The country's mood is sobering up, and it is high time it got over its jags and took stock of itself.

The sobering up is being done in a quiet and unobtrusive way, and it is gratifying to see the country taking such a sensible course.

It has been something of a champagne jag without the wine, and the sobering up is a necessary and healthy process.

The Economical Food

New South Syrup is economical because it costs about one-third as much as butter, about one-half as much as beef. New South Syrup is just pure sugar cane juice boiled to the right syrup consistency—nothing added, nothing taken away.
