitched battle for every acre he calls his own. All herbage may droop, die and disappear in the oven of an Australian drought, but the pear survives, flourishes and carries on its processes of expansion and reproduction with unconcern. In the fierce "struggle for life" when a drought is devastating the land this pest is a living example of the survival of the "fittest." It was brought to Australia, like the rabbit, either for use or ornament, and it has become a plague and a pestilence. Its extermination in the colony of Queensland, at least, is a question of national importance.

All the Country A-Golfing.
Golf promises to hold its sway. A game that is centuries old—the ancient national game of Scotland, but now played in every quarter of the globe—it first attracted wide attention in the United States some four years ago, but now the golf ball is driven over links in every state of the Union. Golfers estimate that some half-million Americans will play golf this year, for there are hundreds of clubs, of large membership, connected with the United States Golf association, besides other clubs innumerable.

A Cup of Good Coffee

Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee

To get a really good cup of coffee you'll have to start back of the actual making; you'll have to look to the roasting and the grinding. In ARBUCKLES' you have a coffee that's scientifically roasted, and delivered to you with all the pores of the berry hermetically sealed. You're sure of a good cup of coffee because all the coffee flavor and aroma are kept intact until you want it. The fame of ARBUCKLES' induced other coffee packers to put out imitations of it. These imitations cost the grocer (and you) a cent a pound less than ARBUCKLES'. But don't be tempted to buy a package of some other coffee when you can get for it is actually less expensive than the cheap kind; goes further—besides being better flavored, more satisfying.

You will find a list of useful articles in each package of Arbuckles' Coffee. A definite part of one of these articles becomes yours when you buy the coffee. The one you select from the list will be sent you on condition that you send to our Notion Department a certain number of signatures cut from the wrappers.
